Community	Public Report			11/24/18	#1464	28:30	14:00

Summary: Manwell Grady talks to Tia Hunter about Job Corps. It is a federal program for getting students aged 16 – 24 engaged in a career that they can find employment and be proud of. At the start, the recruiter tries to match hobbies to potential job skills. This organization was started by Sgt. Shriver, who wanted to reach every young person in order to teach employable skills in order for them to have a brighter and more productive future.

Community	Public Report			10/6/18	#1457	28:30	14:00

Summary: Valda Ford discusses Partners in Homelessness with Brian Hahn. Homelessness occurs when the loss of a job or steady paycheck causes a family to lose their “safety net.” Most people, when they are facing the real possibility of being homeless, don’t know what agencies are there to help them. The “Housing First Initiative” targets the chronically-homeless population. These are people who cycle in and out of homeless shelters. In 2014, 143 people were targeted; and in 2016, that number changed to 17. Homelessness usually doesn’t affect just one generation. If you are facing homelessness, you need to admit you need help, before you become homeless.

Community	Public Report			10/20/18	#1459	28:30	14:00

Summary: Scott Jones talks to Faith Thomas about Tiny Houses of Greensboro. They are building a community of tiny houses that can help to change lives. Having a safe, secure, affordable place can give people dignity, pride, and a sense of ownership. There are six houses in the planning phase. One is ready for ownership. The houses are 280 square feet and fully functional.

Community	Public Report			10/27/18	#1460	28:30	14:00

Summary: Michelle Kennedy is the Executive Director of the Interactive Resource Center. It is a day-center for homeless people. There, they can receive services, take a shower, wash clothes, receive mail, and look for a job. They partner with GTCC to help people complete their GED. The agency tries to transition people from homelessness to affordable housing. When the weather is below 32 degrees at night, it becomes a “warming-center” for the night. Anyone can come to the center in order to get warm. They work with local churches and the YWCA for extra room. Since Greensboro has started the warming centers, there hasn’t been a person lost to hyperthermia. The IRC also has “Operation Bedroll.” A city employee started using plastic bags, which are bad for the environment, to weave them into plastic yarn, or “plarn.” It is then crocheted into bedrolls and distributed to the homeless. It helps to raise the temperature of the body by five degrees.

Summary: Adrienne Singleton comes to talk about Wheels 4 Hope with Rick Marson. It is an agency that takes donated cars, refurbishes them, and matches them with a person or family that will benefit from getting reliable transportation. These recipients are vetted through partner agencies. The person has been working with the other agencies for at least four months. They are personally responsible for title work, taxes, and insurance in order to receive the car.

Summary: Parker White talks with Faith Thomas about the agency, "Backpack Beginnings." They help address both the physical and mental needs of children by providing them with backpacks of food to eat over the weekend. Many of these children would not, otherwise, have anything else to eat. When a child is hungry, they cannot learn and may have other social issues. 67% of our students are at the free or reduced breakfast and lunch level during each school day. There are also clothing pantries to help the student not to feel out of place. They also provide "comfort" backpacks to children perceived to be "in crisis," either through abuse, neglect, or being identified as refugees. This helps the student to feel emotionally comforted and to not feel as though they are being bullied because they are "different."

Summary: Host: Pastor Samuel Hampton Guests: Pastor Faron Cole, Pastor Eddie Harris, Pastor Tim Neal, Pastor Jerry O'Brien, Pastor Nancy Galambos. Anonymous – What does it mean Christians are "The Aroma of Christ"? Pastor Cole – 11 Corinthians 2:15 we are unto God in Christ a sweet savor of Christ. Pastor O'Brien – It's from an Old Covenant that they anointed with oil and it would give a smell or aroma. They would anoint the priest; it was mixed with incense as well. New Covenant is he puts a demand on your life when you serve him; we carry this aroma to the world about Jesus. Pastor Galambos – If we are disobedient to God it becomes a horrible smell to him. Be pleasing to the Lord. Pastor Neal – Walking in Love is a sweet savor to him, Jesus was a servant walking in Love. When we walk in sin it smells like death, but serving him is sweet smell.
