Report Rates Nebraska Among "Worst States" for Reproductive Freedom

Lincoln, NE – Reproductive health-care access in Nebraska is severely restricted, according to a new report from NARAL Pro-Choice America. It also outlines an uncertain future for reproductive freedom under the Trump presidency and a Republican-controlled Congress. Comments from Joel Foster, national political director, NARAL Pro-Choice America; and Julie Schmit-Albin, executive director, Nebraska Right to Life.

Intro: The Cornhusker State may be in line with many others on reproductive rights, but new research suggests it is out of step with the views of women. The 50-state report released Tuesday by NARAL Pro-Choice America rates Nebraska among the 26 states where access to reproductive health care is "severely restricted." But the group's National Political Director Joel Foster says Nebraska's anti-choice governor and Legislature do not reflect the overall views of the public.

Cut 52161 :08 "Based on the extensive research that we've done, seven in ten Americans support keeping abortion legal. That's not just a majority – that's a consensus."

Julie Schmit-Albin with Nebraska Right to Life disagrees. She counters that Nebraska has always been anti-abortion, which is reflected in its laws. It was the first state to ban abortions after 20 weeks of pregnancy.

Cut 53161 :14 "If NARAL wants to continue to give us the rating of being a 'very restrictive' state, we're happy to claim that. Because it only means that more unborn babies' lives will be saved, and perhaps mothers will be spared the hurt and pain of abortion."

Tag: The report found Nebraska is among states that subjects abortion providers to restrictions not imposed on other medical professionals, and makes women who seek abortions receive biased counseling. It also found there is no facility that performs abortions in 97 percent of Nebraska counties.

Third Cut: Foster contends the findings highlight the uncertain future for reproductive health care in the U-S, with President-elect Donald Trump's power to appoint Supreme Court justices who overturn "Roe v. Wade."

Cut 54161 :16 "This is really a very pivotal time in the fight for reproductive freedom in this country. We have elected an anti-choice president, anti-choice House and Senate, and we're seeing unprecedented headwinds in the states when it comes to restrictions for reproductive freedom."

Tag: A report also released Tuesday from the Guttmacher Institute found that in 2014, the U-S abortion rate dropped to its lowest level since the 1970s, with Nebraska's rate lower than the national average. Some credit improved access to contraception, while others argue the decrease indicates that some women who want abortions can't get access.

OPTIONAL REPORTER WRAP: uses first soundbite(s)

LEAD: The Cornhusker State may be in line with many others on reproductive rights, but new research suggests it is out of step with the views of women. Mary Schuermann reports.

Cut 55161 1:07 Outcue...Schuermann reporting.

1-2-17

Abolish the Electoral College. Disband the Senate. Let the Supreme Court modify the Constitution. These are the radical suggestions put forth in a global elitist's new book advocating that U.S. democracy give way to technocracy. We'll find out why Americans must start getting alarmed and fight back as I discuss it with Patrick Wood, editor in chief of Technocracy News and Trends. That and more on Monday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

1-3-17

The Islamic State has wreaked havoc on the Middle East, as media report the demise of Christianity in its most ancient lands. But is God actually sending revival? Charles Morris, president of Haven Ministries, joins Janet to share amazing stories of how the Lord is working in the lives of those most affected by terror. His book is called, "Fleeing ISIS, Finding Jesus." That's on Tuesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

1-4-17

Today's skeptics have no problem casting aspersions on the divine origins, inspiration or inerrancy of the Word of God. What can we say in response? Apologist and author Dr. Alex McFarland, Director of the Center for Apologetics and Christian Worldview at North Greenville University, joins me to discuss how to answer the five biggest questions about the Bible that every skeptic asks. That's on Wednesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

A federal judge has ruled in favor of Muslims who want to build a mosque in an unincorporated part of New Jersey -- a suit openly supported by the Southern Baptist Convention's Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission. But what's the real story behind the promotion of this mosque, and what are the dangers of falling into the trap of the religious liberty argument? We'll break it down on Thursday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

1-6-17

Documentary filmmaker Ken Burns - some say more Americans get their history from the PBS darling than from anywhere else. But what's the truth about Burns' inaccuracies and left-wing propaganda? Arne Steinberg from Accuracy in Media's Center for Investigative Journalism joins me to talk about it. Plus: Will the left derail Sen. Jeff Sessions from becoming U.S. Attorney General? Penny Nance from Concerned Women for America will weigh in -- next time on the Friday edition of JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

The Obama Administration has famously downplayed the role of Islam in terrorist activity. But who are some of the useful infidels in popular culture who help perpetuate the myth that terrorism has nothing to do with Islam? We'll talk about it with Gregg Roman, director of Middle East Forum. Plus: Why was a pro-lifer arrested and charged with domestic terrorism in St. Louis? Cheryl Sullenger from Operation Rescue explains. That's next time on Monday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

1-10-17

Amid all the talk of racism today is a rarely discussed fact of history: the fact that widely accepted Darwinian evolution rests on a racist premise. What does the Bible have to say about human beings created in His image? I'll talk it over with Dr. Charles Ware, president of Crossroads Bible College and author of "One Race One Blood." Plus: More on the Fort Lauderdale jihad. That's all next time on Tuesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

1-11-17

Confirmation hearings have begun for Sen. Jeff Sessions amid Leftist protests and ridiculous charges of racism. Penny Nance, CEO of Concerned Women for America, offers her thoughts on the controversy and why Sen. Sessions' confirmation is so important. Plus: Janet Boynes shares her testimony on how the Lord rescued her from the lesbian lifestyle. Her book is "God & Sexuality." That and more on Wednesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

What do you do when trouble in the world or all around you leaves you fearful? Jeanne Nigro joins me to show how the Lord can be our foundation when life gets tough. Her book is called, "Unshaken." Plus: President Obama's farewell speech revealed a lot. We'll talk about that on Thursday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

1-13-17

Many think Christianity is just one among many religions in the world. But aside from Christianity being true, it is also a picture of reality that explains why the world is the way it is. Apologist Greg Koukl, founder of Stand to Reason, will join me to explain why. His book is called, "The Story of Reality: How the World Began, How It Ends, and Everything Important that Happens in Between." That's on Friday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

For the first time, the United States has made the list of countries regressing in religious freedom. Jeff King, president of International Christian Concern, joins me to talk about that group's 2016 Hall of Shame Report. Plus: The latest on the Obamacare unraveling with Dr. Merrill Matthews, resident scholar with the Institute for Policy Innovation. That and more on Monday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

1-17-17

Sen. Ted Cruz reintroduces a bill to get the Muslim Brotherhood declared a foreign terrorist organization. Why is it necessary, especially in light of the group's connections to mosque building in America? Robert Spencer, director of Jihad Watch, will join me to talk about it. Plus: What's ahead for religious freedom under a President Trump? Peter LaBarbera from LifeSiteNews.com joins me to talk about it. That and more on Tuesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

How much waste and fraud are taxpayers funding at Planned Parenthood and its affiliates? Catherine Glenn Foster from the Charlotte Lozier Institute will share the details from her new report, "Profit: No Matter What." Plus: What can evangelicals expect under President Trump? Sam Rohrer from the American Pastors Network stops by to talk about it. That and more on Wednesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

1-19-17

Religious freedom has taken a beating under President Obama. What are the most important steps President Trump should take to preserve and protect it? Travis Weber from the Family Research Council stops by to talk about it. Plus: What are the Christian roots of the great freedoms that we enjoy as Americans? John Bona joins me to talk about "The Liberty Book." That's next time on Thursday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

1-20-17

America inaugurates a new president on Friday, but this weekend also marks the 44th anniversary of the legalization of abortion on demand. Joe Scheidler, the father of pro-life activism and founder of the Pro-Life Action League, will join me to reflect on his more than four decades fighting for the sanctity of human life. His book is called, "Racketeer for Life: Fighting the Culture of Death from the Sidewalk to the Supreme Court." That and more on Friday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

1-23-17

Donald J. Trump has been sworn in as the 45th president of the United States. We'll break down the inauguration details and talk about what's ahead for America. Plus: As we pass the anniversary of Roe v. Wade, Melissa Ohden joins me to tell her incredible story about discovering that she survived a saline abortion. We'll discuss her amazing life story from her book, "You Carried Me." That and more on Monday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

1-24-17

This Friday, pro-lifers by the thousands will march on Washington to help save unborn babies. Jeanne Mancini, national director of the March for Life, stops by to tell us why pro-lifers march. Plus: Why are so many well-intentioned women falling for bad theology and are often left to fend for themselves in women's ministries? Aimee Byrd joins me to talk about it and her book, "No Little Women: Equipping All Women in the Household of God." That's next time on Tuesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

1-25-17

Christians are to be salt and light, but how much mixing with the world are we really called to do? Dr. William Edgar joins me to talk about it and his book, "Created and Creating: A Biblical Theology of Culture." Plus: As lawmakers in North Carolina reconvene this week, what's next for the Bathroom Bill? The Rev. Mark Creech, executive director of the Christian Action League of North Carolina, joins me to weigh in. That's next time on Wednesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

How can church history help encourage us in our faith? Pastor Earl Blackburn joins Janet to talk about his book, "50 World Changing Events in Christian History." Plus: Emilio Ramos, founder of RedGraceMedia, stops by to explain why Christianity will always be "Unpopular," the name of his new film about the gospel. That's next time on Thursday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

As President Trump looks to defund the United Nations, should the U.S. remain in the organization at all? Alabama Congressman Mike Rogers has reintroduced a bill to get us out called the American Sovereignty Restoration Act of 2017. Will it pass? We'll get some thoughts on it all from Tom DeWeese, president of the American Policy Center. That and more on Friday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

1-30-17

We hear a lot of myths about America's presidents. History professor Dr. Larry Schweikart will join me to offer the straight scoop on the executive branch as we discuss his book, "The Politically Incorrect Guide to the Presidents, Part I." Plus: Is there really an epidemic of sexual assaults on college campuses, as the Left claims? Dr. K.C. Johnson stops by to discuss his book, "The Campus Rape Frenzy." That and more on Monday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

1-31-17

Is God a delusion? Why is there evil? The answers to these questions reveal everything we need to know about our worldview. But what are the biblical answers to these and other important questions? The Rev. Melvin Tinker will join me to discuss them and his book, "Touchy Topics." That and more on Tuesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.
