EDUCATION

“Education Matters” – Trauma-Informed Schools Part 2

Air Date: 04/02/23 and 04/09/23 08:00AM 30 Minutes

Nearly $\frac{2}{3}$ of adults report experiencing at least one adverse childhood experience, or ACEs, which can have negative impacts including health problems, mental health issues, and learning difficulties. Mental health support for students is critical. Now, more than ever, we as a state need to invest in our children and provide them with the services they need. To see what a trauma-informed school looks like and what they are doing to help students, we visited Tramway Elementary School in Sanford, NC, in Lee County Schools to learn more. Our guest host who visited the school this week is Tom

“On the Record” – North Carolina School Voucher Program

Air Date: 04/30/23 08:30AM 30 Minutes

The landscape of K thru 12 education in North Carolina could soon change considerably. House and Senate Republican leaders in North Carolina are on track to expand the school voucher program — or opportunity scholarships. A new bill would more than double the size of the state’s school voucher program, from its current level of about 200 million dollars a year to some 500 million by 2032. The arguments for and against the expansion are complex. WRAL goes On The Record to explain what this change would mean for every student in North Carolina.

Host:

“On the Record” – Republican Strategy for 2024

Air Date: 06/11/23 08:30AM 30 Minutes

The calendar says 2023, but politically, it might as well be 2024. The presidential race is loping toward its first turn. Three Republican candidates are in town this weekend for the state Republican Party’s convention. President Joe Biden was here Friday. North Carolina won’t just be big in next year’s presidential elections, it may be huge for control of Congress, because Republicans here will redraw the congressional map this year, tilting those races, potentially adding enough Republican-leaning districts to keep or expand their party’s control of the U.S. House. WRAL State Government reporter
