JANUARY 7, 2018 – In an exclusive interview on “Meet the Press,” Michael Wolff, author of the controversial new book “Fire and Fury: Inside the Trump White House,” told moderator Chuck Todd that concern in the White House about President Trump’s fitness for office is so great that the “25th Amendment is a concept that is alive every day in the White House.”

Wolff also shared: “If I left out anything, it's probably stuff that was even more damning.” Watch the full interview.

Todd broke the news on this morning’s broadcast that the White House says the last time they have a record of Wolff speaking to Trump was in February of 2017, not even through the first hundred days of the administration.

In an exclusive interview this morning, Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-S.C.) shared that he would say “no” if asked to join Trump’s Cabinet, shooting down secretary of state speculation. The South Carolina senator also defended the president’s fitness for office, telling Todd: “I don't think he's crazy. I think he's had a very successful 2017, and I want to help him where I can, and we should all want him to be successful.” Watch the full interview.

The New York Times’ David Brooks, The New York Times Magazine’s Mark Leibovich, American Enterprise Institute’s Danielle Pletka and MSNBC’s Joy Reid joined the broadcast’s roundtable for insight on the week in politics.

MTP EXCLUSIVES: PAUL SAYS ‘IT’S UNFAIR’ TO CALL TRUMP A RACIST, BENNET: ‘NO QUESTION WHAT HE SAID WAS RACIST’

SUNDAY EXCLUSIVE: Sen. Rand Paul (R-Ky.) on Trump: “I know, for a fact, that he cares very deeply about the people in Haiti”

PLUS: Paul: “You can't have an immigration compromise if everybody's out there calling the president a racist”

SUNDAY EXCLUSIVE: Sen. Michael Bennet (D-Colo.): “There’s no question what he said was racist”

JANUARY 14, 2018 – In an exclusive interview, Sen. Rand Paul (R-Ky.) tells “Meet the Press” moderator Chuck Todd “it’s unfair” to “draw conclusions from a remark that I think wasn’t constructive” and paint President Donald Trump as a racist “when I know, for a fact, that he cares very deeply about the people in Haiti because he helped finance a trip where we were able to get vision back for 200 people in Haiti.”

“You can't have an immigration compromise if everybody's out there calling the president a racist,” says Paul. “Both sides now are destroying the setting in which anything meaningful can happen on immigration.” Watch the exclusive interview with the Kentucky senator.

Sen. Michael Bennet (D-Colo.) says, “There's no question what he said was racist. There's no question what he said was un-American and completely unmoored from the facts.”

When asked if it’s worth shutting the government down if a DACA compromise doesn’t happen, Bennet replies, “It should not come to that.” Watch the exclusive interview with the Colorado senator.

In an exclusive interview this morning, civil rights icon and former UN ambassador Andrew Young tells Todd that Trump is “being educated.” “It's not a matter of educating Donald Trump. It's a matter of educating our entire society,” Young says. “You don't help someone who has an alcohol problem by constantly calling him a drunk. You have to deal with the sickness,” he adds.

When asked if Trump is redeemable, Young replies, “We are sinners that know we cannot make it on our own. And I think he's kind of got to realize that too.” Watch the exclusive interview.

MTP EXCLUSIVE: COTTON ‘CAN’T MAKE THAT COMMITMENT AT ALL’ TO SUPPORT TRUMP ON IMMIGRATION

EXCLUSIVE: Cotton on Trump’s immigration comments: “I've never denied that there wasn't strong language used in the meeting by lots of people”

White House Legislative Affairs Director Marc Short says “the president has been involved” in government shutdown negotiations

Senate Minority Whip Dick Durbin (D-Ill.) on the shutdown: “I wish the president would help us. At some point his leadership could make the difference”

JANUARY 21, 2018 – In an exclusive interview, Sen. Tom Cotton (R-Ark.) said he “can't make that commitment at all” to fully support President Donald Trump on immigration.

On the president’s position on the Durbin-Graham immigration proposal and speculation of his influence, Cotton told Todd, “I don’t think anyone got to Donald Trump. Donald Trump studied the proposal that Dick Durbin and Lindsey Graham put in front of him and realized it didn’t address any of our key priorities.”

Cotton also addressed Trump’s immigration comments: “I've never denied that there wasn't strong language used in the meeting by lots of people. ... I was not offended. And nobody in the meeting expressed their offense at any of the language that was being used.” Watch the full interview with the Arkansas senator.

Marc Short, legislative affairs director for the White House, spoke to Todd about the president’s involvement in ending the government shutdown, responding to Todd asking why the president didn’t make a single public appearance yesterday: “The president has been involved. ... The president is engaged in finding out what are the impacts of this. He's been on the phone in trying to find a resolution to it.”

On the new immigration ad unveiled last night, Short told Todd: “That ad is produced by an outside group ... not done from people working inside the White House.” When asked if it is helpful, Short replied, “It's helpful to continue to raise awareness ... the data of the ad shows that there are people coming across our border that pose threats to our country.” Watch the full interview.

Senate Minority Whip Dick Durbin (D-Ill.) would not commit to the government reopening before close of business Monday, telling Todd, “I'm not going to make that prediction, but I feel that there are positive conversations.” He added: “I wish the president would help us. At some point his leadership could make the difference.”

On the president’s immigration comments, Durbin said, “It did happen, Chuck. I'm sorry that it was said. I'm sorry that the president denied it.” Watch the full interview.

Todd also reported on why Democrats are drawing a line on DACA, noting that the numbers on the issue seem to favor the party in the polls and at the congressional district level: “If the Democrats do indeed take back the House this November it could be because they fought for DACA issue and they won districts like this, Republican-held districts with larger than average minority population.”

NBC News' Peter Alexander, Republican strategist Al Cardenas, Democratic strategist Stephanie Cutter and The Wall Street Journal's Peggy Noonan joined this morning's roundtable for analysis on the week in politics, including on the president's role in shutdown negotiations. EXCLUSIVE: Former Defense Sec. Robert Gates says there will be a "political cost" for firing Mueller

PLUS: Sen. Joe Manchin (D-W.Va.) on reports of Trump's order to fire Mueller: "New York talk"

JANUARY 28, 2018 – In an exclusive interview this morning on "Meet the Press," House Majority Leader Kevin McCarthy (R-Calif.) told moderator Chuck Todd, "I don't think there's a need for legislation right now to protect Mueller" when asked if he would support such legislation, following reports this week of the president's reported order to fire Mueller.

McCarthy also addressed the House Intelligence Committee memo on surveillance, "Having read this memo, I think it would be appropriate that the public has full view of it." Watch the exclusive interview with the House Majority Leader.

On the possible firing of Mueller, Senator Joe Manchin (D-W.Va.) told Todd: "That's New York talk. I look at it strictly as the New York language that they have which is different than most other people."

Expanding on how that is "New York talk," Manchin said, "Let's see if [Trump] moves on Rosenstein. If he moves on Rosenstein, Chuck, I think at that time there'll be Democrats and Republicans saying, 'Time to protect the judicial system and the three branches of government having equal power.' Absolutely." Watch the interview with the West Virginia senator.

In an exclusive interview, former Defense Sec. Robert Gates addressed what Congress should do to protect Mueller if the president decides to fire him: "The one thing that can be done is to try and figure out how to make it clear the magnitude of the political cost that would be incurred should he be fired." Watch the exclusive interview with the former defense secretary.

this morning's roundtable for insight and analysis where Brokaw noted, "I think for the country, frankly, Chuck, it's kind of a non-issue now that [Trump] was thinking about firing [Mueller] six months ago but he did not. I think that they moved on."

MTP EXCLUSIVE: PRIEBUS 'NEVER FELT' THAT TRUMP WAS GOING TO FIRE MUELLER

EXCLUSIVE: Priebus: "never felt that there was some kind of collusion or some kind of obstruction situation going on at all in the West Wing"

PLUS: Brennan: Steele Dossier "did not play any role whatsoever" in early intelligence assessments

PLUS: Brennan: Nunes "abused the office of chairmanship"

EXCLUSIVE: Bryant Gumbel: "the protest is about police brutality and has nothing to do with the military or the flag"

FEBRUARY 4, 2018 – In an exclusive interview this morning on "Meet the Press," former Chief of Staff to President Donald Trump Reince Priebus told moderator Chuck Todd, that "of all the things that we went through in the West Wing, I never felt that the president was going to fire the Special Counsel."

Priebus added, "I think it was very clear by the president's own words that he was concerned about the conflicts of interest that he felt that the special counsel had. And he made that very clear. Perhaps someone interpreted that to mean something else. But I know the difference between fire that person, why isn't that person gone, to what I read in that New York Times piece."

When asked about the Russia probe, Priebus said, "I've never felt that there was some sort of collusion or some kind of obstruction situation going on in the West Wing. I never felt that." Watch the exclusive interview with former Chief of Staff Reince Priebus.

In his first appearance as an NBC News Senior National Security and Intelligence Analyst, former CIA Director John Brennan told Todd that the Steele Dossier "did not play any role whatsoever" in early intelligence assessments.

When asked about the June 2016 meeting in Trump Tower, Brennan said it was "foolish" and "irresponsible," and added "I find it inexplicable in terms of how that meeting took place and interest in part of individuals, very close to Mr. Trump, who wanted to get dirt on Hillary Clinton from Russians."

Referring to Rep. Devin Nunes (R-Calif.), Brennan said he “has abused the office of the chairmanship” of the House Intel Committee, and that it was “appalling” that he did not allow Democrats on his committee to put out their report as well.

When asked about his successor, CIA Director Mike Pompeo, Brennan said “senior members of this Administration who follow Donald Trump’s way of trying to denigrate and condemn everything that happened before them as a way to make them appear that they are doing things better than ever have been previously.” Watch the interview with former CIA Director John Brennan.

EXCLUSIVE: Sanders: Obama "was in a very difficult position" on Russia meddling, "maybe he should have done more"

PLUS: Broward County Public Schools Superintendent Runcie: "We need a smarter system"

PLUS: Marjory Stoneman Douglas students: "Attention is on us now"

February 18, 2018 – In an exclusive interview this morning on "Meet the Press," Sen. James Lankford (R-Okla.) told moderator Chuck Todd: "The problem is not owning an AR-15," it's "the person that owns it," and added that the issue is the individual, "not the weapon that they're holding."

When asked if it should be harder to purchase an AR-15, Lankford exclusively replied: "I actually don't think it should be. I think what should be is difficult for any person with any kind of criminal background history, domestic violence, mental instability, all of those things, regardless. I don't care whether they're buying a 22 pistol or an AR-15." Watch the full interview with Sen. James Lankford.

Sen. Bernie Sanders (I-Vt.) also exclusively joined the program, telling Todd that "nobody in our campaign was interviewed" by Special Counsel Mueller, adding that what he read in the indictment report was "kind of old news."

When asked about Rep. Adam Schiff's (D-Calif.) recent comments on the Obama Administration's handling of the Russian interference in the 2016 election, Sanders said:

“Obama was in a very difficult position. He did not want to make it look like he was favoring Hillary Clinton. Maybe he should have done more.” And, on President Trump not speaking out on the issue, Sanders stated: “that we don’t have a president speaking out on this issue is a horror show.”

Sanders also addressed the shooting at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School telling Todd that “Republicans are going to have to say that it’s more important to protect the children of this country than to antagonize the NRA.” Watch the full interview with Sen. Bernie Sanders.

In the wake of the shooting at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School, five of the school’s students, Jaclyn Corin, Emma Gonzalez, David Hogg, Cameron Kasky and Alex Wind also joined “Meet the Press” this morning, announcing “March for Our Lives,” a nationwide event and march in Washington, and telling Todd that the “attention is on us now.”

Broward County Public Schools Superintendent Robert Runcie also joined the program, telling Todd: “we need a smarter system. We need a smarter infrastructure where various agencies, departments, school systems, they’re working in a more integrated and collaborative fashion to ensure that we can share data, we can share information, to enhance our level of effectiveness.” Watch the interview.

Democratic strategist Cornell Belcher, NBC News’ Hallie Jackson and Carol Lee and CNBC’s Rick Santelli joined this morning’s roundtable for additional insight and analysis, where they also discussed the president's response to Special Counsel Mueller's latest indictments.

EXCLUSIVE: Klobuchar: “Congress Didn’t Have The Courage To Pass” A Background Check Bill After Sandy Hook

PLUS: Klobuchar: Fines For Social Media Is A “Great Idea”

EXCLUSIVE: Massie: Background Checks Are “False Senses of Security”

FEBRUARY 25, 2018 – In an exclusive interview this morning on “Meet the Press,” Sen. Pat Toomey (R-Pa.) told moderator Chuck Todd that his bipartisan gun legislation wouldn’t “solve all problems, and we never suggested it would.” When asked if he supports the idea of raising the age on assault weapons from 18 to 21, Toomey exclusively replied: “I’m very skeptical about that,” and added, “the difference between the AR-15 and an awful lot of commonly-sold rifles is just cosmetic.”

In response to NRA head Wayne LaPierre’s speech over the weekend, Toomey said: “This is the first I’ve heard, and I don’t know what else Wayne LaPierre said, so that strikes me as a little bit conspiratorial in its tone, but again I don’t have it in the full context.” Toomey added: “The NRA once held the position that I hold, which is that background checks at gun sales and any kind of commercial sale are appropriate. The NRA changed its position on that. I disagree with them.” Watch the full interview with Sen. Pat Toomey.

Sen. Amy Klobuchar (D-Minn.) also exclusively joined the program, telling Todd that fining social media companies if they fail to “purge itself of bots” would be a “great idea.”

On the gun issue, Klobuchar said that after Sandy Hook, “Congress didn’t have the courage to pass” a background check bill, adding, “I don’t think you’re going to see that happen again.”

When asked about the FBI’s handling of the Parkland shooting, Klobuchar said: “I think someone clearly made a major, tragic mistake in not reporting that to the Miami field office.”

On what gun owners in Minnesota had to say about the reform, Klobuchar exclusively said: “We have a big hunting culture here ... what these hunters were telling me the last few days is that they are ready to do some background checks. They understand as law-abiding gun owners that we need to make changes.” Watch the full interview with Sen. Amy Klobuchar.

Rep. Thomas Massie (R-Ky.) also exclusively joined the program, telling moderator Chuck Todd that background checks are “false senses of security.” Massie compared trying to fix the background check system to putting “lipstick on a pig.” Watch the full interview with Rep. Thomas Massie.

MTP: COMMERCE SEC. ROSS HAS ‘NO REASON TO THINK’ TRUMP WILL REVERSE TARIFF PLAN, SAYS DECISION ‘WASN’T SUDDEN’

Ross Contradicts Navarro on Country Exclusions, Tells Todd “We’ll See”

Ross on Trump Tariff Announcement: “I Don’t Know Why Anybody Should’ve Been So Shocked”

EXCLUSIVE: Obama Chief of Staff Says Administration's Russia Response Was "Watered Down on the Insistence of Mitch McConnell"

EXCLUSIVE: Sen. Angus King (I-Maine): "There is Concern" About Tariff Decision

EXCLUSIVE: Putin Tells Megyn Kelly He Will "Never, Never" Extradite the 13 Indicted Russian Nationals to U.S.

MARCH 4, 2018 – When asked by “Meet the Press” moderator Chuck Todd if President Donald Trump will reverse his controversial tariff announcement this week, Commerce Secretary Wilbur Ross wouldn’t commit: “Whatever his final decision is is what will happen.”

“The president has announced that this will happen this week. I have no reason to think otherwise,” Ross said. “The markets started recovering on Friday as it began to adjust to the realities that this is not the end of the world,” when asked if the decision will hold on Monday should the markets continue to be affected.

The secretary also addressed the timing of the announcement: “It wasn't sudden,” he said, adding: “With a whole year of preparation, I don't know why anybody should've been so shocked.”

Contrary to White House trade adviser Peter Navarro confirming “there will be no country exclusions,” Ross told Chuck: “We’ll see. The president makes the decisions.” Watch the full interview.

Sen. Angus King (I-Maine), in an exclusive interview, addressed the tariff announcement: “You can't make a change of this significance and assume that nothing else is going to happen as a result.” He added: “There is a concern. This is a very, very important decision and it's one that could have long-term ramifications. And it was announced in this kind of shorthand way.”

On the Senate Intelligence Committee’s Russia investigation, King said it’s “worlds apart” from the House’s investigation and the “hardest part and the most contentious part, frankly, is the final piece, which is ... to talk about connections between the Trump campaign and officials surrounding the president with, with foreign entities leading up to the election and after.” Watch the full interview.

In an exclusive interview, Denis McDonough, White House chief of staff to President Barack Obama, told Todd, “yes,” the administration’s response to Russia’s election interference “was watered down on the insistence of Mitch McConnell.” McDonough also said that he believes he “sounded the alarm enough” on Russia. Watch the full interview.

The broadcast also aired an excerpt from NBC News’ Megyn Kelly’s exclusive sit-down interview in Russia with President Putin, in which he does not deny that Russians and Russian companies were involved in 2016 election interference but says there was no Russian government involvement. “I know that they do not represent the Russian state, the Russian authorities. What they did specifically, I have no idea. I do not know what they were guided by,” said Putin. When asked if he would extradite the 13 indicted Russian nationals to the United States, Putin told Kelly: “Never, never. Russia does not extradite its citizens to anyone, just like the United States.” Watch the exchange. More of the interview to come in the days ahead.

NBC News’ Tom Brokaw and Katy Tur, Republican strategist Al Cardenas and presidential historian Doris Kearns Goodwin joined this morning’s roundtable to discuss the week in politics, with Tur noting that “the Mueller headlines this week alone were staggering.”

MTP EXCLUSIVE: MNUCHIN SAYS NORTH KOREA MEETING ‘ISN’T ABOUT ELEVATING ANYBODY,’ DEFENDS TRUMP’S RALLY COMMENTS: ‘A LOT OF FUNNY MOMENTS’

EXCLUSIVE: Treasury Secretary Mnuchin on Trump Rally Attacks: “These Are Campaign Rally Issues”

EXCLUSIVE: Arizona Sen. Flake (R) on Trump’s Attacks on Free Press: “I Don’t Think It’s a Responsible Thing to Do”

PLUS: Massachusetts Sen. Warren (D) on Trump Meeting with North Koreans: “Worried That They’re Going to Take Advantage of Him”

MARCH 11, 2018 – In an exclusive interview with “Meet the Press” moderator Chuck Todd, Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin says President Donald Trump meeting with North Korean leader Kim Jong-Un “isn’t about elevating anybody” and “a major reason of why they’re having this meeting is because the economic sanctions have had – have – a very big impact on both their economy, and their ability to get pieces of material and other things they need for their weapons programs.”

Denuclearization of the Korean peninsula is “absolutely” still American policy, and “the logistics haven’t been figured out yet” on the meeting location, shared Mnuchin.

When asked about the president’s attacks last night in his Pennsylvania rally, including about Todd himself, Mnuchin told Todd: “These are campaign rally issues... He’s using these vulgarities in the context of a campaign rally and obviously there were a lot of funny moments on that rally.” Watch the full interview.

Sen. Jeff Flake (R-Ariz.) also addressed Trump’s speech last night and his attacks on the press in an exclusive interview: “I don’t think it’s a responsible thing to do... We should never normalize this kind of behavior, particularly from the president of the United States.” On the president’s decision to meet with North Korea, Flake said: “It looks as if North Korea has come to a point where they believe that they can be treated as a nuclear power.”

Flake ended the interview by saying he believes Trump needs to be challenged in 2020 by someone in the GOP who espouses his views: “It would be a tough go in a Republican primary. The Republican Party is the Trump party right now. But that's not to say it will stay that way.” Watch the full interview.

Sen. Elizabeth Warren (D-Mass.), when asked multiple times to pledge serving a six-year term upon reelection this year, told Todd repeatedly: “I am not running for president.”

“I am very worried that they're going to take advantage of him,” said Warren in reference to the North Koreans meeting with Trump. The senator also responded to The Berkshire Eagle editorial calling for her to take a DNA test: “I know who I am. And never used it for anything. Never got any benefit from it anywhere.” Watch the full interview.

Joining this morning’s roundtable for insight and analysis were Matt Bai of Yahoo! News, Andrea Mitchell of NBC News, Peggy Noonan of The Wall Street Journal and Eugene Robinson of The Washington Post. Mitchell offered analysis of the week’s North Korea developments, telling Todd: “They've had a victory by setting the terms and by having the meeting itself, as you were pointing out. This is what all North Korean leaders have wanted. Three generations have wanted a meeting, legitimacy from an American president.” Watch the discussion.
