Dear Traffic Manager:

The Ad Council has sent you Caregiver Assistance PSAs digitally via Extreme Reach.

Care for yourself and your loved one.

The COVID-19 pandemic has exacerbated the stress, isolation, and anxiety that many caregivers face while caring for a loved one. During Mental Health Awareness Month in May, help caregivers better care for their loved ones and themselves by running PSAs that encourage them to visit AARP.org/caregiving for free mental health resources.

Log in to approve and download this important campaign message and show your support by running these PSAs in donated media space. Live Announcer Copy is also available following this notification. Thank you.

You get their prescriptions. You make their lunch. You call their doctor. Maybe even do their laundry. You try to give them every minute you possibly can. But do you try to take a minute for yourself?

When you help care for a loved one, you work hard to make sure they're safe and comfortable, but it's just as important to remember that you find some time to care for yourself.

AARP can help with information and useful tips on how you can maintain a healthy life balance, care for your own physical and mental well-being, and manage the challenges of caring for a loved one.

Because the better you take care of yourself, the better care you can provide for your loved one.

You're there for them. And AARP is here for you.

Find free Care Guides to support you and your loved one at AARP.org/Caregiving.
