“Leandro: The Case for a Sound, Basic Education” (WRAL Documentary)

Air Date: 03/19/22 01:00PM 30 Minutes

The Leandro case has been going on for nearly 30 years in North Carolina, but many people still don't know what it's about. The landmark education case was filed in 1994 by five poor counties who said they couldn't afford to give their students an adequate education. The lawsuit is still going on, the problems in those districts have gotten worse and many blame politics. WRAL documentary producer Cristin Severance and photojournalist Jay Jennings traveled across the state and interviewed dozens of people to understand the case, why you should care about it and why there may finally be a resolution in 2022.
