MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS/CRIME/LEGAL/LAW ENF	5/25/2022	6PM	8 Minutes	PBS NewsHour	News	Investigators looked for a motive Wednesday in the elementary school shooting that killed 21 people, including 19 children, in Uvalde, Texas. Gov. Greg Abbott said the gunman had shared messages about his intentions on Facebook shortly before the attack, while calls grew in Washington and elsewhere for changing gun laws. In Uvalde, the community grieved after devastating loss. Amna Nawaz reports.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT:	5/25/2022	6PM	6 Minutes	PBS NewsHour	News	Many prior efforts to pass new gun laws have hit a wall in the U.S. Senate and in some state legislatures. The National Rifle Association, or the NRA, has been a major part of those debates, particularly at the federal level. Mike Spies, a senior writer at The Trace who covers the NRA, joins John Yang to discuss.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS/CRIME/LEGAL/LAW ENF	5/25/2022	6PM	6 Minutes	PBS NewsHour	News	The Uvalde massacre is leading to tough questions all over again about how adults should talk to children about these shootings. Dr. Melissa Brymer, director of terrorism and disaster programs at the UCLA-Duke University National Center for Child Traumatic Stress, joins William Brangham to discuss.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS/CRIME/LEGAL/LAW ENF	5/25/2022	6PM	5 Minutes	PBS NewsHour	News	Two years after George Floyd's death, President Biden on Wednesday signed an executive order aimed at overhauling policing practices. Among other actions, it revises use-of-force policies for federal law enforcement agencies and creates a national registry of officer misconduct. Christy Lopez, of the Georgetown University Law Center, joins Geoff Bennett to discuss.

MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS/CRIME/LEGAL/LAW ENF	5/25/2022	6PM	8 Minutes	PBS NewsHour	News	Wednesday marks the second anniversary of George Floyd's murder at the hands of police in Minneapolis. His death touched off protests and a global movement for racial justice. Fred de Sam Lazaro reports on a new book, "His Name Is George Floyd," which examines Floyd's life and America's ongoing struggle with systemic racism.
ENVIRONMENT/SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE:	5/26/2022	6PM	5 Minutes	PBS NewsHour	News	China and Russia on Thursday blocked a U.S. attempt in the United Nations Security Council to punish North Korea for testing missiles that are banned by previous resolutions by the council. North Korea's tests this week of ballistic missiles, including one that Pyongyang says can reach the east coast of the U.S., coincide with its first major outbreak of COVID-19. Nick Schifrin reports.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT:	5/26/2022	6PM	5 Minutes	PBS NewsHour	News	The attack at the Uvalde, Texas elementary school has once again raised questions about how to prevent the next tragedy. A bipartisan group of lawmakers met on Thursday in Washington to discuss what, if any, potential solutions could earn 60-votes in the Senate. Carl Hulse, chief Washington correspondent for The New York Times, joins Judy Woodruff from Capitol Hill to discuss.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS/CRIME/LEGAL/LAW ENF	5/26/2022	6PM	6 Minutes	PBS NewsHour	News	The horror of what happened in Texas is leaving yet more families, friends and community members grieving and reeling over the loss of loved ones. It is an experience that many survivors and families know all too well from previous attacks at Sandy Hook, Aurora, Parkland, Columbine and too many others to count. John Yang talks about that with Aalayah Eastmond, a survivor of the Parkland shooting.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS/CRIME/LEGAL/LAW ENF	5/26/2022	6PM	11 Minutes	PBS NewsHour	News	There were growing concerns Thursday about how police responded to the deadly elementary school massacre in Uvalde, Texas that left 21 people dead, 19 of them children. Police indicated the school doors may have been unlocked when the gunman entered and that he managed to stay inside for an hour before he was killed. Amna Nawaz reports from Uvalde.
