Dr. Clarke, a marriage counselor and speaker, shared seven steps that wives can implement with or without their husband's cooperation to begin experiencing an intimate and romantic marriage. Part Two of a two-part interview.

June 11 and June 13, 2015

Dr. Freda Crews and her guest, Charlotte Cole, discuss her book Heartbeats for Cancer, sharing her passion to draw all women towards the transforming power of God's unconditional love. Charlotte is the founder of Charlotte's Heart, a speaking and writing ministry that reaches women worldwide with messages of hope, personal value and practical solutions for parenting, marriage, self-worth and closeness with God. Having walked through some of life's biggest trials like a life touched by addiction, fighting stage three rectal cancer while raising four sons, and learning how to commit her heart to the Lord in the trials and tribulations that surface in marriage, Charlotte shared how she takes the lessons she learned and creatively presents how women can thrive through life today.

June 18 and June 20, 2015

Author Mike Rakes talked with host Dr. Freda Crews about his book, Slings and Stones, which takes a look at the classic underdog story of David and Goliath to help people see that they can defeat the giant in their own lives. People can deconstruct the negative thoughts and attitudes that have infiltrated their minds, face down the giants and triumphantly take hold of God's plans for their own lives. Negative thoughts are like invisible giants that live in the mind. Thoughts will either strengthen or undermine the courage and confidence in your heart. They don't carry swords and spears, but they can sabotage your thinking and keep you away from God's best for your life.

June 25 and June 27, 2015

Author Craig Stone (Forgiving the Unforgivable) shared about his emotional turmoil and grief that he experienced in light of the events of a tragic automobile accident that left three of his family members dead and one in a vegetative state. Adding to the pain of loss, corruption seemed to overshadow justice in the courtroom trial that followed. As a result, the family was thrust into months and even years of unimaginable grief, rage and unforgiveness that nearly destroyed his life until he discovered true forgiveness. Covering the many stages of grief, Craig showed why it is important to go through the grieving process and how you cannot uncover healing and a prosperous future without it. You may find yourself in a similar situation, with a life struck by deep wounds that were inflicted by other people. He encouraged people to end the pain and anger and embrace freedom through forgiveness.

We hear the term religious persecution, but do we Americans really understand what it means. The authors of Captive in Iran are Iranian Christians, who were put in prison for their faith. Though their lives and the lives of their families are still in jeopardy today, they've written a book about their experiences and hope to educate Americans on what real persecution is and what we can do about it. Guests Maryam Rostampour and Marziyeh Amirizadeh.

Saturday, April 11, 2015

There are several online dating sites that promise that if you're good, God will find you a match made in heaven. But is that really what God has planned for your life or how he wants you to find a spouse? The panel discusses this on this edition of Right Now. Panelists include Ansley Henkel, Pastor Gavin Adams, Lisa Cheater and Jonathan Merritt.

Saturday, April 18, 2015

Topic: Gulit: Do We Need More or Less of It? Is there something you should be doing but aren't – like that diet that you have been putting off? Or maybe you're doing something that you know you shouldn't. Do you feel guilty about those things? Do you wish you had more or less guilt? Or would a little more guilt motivate you to do what you should? Panelists include Alex Dale, Pastor Gavin Adams, Jessica Quinn and Jyn Hall.

Saturday, April 24, 2015

Topic: Get Into It or Stay Out of It? When you see situations such as when a parent is losing his cool at a kid's soccer game, do you do anything? There is a time to engage and a time to stay out of it. How do you know which is which? Panelists include Mitchell McGhee, Lisa Cheater, Andre Riedlinger and Brett Trapp.

Saturday, May 1, 2015

Topic: Gender. Why are men and women so different? Some think that we shouldn't while other celebrate that we are. Gender differences is the topic of discussion on this edition of Right Now. Guests include Mitchell McGhee, Lisa Cheater, Teisha Moseley and Andre Riedlinger.

Saturday, May 16, 2015

Topic: Self-Discipline. Are you a disciplined person? Do you work out and eat right? Are you always on time? And do you daily read your Bible, fast and pray? Self-discipline is the topic of discussion on this edition of Right Now. Panelists included Mitchell McGhee, Brett Trapp, Lisa Cheater and Andre Riedlinger.

Saturday, May 23, 2015

Topic: Suicide. Recently, Rick Warren's son committed suicide and Rick and his wife have bravely come forward to talk about it. Most of us know someone who has taken their own life. In fact, 38,000 people die by suicide each year. That's more than the number of people who die from murder or war. And it's twice the number of people who die from HIV/AIDS. For Christians it's an important topic which is why we're talking about it.

Saturday, June 6, 2015

Topic: The 411 on Dying. Are there preparations we should make for our or a loved ones death? Organ donation, DNR, financial arrangements, etc? What should we expect when a loved one dies? Are there spiritual preparations we should make? Panelists included Dr. Reggie Anderson, Mishael Porembski, Jessica Quinn, and Gavin Adams

In a world where a woman's acceptance so often seems contingent on her looks, behavior or talents, does anyone love her simply for who she is? Debora M. Coty answers that question with a resounding "yes" in her new book, Too Loved to Be Lost: Discovering God's Intentional, Unconditional, Without-Limits Love.

Right Now with Jennifer Schuchmann

Half hour series with host Jennifer Schuchmann and a panel of guests. Airs Thursdays at 11:30 p.m., Fridays at 11:30 a.m. and Saturdays at 12:30 p.m. on 57.1 and Mondays at 12:30 p.m. (April) and Sunday afternoons at 3:30 p.m. on 57.2. In May, Right Now began airing weekdays at 3:30 p.m. on 57.2. WATC TV 57 original production.

Thursday, June 11, 2015 on 57.2:

Why is it always mothers in law fighting with daughters in law not fathers in law fighting with sons in law? From Biblical matriarchs fighting with their maids, to the Real Housewives on TV to the women on the PTA at our kids' schools, it seems women have a harder time getting with each other than men do. Why is this and how does it affect our faith? Panelists include Jessica Quinn, Gavin Adams, Shelley Hendrix and Kelly Ingram.

With airbrushing of pictures, lip synching and auto tuning music, how do we know what is real? Are our Facebook profiles our real selves? We watch the Kardashians life as if it were our own, but is that real? In an age when it is hard to know what is real and what is false, how do we discern what is really real? When it comes to spiritual issues, can we believe what others say? Can they believe what we say? Panelists include Jessica Quinn, Gavin Adams, Shelley Hendrix and Kelly Ingram.
