January 13th, 2019 Ohio Department of Health 30m

Seasonal influenza, also known as the flu, is an illness that causes fever, headache, tiredness, cough, sore throat, nasal congestion and body aches. It is usually spread from person to person by coughing and sneezing. Flu season in Ohio can begin as early as October and run as late as March. However, it is not uncommon for sporadic cases to appear all year long.

January 20th, 2019 Topic: The State of the City Address

Mayor Andrew Ginther explains “I am constantly amazed at the diversity of the residents of this great city. Almost 250,000 residents are African-American, 103,000 are foreign born, 53,000 are Latinos, 41,000 are veterans and 38,000 identify as LGBTQ. Our population continues to get younger – the median age is 32. But more than 65,000 children under the age of 5 and more than 86,000 senior citizens also call Columbus home.” The City of Columbus is preparing for the State of the City Address and wants to inform listeners on how they can partake.

February 3rd, 2019 Topic- The Jefferson Awards: Community 30m

The Jefferson Awards are presented by WBNS-10TV, Schoedinger Funeral and Cremation Services, and Lifeline of Ohio to recognize individuals who do extraordinary things in their community without expecting anything in return.

Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis and Senator Robert Taft, Jr., of Ohio created the national Jefferson Awards in 1972 to highlight the works of unsung heroes. Television stations and newspapers across the country tell the positive stories about these volunteers and motivate individual responsibility for civic and neighborhood improvement.

Our local Jefferson Award finalists and winners come in all shapes and sizes ... from the 12-year-old who collects books for children who don't have any to the senior citizen who visits military veterans in hospitals. You know someone who goes all out to make life special.

Nominate that person for a 2019 Jefferson Award.
