3. Local Community Interest	Outdoor Idaho “Land of the Lost River Range” They are Idaho’s tallest mountains, but many would be hard pressed to find them on a map. Geologists call it Basin and Range. We’ll meet some of the hardy individuals who work and play among these 12,000 foot peaks. This is a part of the state that in many ways still resembles the Old West. Outdoor Idaho “Idaho’s 12ers” Some seek thrills, some seek records, some push themselves to the edge of physical and mental endurance. But for most Idaho climbers, simply standing on the top of Idaho’s tallest mountains is reward enough. Outdoor Idaho explores “Idaho’s 12ers” and the Idahoans who cherish them, from close up and from afar. Outdoor Idaho “State of Change” It seems like only yesterday Idaho was the forgotten state, the one routinely confused with Iowa. But no longer. The changes in Idaho have been astounding, affecting just about everything, from cities and towns to public lands and wildlife. We examine some of those changes – as well as some reasons for optimism – in the nation’s 43rd state, a State of Change. Outdoor Idaho “Idaho Geology, A Convergence of Wonders” The Gem State’s story is written in stone, which reveals the forces that produced a landscape that unites, divides and binds together Idahoans. Geologists Bill Bonnicksen and Marty Godchaux lead a tour through the complexities of the topic. Outdoor enthusiasts play amid unique formations – they ski on sand dunes, kayak through canyons, raft over waterfalls, climb rocky outcroppings, and dive into fossil water. The special includes videos of geologic events and examples gathered over decades. Outdoor Idaho “Into the Pioneers” The Pioneer Mountains, between Sun Valley and Craters of the Moon, are Idaho’s second highest mountain range. It’s not official wilderness, but it’s still wild, with a rich history and a diverse landscape that inspires. Outdoor Idaho “The Foothills” The backdrop for Idaho’s Statehouse and the city of Boise is also the instant getaway for people in the Treasure Valley with more than 10,000 acres set aside through a voter-approved levy and more than 135 miles of trails. Runners, walkers, mountain bikers, wildflower hunters, wildlife watchers and more make year-round use of the foothills.	4/3/2022 7 p.m. 1 hour 4/7/2022 8 p.m. 1 hour 4/17/2022 7 p.m. 1 hour 4/21/2022 8 p.m. 1 hour 5/1/2022 7 p.m. 1 hour 5/8/2022 7 p.m. 30 minutes

	Outdoor Idaho “Health of Our Lakes”  From the air, northern Idaho’s lakes appear as magnificent pools of blue, shimmering water. But if you look at a microscopic level, you’ll find signs that Idaho’s lakes, like waterways around the world, are in trouble. A microscopic organism threatens the water quality of these lakes putting the recreation economy of the entire region at risk. The Outdoor Idaho team follows scientists and lake managers as they investigate the increasing levels of cyanobacteria or blue-green algae in Idaho’s northern lakes. Outdoor Idaho “Helping Henry’s”  For more than 100 years, trophy trout have lured anglers to the world-famous Henry’s Fork of the Snake River. But you don’t have to be a fly fisher to appreciate eastern Idaho’s famous watershed. “Helping Henry’s” takes viewers through the seasons, wading into coveted trout waters, sledding over fresh powder, and meeting the many people helping Henry’s provide a future for farming and fishing. Outdoor Idaho “The Outfitters”  Idaho’s outfitting industry has always attracted colorful characters: the ones completely at home leading a pack string down a mountain trail or piloting a raft through one of the state’s many Class IV rapids. This is an industry with a major impact on Idaho’s economy, its image, and its outdoor resources. “The Outfitters” profiles some of these men and women tasked with connecting us to the natural world; and in the process we discover why Idaho is a national leader in the licensing and regulating of this important industry. Outdoor Idaho “Idaho Water Handbook”  Outdoor Idaho goes to where the water is – streams, rivers, reservoirs, aquifers – with scientists, farmers, conservationists, and water officials to learn more about the uses and limits of the state’s water as well as the laws and plans that determine its allocation. Outdoor Idaho “Urban Wildlife”  As Idaho’s population continues to grow, so too do the number of human-animal encounters, from deer in suburbs and geese taking over our parks, to mountain lions hiding under decks, and moose on the loose. With the help of video contributions from across the state, Outdoor Idaho explores the relationship between humans and wildlife and the space in which these two worlds collide.	5/12/2022  8 p.m.  30 minutes 5/22/2022  7 p.m.  30 minutes 5/29/2022  7 p.m.  30 minutes 6/2/2022  8 p.m.  30 minutes 6/9/2022  8 p.m.  1 hour

	Outdoor Idaho “Wildflowers” Wildflowers capture the hearts of those willing to look down and around. Outdoor Idaho is entering the world of wildflowers to tell the stories of the colorful flora that dot our state. We’ll be looking at wildflowers through the eyes of botanists, photographers, herbalists, farmers and hobbyists. We’ll delve into the science, the beauty, the ecosystem, the history and the culture of wildflowers. Outdoor Idaho “Trailblazers” Long gone are the days of the CCC, the army of laborers the government paid to build trails, parks and recreation areas that we still use today. Now people who value natural resources are filling the gap by maintaining trails for free. Outdoor Idaho “Bear Lake, Caribbean of the Rockies” Known as the Caribbean of the Rockies, Bear Lake draws visitors who camp, fish, and feast on its famous raspberries. This program examines the challenges faced by those who manage it for recreation, irrigation, and generating electrical power.	6/16/2022 8 p.m. 30 minutes 6/23/2022 8 p.m. 1 hour 6/30/2022 8 p.m. 30 minutes
4. History	Harbor From the Holocaust In a Holocaust story of hope, 20,000 Jews find refuge in Shanghai during World War II. The film explores the relationship of the refugees and their host city, and the survivors who carried on the traditions that would have been consigned to oblivion. Idaho Experience “When Apollo Came to Idaho” Some of America’s best-known astronauts visited Idaho in 1969 to train for their moon missions at Craters of the Moon National Monument. Now, the varied and hostile landscape is being used to prepare scientists and astronauts for future missions to Mars. Idaho Experience “The Conquest of the Snake” For generations, people living on Idaho’s Snake River Plain had learned to live and cope with the dry and hostile environment. But in the late 19th century, a group of pioneers began to dream of a green land full of farms and fields. “The Conquest of the Snake” reveals the story of how people in south central Idaho labored together to build towns, plow land, and create an irrigation system that would transform the desert and attract thousands of new settlers.	4/12/2022 8 p.m. 1 hour 5/5/2022 8:30 p.m. 30 minutes 5/12/2022 8:30 p.m. 30 minutes

	Idaho Experience “Albion Normal: A Teachers College” When Idaho first became a state in 1890, state leaders recognized the immense need for teachers. But it wasn’t easy to convince qualified teachers to move to early Idaho’s small, isolated pioneer communities. So lawmakers opened Albion Normal School, a teachers college. Idaho Experience looks at the role Albion Normal School had on the state and how training teachers has evolved over the years.	5/19/2022 8:30 p.m. 30 minutes
	Idaho Experience “Idaho’s Constitution Revealed” After 130 years, the Idaho Constitution is showing its age. Idaho Experience examines the document in its time and ours - and how the Idaho State Historical Society is preserving it for future generations.	5/26/2022 8:30 p.m. 30 minutes
	Idaho Experience “Remembering Bear River” Archaeological work at the site where 350 Shoshone people were killed in 1863 aims to enrich the understanding of the Bear River Massacre in southeast Idaho. Independent filmmaker Phillip Schoen explores the massacre and its aftermath.	6/2/2022 8:30 p.m. 30 minutes
	Idaho Experience “Through Youthful Eyes” To commemorate the 75th anniversary of the end of World War II, Idaho State University students authored a book. Take a fresh look at the war through the eyes of four millennials and the professor who guided them through the process.	6/9/2022 8:30 p.m. 30 minutes
	Idaho Experience “Ahead of Her Time: Women’s Suffrage in Idaho” In August 2021, America celebrated the 101st anniversary of the ratification of the 19th Amendment, granting women the right to vote. In 1920, women in Idaho had already been voting in and winning elections for 24 years. We explore how Idaho became the fourth state to grant women voting rights.	6/16/2022 8:30 p.m. 30 minutes
	Idaho Experience “The Last Log Drive” In early-1900s Idaho, timber was king. North Idaho’s Clearwater River served as a channel to transport the valuable timber in an annual, hundred-mile-long log drive that would last a half a century.	6/26/2022 7:30 p.m. 30 minutes
	Idaho Experience “Idaho’s Hemingway” Ernest Hemingway’s time in Idaho influenced his life, loves, and literary output. We explore what his life on the Big Wood River tells us about our state’s cultural landscape.	6/30/2022 8:30 p.m. 30 minutes

5. Health	Second Opinion with Joan Lunden “Brain Health” The number of Americans living with Alzheimer’s is growing.
