Kingswood Rummage Sale – Produced by Stephanie Rissler

The Kingswood Rummage Sale has celebrated its 30th birthday and is the largest organized rummage in Sioux Falls. Entire streets are lined with sales; there are food vendors and some people set out ATMs. It's a great example of Re-use and Recycle. Thousands of people from surrounding areas (including IA and MN) attend the event each year. There were over 400 families participating in sale last year. Find out the history of the event, why do they go through all the trouble?

Bio-Control Agriculture – Produced by Brian Gevik

Department of AG is participating in a bio-control program which introduces insects to an area to help control different types of weeds etc. There is a dig in April for Purple Loosestrife roots. This is the start of raising the Galerucella (leaf feeding beetle). The bugs will be raised at the SD Human Service Center...appears they will also be working with Leafy Spurge and Knapweed.

SD Critters – 1203; SD Sea Monsters

From Dr. James Martin, source for Badlands Doc: I am excited about the possibility of a program on the marine reptiles of South Dakota. When I return to SD, I would like to meet with you and give you an idea of the diversity of specimens and how the story could unfold. We could run the gambit from the ferocity of these large reptiles to mothers with their babies. I already have some excellent paintings of what the critters looked like, and if we need something more, I have a good friend who may be able to help.

The program is hosted by Larry Rohrer, who transitions between the segments with additional information for the viewers and informs where and how they can learn more about each segment.

Zoo Camps – Sioux Falls-Segment 1

Every summer, the Great Plains Zoo and Delbridge Museum offer a variety of Zoo Camps for kids ages 2 – 11. “The cornerstone of the Zoo’s mission is to connect kids with animals,” says Elizabeth A. Whealy, CEO and President of the Great Plains Zoo and Delbridge Museum of Natural History. “What better way to accomplish that than to allow kids to touch a tortoise or feed a llama while they learn about the world around them. ZooCamps and ZooClasses provide a unique opportunity for kids to learn about the animals in a fun, interactive approach, we hope the education we provide ignites a lifelong interest in nature and conservation.” Class Examples: Escape to Africa, Is Your Mamma a Llama? And Tortoise Trickster. Producer: Stephanie Rissler

Bringing Back the Bow-Segment 2

Bringing Back the Bow is a group of unpaid volunteers who provide positive role models while working one on one with Native American children for a week long camp of traditional bow and arrow making and learning horseback archery. The bow camp brings together Native American elders and Native American youth promoting traditional values of respect, honesty and courage. Through these teachings they will gain a better understanding of their culture and language allowing them to reach their highest potential and change their lives. This year's camp will be held on the Cheyenne Sioux Reservation from June 8th through 12th in Eagle Butte, South Dakota. Producer: Eka John

Raku Pottery Workshop-Segment 3

Beresford Raku is a type of pottery that resembles Japanese tea pottery. To achieve that look, pottery must be bisqued and glazed. Artists can apply horse and buffalo hair to pieces. The firing process is immediate and very dramatic. All pieces will be fired the day of the workshop. Workshop will be held April 15th and kilns will be set up around 8:00 AM. Both Beresford high school and elementary will be involved. Producer: Melissa Hamersma Sievers
