Description of Issue	Regular Program	Air Date	Time	Duration	Narration of Type and Description of Program/Segment
Veterans	News	6/07/23	9-10 am	:25	Plans are in the works for a new park in Madison County that will be dedicated to veterans. Commissioners have approved a long-term lease to the local VFW post on the property for the park. It will be located in Marshall on Medical Park Drive. The park is still in the design phase, but officials said it would ultimately be a place where the community can celebrate and honor current and former armed forces members.
Animal Shelter	News	6/13/23	9-10 am	:20	After years of struggling with limited space, Rutherford County is getting a new, larger animal shelter. A 9,000-square foot facility will go up across the street that is being paid for largely grants, not local tax dollars. County Commissioners approved the funds with a bid of 3.7 million dollars to replace the current shelter built in the 1970s.
Environment	News	6/21/23	9-10 am	:25	Asheville is known for its pristine waterfalls and a committed group of waterfall lovers are making sure it stays that way. The nonprofit group is called 'Waterfall Keepers' and its mission is to protect and preserve our waterfalls by getting the community, including kids, involved. The program is free for kids of all ages and the goal is to ensure that our kids can enjoy the waterfalls in the future as much as we do now. At last count, there are 330 adopt-a-waterfall participants taking care of 235 waterfalls.
Youth Sports	News	6/28/23	9-10 am	:20	Crossfire Ministries opened its 33 rd summer of basketball camps today in Hendersonville. Randy Shepherd and Jamie Johnson started it and still lead it today, teaching fundamentals and instilling Christian principles. Around 25,000 kids have taken part, just as big of a reason why it's still going on as the two men who had the idea back in 1990.
