April 1, 2014 – June 30, 2014

Topic: Autism and Autism Awareness Month

During 2nd Quarter 2014, WATC presented programming that educated the public on the growing issue of autism. April is Autism Awareness Month and a special emphasis was placed on programming that addressed the topic during the month.

Atlanta Live

WATC's flagship program airing live weeknights from 7:00 – 9:00 p.m. with an encore presentation the following weekday morning from 7:00-9:00 a.m. and again from 4:00-6:00 p.m. on 57.2.

Tuesday, April 1, 2014

Shelley Hendrix and Dr. Trudy Simmons hosted this edition of Atlanta Live. Guests included Sandi Marcus sharing about being the mother of an autistic child and shared about the work of Autism Speaks. She shared how April is Autism Awareness Month. 20 minute interview within the two-hour program.

Friday, April 4, 2014

Pastor Leroy Doe of Concord Baptist Church in Atlanta, Georgia hosted this edition of Atlanta Live. Guests included Jenean Douglas from Atlanta, Georgia, author of From Darkness to Light. Jenean shares her personal struggles with raising twin boys both diagnosed with autism after a personal and painful divorce from her husband. She now encourages others with a message of hope. 20 minute interview within the two-hour program.

Tuesday, April 8, 2014

An encore presentation of Atlanta Live with host Bishop John Wesley Pace. Guests included YouTube sensation Christopher Duffley, along with his mother Christine and sister Grace. Christine shared the story of Christopher, an autistic child, and how his gift opened the door to share their story to so many through Know Greater Love Ministries. Christopher shared two songs and the family shared in a 20 minute interview.

Tuesday, April 22, 2014

Hosts Jennifer Eichelberger and Samantha Cardwell talked with David Greene and Kinderia Williams, also known as Nu Purpose, about their music ministry and about their personal experience with autism. Their son is autistic and this has led them to launch a series of awareness campaigns, community rallies and seminars, especially during Autism Awareness Month. 20 minute interview as well as several musical selections were featured within the two-hour program.

Kim Gravel in the ATL

Series of fifteen minute programs that air Thursdays at 6:15 a.m. and two back-to back episodes on Fridays at 10:30 a.m. on 57.1 and filler programs on 57.2. Host Kim Gravel. WATC TV 57 original production.

Friday, April 11, 2014

Autism is the fastest growing serious developmental disability in the world, impacting 1 in 88 children according to the CDC. Author D'Ann Renner knows all about the struggles of having a special needs child. She draws from that experience in her novel Dancing From the Shadow which focuses on how to find a balance in a life she cannot control and embrace a different concept of normal.

Various times following movie presentations on WATC TOO (57.2) during April

Temple Grandin is one of the world's most accomplished and well-known adults with autism. She encourages parents to not only focus on their autistic children's weakness, but to embrace their strengths – strengths that may have remained unknown without the advancement of modern scientific knowledge.

Friends & Neighbors

This half hour program features hosts Sherry Tatum, Donna Ritchie and Kelly Ingram. The series airs weekdays at 6:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. and on Saturdays at 8:30 a.m. WATC TV 57 original production.

Thursday, April 24, 2014

Kelly Ingram and Sherry Tatum talked with the Duffley family: You Tube sensation Christopher Duffley, along with his mother Christine and sister Grace. Christine shared the story of Christopher. By all accounts, Christopher didn't have a fighting chance. Born in May of 2001, Duffley's biological parents tested positive for Oxycontin and cocaine, contributing to a premature birth. Weighing in at less than two pounds, Christopher was born permanently blind (detached retinas), along with a myriad of other health problems, requiring a seven-month hospital stay.

Initially placed in foster care, Christopher's aunt and uncle soon took him in as their own, eventually adopting him at the age of 2. As if his existing health problems weren't enough, Christopher didn't speak in full sentences until the first grade and was later diagnosed with autism.

Despite the challenges, Duffley's adopted parents (who are devout Christians), didn't lose hope or waiver in their faith. And as the years passed, they would discover that Christopher displayed tremendous giftings in music. Particularly fond of Christian praise and worship songs, Christopher is now in high demand to perform at churches, sporting events and other venues.

Duffley's story is an amazing testament that no matter how challenging one's situation may appear, there will always be silver linings in the midst of the obstacles and pain. In fact, Christopher's parents have used his story to advocate on behalf of pro-life groups to show that what society would often consider "damaged" or unwanted, is actually something to be considered very special.

In addition, WATC and WATC TOO aired public service announcements for Autism Speaks and other similar organizations addressing the issues related to autism.

MOST SIGNIFICANT TREATMENT OF THOSE ISSUES

April 1, 2014 – June 30, 2014

Topic: 8-1-1 Call Before You Dig Program

During 2nd Quarter 2014, WATC worked in conjunction with the Georgia Association of Broadcasters to educate viewers about the importance of calling before you dig to prevent injuries. WATC produced a fifteen minute program with interviewer Michael Vallone talking with spokesperson Cliff Meidl about the dangers of not calling before you dig. Cliff's bio is featured below. Original air dates were Friday, June 13 and Friday, June 20 at 10:45 am and additional times on WATC and following the movies on WATC TOO (57.2). Cliff's story is listed below

When American kayaker Cliff Meidl led his United States Olympian teammates onto the field at the Opening Ceremonies of the 2000 Sydney Olympic Games, nearly two billion viewers around the world were watching this young man from Manhattan Beach, California. Many of these viewers learned of Meidl's courageous rehabilitation and recovery from a tragic construction accident that occurred in 1986.

Meidl had jackhammered into three buried power lines that sent approximately 30,000 volts of electricity shooting through him. Meidl suffered a cardiac arrest and was "gone" for more than two minutes before medics revived him. That powerful jolt was enough to kill several men, but somehow Cliff Meidl clung to life. "I guess I just had more to do in my life" he recalls.

Meidl endured a total of 15 surgical procedures within a year and spent several years on crutches while he worked toward rebuilding his life. The accident disintegrated one-third of both knee joints and severely burned his back and skull. In addition, the accident nearly forced the amputation of his legs. However, Meidl was able to save his legs through an innovative surgical procedure that graphed portions of his calf muscles for attachment onto the remaining knee joints.

After Meidl's knees had sufficiently healed, he used physical therapy to overcome his injuries. At first, Meidl turned to canoeing and kayaking for the therapeutic value. However, he quickly excelled in these sports and thrived on his ability to compete with others in an equal setting. As a result, he threw himself into an aggressive weight lifting and conditioning regimen that enabled him to compete at the highest level. After years of hard work and dedication to his new sport of flatwater kayaking, Cliff began to make his dream of becoming an Olympian a reality.

In 1995, Meidl won a gold, silver and bronze medal in his kayaking events at the U.S. Olympic Festival in Denver, which became a launching pad toward his Olympic dream. As they say, the rest is history. Meidl made two U.S. Olympic teams, a feat that only fifteen percent of all Olympians accomplish and, more importantly, he has inspired a nation in the process. Today, the 46-year-old financial analyst is enjoying his passion--inspiring audiences. He is now sharing his inspirational story with diverse audiences all across the U.S.

Meidl has served as the national spokesperson for the Construction Safety Council and has recorded several national public service announcements and videos featured on television & radio stations across the United States. In addition, Meidl also served as national media spokesperson for the Electrical Safety Foundation International. Today, Meidl is the national spokesperson for the One Call Centers of America- a national alliance of State "call be you dig" organizations.

Finally, Meidl is the proud recipient of a number of prestigious awards for courage. He received the ARETE Award, the Philadelphia Sportswriters' Courage in Sports Award and the "Patsy Choco Award" from the Los Angeles Marathon. In 2003, Cliff was selected as an initial Olympian honoree of the Olympian Heroes series that features 20 of the most inspirational U.S. Olympians.

Meidl is also involved with his community as a Board Member of the El Camino Community College Foundation and also partners with various community foundations such as the Southern California Special Olympics and Why Can't We Make a Difference.org. Meidl received a Bachelor of Science degree in Finance from Cal State University Long Beach and has an MBA Degree from the University of Southern California. During the 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing, Meidl represented the U.S. Olympic Team as Team Leader for Flatwater Canoe & Kayak.

Right Now with Jennifer Schuchmann

Half hour series with host Jennifer Schuchmann and a panel of guests. Aired Thursdays at 11:30 p.m., Fridays at 11:30 a.m. and Saturdays at 12:30 p.m. on 57.1 and Weekdays at 12:30 p.m. and Sunday afternoons at 3:30 p.m. on 57.2. WATC TV 57 original production.

Monday, May 19, 2014: WATC 57.2 Airing

Topic: Homelessness. Have you ever seen a homeless person on the street and wondered what you should do? Do you feel guilty if you walk by without doing anything? Maybe you've been told not to give panhandlers money but what if they really need food? What should our response be to homelessness when it's in our face and on our street?

Jennifer Schuchmann talked with Jessica Quinn, Gavin Adams, Mitchell McGhee and Mo Isom.

Thursday, June 5, 2014: WATC 57.2 Airing

Topic: Dependence. As Americans we value our independence but it seems that we're still very much dependent on the people and the things around us. When is dependency good and when does it hurt us? What does it mean to be totally dependent on God? Panelists Pastor Gavin Adams, Jessica Quinn, Karen Anderson, and Teisha Moseley.

Friday, June 6, 2014: WATC 57.2 Airing

Topic: Suicide. Recently, Rick Warren's son committed suicide and Rick and his wife have bravely come forward to talk about it. Most of us know someone who has taken their own life. In fact, 38,000 people die by suicide each year. That's more than the number of people who die from murder or war. And it's twice the number of people who die from HIV/AIDS. For Christians it's an important topic which is why it's being discussed. Panelists Dr. Reggie Anderson, Gavin Adams, Jessica Quinn and Mishael Porembski.

Monday, June 9, 2014: WATC 57.2 Airing

Topic: Heaven on Earth? Can we experience heaven on earth? If so how? We'll explore some of Dr. Reggie Anderson's personal stories as well as those of his patients to see what we can learn about heaven. Panelists Karen Anderson, Dr. Reggie Anderson, Jessica Quinn and Gavin Adams.

Tuesday, June 10, 2014: WATC 57.2 Airing

Topic: The 411 on Dying. Are there preparations we should make for our or a loved ones death? Organ donation, DNR, financial arrangements, etc? What should we expect when a loved one dies? Are there spiritual preparations we should make? Panelists Jessica Quinn, Mishael Porembski, Gavin Adams and Jessica Quinn.

Monday, June 16, 2014: WATC 57.2 Airing

Topic: Addicted to Love. Studies show that 16% of Americans are addicted to alcohol, nicotine or other drugs. But there are other addictions, such as being addicted to love, that can take over someone's life. Jennifer Schuchmann talked with panelists Dr. Mark Crawford, Joanne Brown, Gavin Adams, and Lisa Cheater.

Tuesday, June 17, 2014: WATC 57.2 Airing

Topic: Equally The Unequally Yoked. You find the man or woman of your dreams and they share your morals and your faith and you get married to live happily ever after. But what happens when your spouse changes religions or goes from having lots of faith to none at all? Jennifer Schuchmann talked with panelists Gavin Adams, Jessica Quinn, Joanne Brown and Dr. Mark Crawford.

Wednesday, June 18, 2014: WATC 57.2 Airing

Topic: Questioning Authority. When, if ever is it okay to question authority? As parents we hate it when our kids question ours, but don't we want to be able to ask our bosses anything without getting in trouble? When is the right time to question authority? And is it ever okay to question God? Jennifer Schuchmann talked with panelists Gavin Adams, Mo Isom, Jessica Quinn and Mitchell McGhee.
