Description: People there will soon vote on a more than $94 million dollar school bond. If passed, the bond could bring improvements to facilities across the district, including some new schools. Monday, the district held a town hall meeting to give the community a voice, as well as answer any questions they had. The bond includes two propositions. The first proposition includes more urgent needs, such as replacement of aging buildings. The second proposition included renovations to the athletic complex and the construction of a multi-use facility. Some are questioning a bond deficit that already exists, calling this proposition a want, rather than a need. One resident led the charge in opposition, calling the bond impractical, saying maintenance is key.

Description: The heat is nothing new for East Texans, but some are finding rather interesting ways to keep cool this summer. Some turn to a window AC, while some rely on central air-conditioning. However, just in case that is not a possibility, you channel your inner-redneck, and make-do, the way grandma and grandpa did. One of the more popular red necking cool tools is a makeshift air conditioner, using a cooler filled with ice or frozen water bottles, with a fan connected to a battery that pushes the air through the cooler and a vent hose coming out the other side. It is also extremely important to drink a lot of water during these hot months.

Date: 8/17/2016
Duration: 1:35

Description: Millions of Texans load up and move across the state each year, and debris from those loads will end up on Texas Highways if they aren't properly tied down. Anna Wiernicki is in Austin with more on the deadly consequences when a piece of junk ends up on the road. We've all seen it happen: A mattress or a piece of junk falling out of a car. A new study by the American Automobile Association found more than 200,000 crashes caused 39,000 injuries and more than 500 deaths. In Texas, 37% of deaths related to unsecured loads are caused by people swerving and over-correcting. Texas Law says that it's a misdemeanor crime if you have items falling off your vehicle, and is punishable by a fine up to $500 dollars.

Description: It's that time of year again when you set your alarm, make the kids lunch, and send them on their way to the bus stop. It's our job as a community to make sure the kids are loading and unloading the school bus safely. Some people get in a rush trying to make it to work in the morning while at the same time buses are picking up the kids for the school day. When behind a bus, it's important to stay patient, and don't pass. It is illegal to pass a bus from behind, and the oncoming lane must stop when the bus uses it's flashing lights and stop sign as well. Officer dark, says the exception is when there's a concrete barrier or a median of grass in between the oncoming lanes. She says there's nothing new with this, it's been a law for a long time, but she says people either forget it's against the law or they just aren't paying attention.

Description: A growing problem in Nacogdoches is tire dumping. Tires are a major fire hazard, so the state doesn't allow people to throw them away at landfills. We're told, many people will try to dump tires in a ditch or creek because properly getting rid of them is too much work. The City of Nacogdoches is trying to put a stop to this and they are on a campaign to formally educate people about the proper way to dispose of unwanted tires. You can turn in your old tires at a tire dealer, but you will typically be charged a fee. If you are caught illegally dumping your tires, you could get slapped with a $2,000 fine.
