Issue: American Heart Association

Description: Tracy Behnke is the executive director of the American Heart Association. Tracy says one of their goals is to get people to move to avoid heart issues. And that includes education in the schools so kids start at early age to get moving to keep their heart healthy. That also includes reachin out to local businesses to create a more physically and health conscious culture in the office since we do spend more than half of our waking hours at work. Another goal is to get more people to learn CPR since a majority of cardiac arrests happen at home.

Issue: Health Care for Veterans

Description: The Veterans Administration operates a local outpatient clinic on Belmont Avenue in Youngstown. Connie Schaffer is an LPN and has worked at the clinic for the past 17 years. Connie and her team joined us on Forum to discuss various services provided by the clinic. She notes that services are being added and updated to include specialties such as fertility counseling and mobile clinics (coming from the Cleveland VA) to enhance local services for the more than 13-thousand local veterans. Veterans are urged to seek their medical treatment through the VA and can set up an appointment to learn if they qualify based on service history and income.
