ISSUES AND ANSWERS (October - December 2023)

Air date: October 1, 2023

Guest: Greg Salisbury – Vice President of Electric Distribution

Michiganders have not been immune to severe weather changes happening around the globe. Ice storms, 60+ mph winds and multiple late summer tornadoes are part of a broader trend challenging energy grids nationwide. The last four-year period in Michigan has seen wind-speed averages twice as high as any similar period in the last 20 years.

Consumers Energy's Reliability Roadmap is a blueprint to strengthen Michigan's electric grid that includes the new long-term goals:

- No customer will be without power for more than 24 hours.
- No outage will affect more than 100,000 customers.

The Reliability Roadmap includes a variety of steps to achieve these goals, including:

- Tree Trimming: Significantly increasing and staying at the cycle time needed to keep our lines clear of interference from trees, which is the most effective way to prevent and shorten power outages and improve system reliability.
- Infrastructure upgrades: Expanding and accelerating replacement or rebuild of poles, expand undergrounding power lines where it makes sense, and organize circuits more efficiently.
- Grid modernization: Enhancing the ability for smart meters, sensors and automation devices to work together to help monitor, isolate and automatically respond to interruptions more effectively.
- Equity and environmental justice: Sustaining our commitment that all communities will experience the benefits of the Reliability Roadmap and can participate in the clean energy transformation.

Guest: Craig Goslin, President and Managing Partner of The Saginaw Spirit

We interviewed Craig in regard to the upcoming Canadian hockey League Memorial Cup 2024. This tournament will bring between $20 and $25 million into the coffers of Mid-Michigan business owners. As the city of Saginaw gets ready for the Canadian Hockey League Memorial Cup next year, the Dow Event Center is making preparations of its own.

Construction on the center and the arena is already underway in a $9.3 million dollar renovation project. Upgrades include a new ceiling inside the arena, upgraded and additional suites, locker rooms, bathrooms, the addition of elevators, new lighting, new corner ice scoreboards and an LED ribbon wrapped around the upper level of the arena.

Saginaw Spirit President and Managing Partner Craig Goslin says one of the new features is a 24 foot by 10 foot curved LED display in the welcome atrium.

Guest: Tina Swanton – CEO of the Saginaw Community Food Club & Kitchen

A new and different grocery store is coming to Saginaw in 2024, thanks to the hard work and support of local organizations and people passionate about reducing hunger, improving food access, and improving health outcomes in Saginaw.

According to newly appointed CEO Tina Swanton, the Saginaw Community Food Club & Kitchen is a nonprofit, membership based, grocery store that will be constructed in 2024 at 1910 Fordney Street. Saginaw City Council approved the lease for the land last night. The site, formerly occupied by Big Brothers, Big Sisters, is located along a major STARS bus route to and from several of Saginaw's east and west-side neighborhoods without full-service grocery stores.

Under Swanton's leadership, the Food Club has already raised $4 million of the $5 million start-up funds it needs, including grants from the United State Department of Agriculture, ARPA funds from both the City of Saginaw and Saginaw County, as well as donations from several local organizations and foundations. Fundraising for the final $1 million continues, with groundbreaking scheduled for spring 2024.

The Food Club will feel and act like a grocery store but with an innovative approach to pricing, Swanton explains. Members will shop with points – fruits and veggies listed as the fewest points, while snacks and processed foods higher points. Monthly memberships will range from $12-$16 using a sliding scale based on household income and size and points assigned based on number in the household.

The Food Club is modeled after a statewide network of food clubs, including locations in Grand Rapids, Ludington, and Holland, which have successfully helped members achieve healthier eating, consistent meals, and household stability

Guest: Jeff Larsen, Chief Growth and Development Officer, Great Lakes Bay Health Centers

Great Lakes Bay Health Centers is a Federally Qualified Health Center, and receives about 15 percent of its funding from a federal grant. This grant allows the organization to care for the 25 percent of its patients who are uninsured. Our 33 centers and sites serve residents in a 16-county region and beyond.

GLBHC is a 501C3 non-profit S corporation run by a patient majority board of directors, not a government agency. Funding for patient services primarily comes from reimbursement from insurance companies, mostly Medicaid. State and local grants, along with donations, allow the organization to provide special services that aren't reimbursed, such as transportation. We are very thankful for all community support and partnerships!

Guests: Mid-Michigan Children's Museum's Ann Doyle President/CEO
And Emily Schmidt Special Events Coordinator

As a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, MMCM's mission is to provide a hands-on, "Play and Learn" environment that engages and motivates children to use their curiosity and creativity to learn about the wonders of our world. They opened our doors to the public in June 2008. Their bright, friendly building was planned, designed and built just for kids! With over 16,000 square feet of gallery space, each gallery has been developed around school curriculum with input from children's museum specialists, educators and kids. From wet water exploration to fast-paced automotive adventures, they are excited for children birth to 10 years old and their caregivers to explore our hands-on museum.
