Our state's always had the most producers. But, even though much of the state received more rainfall this year, total cattle inventory is still down. Total numbers fell by 600,000 head from 2012 to 2013. That shortage is pushing the commodity to a premium. But Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association says even with record prices the entire industry is hurting.  |

Experts expect a continued uptick in employment. Economists say they're expecting good numbers. Our country reportedly added more than 200,000 jobs in October. If that holds true, the unemployment rate would remain unchanged at 5.9%. Although the unemployment rate is down, analysts say there are other indicators that point to some weaknesses in the labor market. This includes the quality of jobs and lower wages. |

| KETK TodayEast Texas Live  | 5:00am6:00am11:00am | 11/13/14    | 7 minutes 15 seconds | You'd be surprised at the amount of money just waiting for someone to pick up. It runs into billions of dollars across Texas. So how can you collect unclaimed assets? Across the state, nearly 4 billion dollars of long-lost or forgotten property, remains untouched. This money is left sitting in the treasury unclaimed by its rightful owners. Wednesday, Smith County hosted an event to help east Texans reclaim money from this database. Just in Smith County, residents have 16 million dollars in unclaimed funds. Fortunately, there is no statute of limitations for how long the property can sit unclaimed. |

According to Triple-a, the average price in America for a gallon of regular fell to $2.79. Analysts forecast prices will continue to fall and could get as low as $2.50 a gallon. Cheaper gas may be a factor in why more Americans are feeling better about the economy overall. In a recent poll 52 % think things are going very well or fairly well in the country now. It's the first time a majority of Americans have felt that way in eight years.   |

This according to a report from a complete college America. Just 19 percent of full-time students earn a bachelor's degree in four years at public universities. Out of nearly 600 public, 4-year schools, only 50 graduate a majority of their full-time students on time. Some reasons students take longer is they can't register for required courses, credits get lost in transfer, and some students take too few credits per semester. |

But with everyone out and about, theft is always a huge concern. Thanksgiving weekend kicks off retail's most competitive season. According to the National Retail Federation, 140 million people across the country will head out to shop. This is up from 92- million that shopped last year. This means that if you're one of those shoppers, you're a tempting target for burglars. The Better Business Bureau says an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. The Tyler Police Department warns theft, often happens quickly. The bureau says many times, a thief will strike at night. Especially on busier shopping holidays like Black Friday. They warn that one common mistake shoppers make is walking alone to and from stores. |

Kamau Bell, and Laura Krafft.

DATELINE NBC - LISTINGS

Friday, October 3 at 9pm/8c: "The Wire" She was a beautiful, young nurse, dedicated to helping the most vulnerable patients: premature babies. It was Southern California in the Summer of 1979 and that nurse, Lynne Knight, worked hard... and played hard, too. Volleyball, water skiing, snow skiing, running, you name it and Lynne was doing it, often surrounded by a bunch of male friends and boyfriends, whom the pretty, athletic nurse couldn't help but attract.

So why would anyone want to harm Lynne Knight? Kill her so savagely inside the tiny studio apartment she called home in Torrance, California? The evidence police collected from the scene was scarce – a torn necklace and a weapon, called a garrote. DNA testing didn't exist yet, so police had no forensic clues to guide them to a killer. And so, years – decades – passed with no convincing leads in the case. Then, 20 years after the crime, a cold case detective picked up the dusty murder file and decided to try again. Witnesses had died, memories had faded. Would he be able to fit together the old, worn pieces of this brutal crime, crawl inside the mind of a monster and finally figure out who killed Lynne Knight?

Friday, October 10 at 9pm/8c: “While She Was Sleeping” A wealthy resort town is in shock when Nancy Pfister is found dead in her Aspen, Colorado home. She was a well-known member of the glamorous community, having grown up in a prominent Aspen family. So who could have committed such a crime? Keith Morrison reports.

Friday, October 17 at 9pm/8c: “The Carrollton Plot” “Friday’s all-new two-hour Dateline NBC report takes place in Carrollton, Texas – just north of Dallas – the unlikely location of a violent crime: Nancy Howard -- a mother of three -- was shot in the head in her garage.

Miraculously, Nancy survived, but lost her left eye. The investigation into who was behind the brazen shooting uncovered a complex murder-for-hire plot involving a tangled web of colorful characters from East Texas, wire transfers... and a mysterious man named “John”. Andrea Canning reports.

Friday, October 24 at 8pm/7c: "Mystery in Orange County" A young Army veteran disappears in Orange County before her college graduation. Massive searches turn up nothing, but detectives do find a clue: a cryptic call to 911 that helps uncover the truth and exposes a twisted story of unrequited love. Josh Mankiewicz reports.

Friday, October 31 at 8pm/7c: "Secret Lives" When a young mother and wife disappear two weeks before Christmas, detectives uncover surprising secrets of betrayal in a small upstate New York town. Does her online life hold the key to this mystery or is the answer closer to home? Andrea Canning reports.

Friday, November 7 at 8pm/7c: "Someone Was Out There" Violent crimes committed a year apart against two women from the same church in a small town leave police in a desperate race for answers. When a photograph suggests that the cases may not be a coincidence, authorities are determined to try to connect the dots. Keith Morrison reports.

Friday, November 14 at 8pm/7c: "The Root of All Evil" A young real estate investor and father is found dead in the kitchen of his Jonesboro, Arkansas home. Who could have committed such a crime? Keith Morrison reports.

Saturday, November 15 at 8pm/7c: “The Mystery on Bridle Path” Keith Morrison reports on the murder of beloved college professor, mother, and artist Carol Kennedy. It is a case so unbelievable that it shocked even those most closely involved. Keith Morrison reports.

Friday, November 21 at 8pm/7c: “Mystery on the Early Shift” When a wife and mother is found dead in a Kentucky warehouse where she worked, investigators discover a small number of employees on site at the time of the murder. Detectives soon zero in on one person of interest, but can they connect him to the crime? The final suspect after the investigation speaks out for the first time on Dateline. Josh Mankiewicz reports.

Saturday, November 22 at 8pm/7c: “A Sister’s Search” Actress Aasha Davis and her sister Lesley move to Hollywood. Life is good until one of them goes missing. Dateline NBC’s Josh Mankiewicz reports.

Friday, November 28 at 8pm/7c: “Death in the Driveway” In a quiet Southern town, police find a prominent lawyer brutally murdered and his girlfriend bound in duct tape. Investigators pursue a long list of leads, until they zero in on a surprising suspect. Andrea Canning reports.

Friday, December 12 at 8pm/7c: “Poison” When a newly married couple comes down with a mysterious illness, the wife is hospitalized but both recover. Months later, the wife has the same strange symptoms and when she dies, family and doctors are left puzzled. The case goes cold for years until investigators listen to old recordings that reveal the twisted truth. Josh Mankiewicz reports.

Friday, December 19 at 9pm/8c: “In the Dead of Night” A retired police officer’s family visit over the holidays ends in tragedy when his son-in-law is found dead on the kitchen floor. Was it suicide or murder? Keith Morrison reports new details in a case that has taken many twists and turns.

Friday, December 26 at 9pm/8c: “The Secrets of Cottonwood Creek” Leslie and Fred Mueller were married for nearly 27 years with three grown children. During a weekend away, an afternoon hike ended with a tragic drowning. It would take more than five years and hundreds of pieces of evidence to try to solve the mystery. Andrea Canning reports.
