Request #796949 "Payola complaint" was closed and merged into this request. Last comment in request #796949:

My name is [REDACTED] and I wish to remain anonymous. I'm a resident of the Coachella Valley who was recently informed by multiple merchants that one of your anchors on KESQ channel 3 Blanca Rae, has received free clothing and services.

Over the past 3 years Ms. Rae has received expensive dresses, makeup, hair and other gratuities in exchange for appearing in them on a series of news programs. The businesses do not pay for advertising and the station, KESQ, does not disclose the free items at the time of the broadcast. Now another one of your anchors from the same station, Alexandra Pierce, is following in suit. It is astonishing that management, especially Mike Stutz, is allowing this to happen.

Here are some of the locations Ms. Rae and Ms. Pierce have solicited and received free goods from in exchange for air time, as recently as this weekend.

My Little Bridal Shop
Ritz Carlton Rancho Mirage (Makeup, hair, nails)
El Paseo Jewelers
Le Chateau in La Quinta
Bohimi Couture
Effortless Chic on El Paseo
Micheal Costello
Best City Nails
Presage on El Paseo (they were solicited but declined her)
Patrick Marchesson (makeup)
Lynne La Voie (makeup)
Grayse on El Paseo
Cell That Girl (stylist)
Marina BerBeryan (stylist)
The Jewelry Bar on El Paseo
Joe Eber Salon Rancho Mirage
Pernilla Linner
Vanessa Pucinni
Diane Von Furstenberg in Cabazon Outlets

bianca__rae "What makes a @michaelcostello gown is the woman wearing it. She not only exudes sex appeal and self-confidence, but she demands attention when she walks into a room so all eyes are always on her. You can always tell there's something different about your woman when she's wearing a Michael Costello gown." -Michael Costello. In our one-one-one interview
