Author Carolyn Cofield talks about the important role of motherhood in your home, your community and your church. When we're having meetings, we do Bible study, we try to invite other women to come in with their testimonies and their stories, especially single moms. And we make sure that they have the resources that they need. We tried to connect them, so it's a kind of community. It takes the whole village to help. So, we don't do it all by ourselves. It takes the whole community, helping us and churches. The churches that support us and pray for us. The girls get can get born again in one of our meetings. And they need a church home to go to.

Students for Life Ohio Regional Coordinator Jamie Cherdin shares how her organization is educating and training the new pro-life generation. We recruit, train, and mobilize our students to abolish abortion within their lifetime. And so, when we want to activate them, once we get students who are, you know, super pro-life and they're ready to go, we have like these five pillars of activism and one of them is like rapid response. That is rapidly responding to anything in town, city, on your campus, in your school, that is happening that would be considered pro-abortion. So, for instance, last week we had 75 students and community members in Cincinnati rapidly respond and we held what was a life-changing event called "Let Their Hearts Beat".

Eugene Norris, Nancy Galambos, Juanita Bagley-Watson, Rich Hall, Ronald Turner. What is the best way to evangelize to family who have previously rejected God? I believe in praying for wisdom before I go to evangelize to someone I asked God, how do I touch their heart? Because for some people, they need resources, they may not actually need you to come in and say a specific speech, but they need a structure. They need a resource, they need something. And because their heart is open to you in that moment.

Business Executive Carmel Conlin shares the amazing story of how God brought her from being homeless to owning her own company. You are the CEO and creative director of Carmel's Executive Car Service. A top-rated car service in Northeast, Ohio. You were from Cleveland and moved to Los Angeles. What was the catalyst for to you getting sober? I found myself at the age of 27, unemployed, sick and homeless. You know, the third step is to make this decision to turn your will in your life of the care of God. As you understand God, you can make that really difficult. But my sponsor, God bless a woman named Barbara Baron who's now since passed. But boy, talk about a person who would change your life. She told me, turn my life over to the care of God. It was to live a life, based on rigorous honesty. Stop lying, stop cheating, stealing. That is for me what it is to trust God.

Dr. Faron Cole, Timothy Roeser, Limarie Vargas, Nick Lindsay, Joseph Colini, Tim Neal. Where in the Bible does it speak about panhandlers and how are we to respond to them? I have multiple scriptures through the Bible that encourages to give to the poor and give to the needy. The Bible says in Proverbs 28:27, he that giveth unto the poor shall not lack but he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse. The Bible tells us that we have to be led by the spirit of God. If the spirit of God is leading you to give something then you have to obey the spirit of God but we have to be very careful and make sure that we seek the Lord before we do it.

Director of Community Relations at Refuge of Hope Ministries Kristie Woods discusses what her organization is doing to help the homeless. I've been there for four and a half years, and we've built a new building, which had more beds for shelter. And then, just this spring, we opened a second building that also provides medical care and a clothing ministry. Meals, shelter, clothing, and medical care, all provided on one campus in two buildings in downtown Canton. It's just incredible to see how God has seen all of this through.

Dr. Faron Cole, Charles Redmon, Joseph Colini, Anthony Medley, Timothy Roeser, Tim Neal. If you feel that God has called you to a Ministry or to a business should you move forward if it's not very fruitful? Yes, sometimes it's a challenge. First of all, if you feel God is leading you literally have to know God's voice and you want to make sure that you stay in prayer and stay seeking the Lord because it's very delicate. Just because it's fruitless if you will or it's not dealing with the results you thought does not necessarily mean that God is not with you.

Eugene Norris, Rich Hall, J. D. D. Hawk Bolden, Nancy Galambos, Nick Lindsay, Luvirt Parker. If a Pastor leaves a church, does a Deacon take over? I appreciate the wisdom of God in giving us some flexibility in terms of the way that we express our government and various churches. I think that it depends on that particular church and their governmental structure. The only thing that I will say is that we have to be careful to understand that there are a different set of qualifications for elder overseer than there are for a Deacon. There're also some distinct qualifications for an elder, particularly the ability to manage and the ability to teach. Just because a person is a Deacon doesn't necessarily mean that they have that particular qualification that there will be there will be required of an elder as so I would say it depends on your particular structure.

First of all, do righteous practices in your business and that'll be summed up in Matthew 7:12. And so God's telling you that, if you're going to follow the golden rule, do unto others as you would have them do unto you, God will bless your business, and you'll be a blessing to others. Give, and it shall be given unto you heaped up, press down and running over. Will God give unto you through other men, as you use that business as a great ministry to meet other people's ministry.

Tim Walker, David Gray, Kathleen Wuopio, Rich Hall, Timothy Roeser, Nick Lindsay. Is the HCSB a good study Bible? I believe strongly in a literal interpretation of the scriptures, a word-for-word interpretation of the scripture. The King James, The New American Standard, the ESV; those are all very good literal, word-for-word translation to the scriptures. The HCSB tries to be a common ground between those two. It takes the literal word-for-word translation that takes the dynamic equivalence and tries to work them together to get the best elements of both principles of translation. I would use it in a pinch, but honestly, I'm a New American Standard guy.

Michael Gammill, Luvirt Parker, Rich Hall, David Gray, Tim Neal, Ronald Turner. How do we know we are reading the right Bible? The most accurate according to scholars is The New American Standard Version. So as long as it's got the life, the death, the burial, and the resurrection of Jesus in it, and it doesn't take a lot of words and change them around. That's the right Bible.

Dr. Faron Cole, Timothy Walker, Nick Lindsay, David Gray, Joseph Colini, Tim Neal. What scriptures can I use to teach my grandchildren not to say “Oh God” in vain? First of all, be encouraged to just continue to live your life in integrity and loving God and reverencing God in your life. You're probably communicating a lot more than you even know. Secondly, look for teachable moments and maybe even pray for God to sort of create that for you. You know, they may be, there are times where we're more apt to receive something or teaching from someone when we're in a kind of a certain attitude. Or a teachable moment. Pray for God to give you those opportunities and sees them by faith when he does give them to you.

Congress did not let Lincoln use his proclamation of the emancipation as a law-deemed unconstitutional. He went another route and made it an amendment. And it was passed. There're times that we get outside the Holy Spirit, the Bible says, there's no condemnation to those who walk after the spirit. See a lot of times we get out of the spirit and that's when we sin. So, as long as we get back in the spirit, we ask God to forgive us, we die out to that nature and we get back in the spirit pursue spiritual thing. He said that's the greatest commandment and the second commandment is to love your neighbor as yourself. Now on the surface. That doesn't sound that difficult. Love God, love your neighbor. Dr. Faron Cole, J. D. D. Hawk Bolden, Joseph Colini, Timothy Walker, Anthony Medley, Timothy Roeser. Is it considered a lie if you only think it? The Bible says as a man thinketh in his heart. I want to refer you to rappers. They do a lot of talking about themselves. They put themselves up, and they say they're this and they're that and nobody can beat them, nobody can come up to their level and what they're trying to do. If you grew up in the ghetto or you grew up in scarce environment, you almost have to tell yourself that you're this, that, and the other to go above the circumstances that you're in. And so, you almost have to tell yourself that I'm bad. I'm this, I'm that, I'm going to make it. So that's what I do, I always speak to myself. The Bible says, speak to yourself as songs in the air hymns and encourage yourself. And so that's what I always do. I always call myself a better preacher than I am.
