Often this means providing funding for children over time and even assisting financially during the child's college years. He gave information for those wanting to donate to the non-profit organization, and also how to become a member of this exceptional group that does such terrific work in our community.

In our ongoing effort to serve the public interest, WIXV-FM broadcasts programming responsive to issues of concern to Savannah, GA and the surrounding service area. Following is a list of those issues, and of the station's most significant programming treatment of them.

OCTOBER 5, 2014

Our guest, Ms. Saralyn U. Argrow, the executive director of AWWIN, INC. (Assisting Working Women in Need) gave us insight to her organization that she founded in an effort to ensure that low income single, working women become self-sufficient, utilizing existing community resources as a vehicle of hope to transform their lives and ensure a prosperous legacy for themselves and their children. A highlight of the discussion was a special fundraiser the AWWIN Pink "Fashion With A Purpose" fashion show to benefit breast cancer research.

OCTOBER 12, 2014

This was the second part of the show featuring Ms. Saralyn U. Argrow, the founder and executive director of AWWIN, INC. in order to further promote the special fundraiser, the AWWIN Pink "Fashion With A Purpose" fashion show to benefit breast cancer research scheduled for the following Friday, October 17th.

OCTOBER 19, 2014

In the first of a two part interview, Donna Watson, breast cancer survivor, advocate for Breast Cancer Awareness Month and Breast Cancer Research joined us to discuss the impact of breast cancer on women and their loved ones, and some of the special programs in place to help them in their fight against Breast Cancer. Ms. Watson described, as a breast cancer survivor herself the devastation, determination, and ultimate triumph of her journey as well as the many she has given support and comfort to through her work with local cancer institutes and hospitals.

OCTOBER 26, 2014

In an effort to emphasize support for Breast Cancer Awareness Month, a second interview with Ms. Donna Watson, breast cancer survivor, advocate for Breast Cancer Awareness Month and Breast Cancer Research was aired with more of an emphasis on early detection and pro-active self examination in the battle against breast cancer.

NOVEMBER 2, 2014

The Bomber Girls of the Coastal Empire joined us to talk about their mission to support our military and their families through various events and fundraising efforts. This motorcycle club does an outstanding job raising money and awareness for our military, including a significant role as a part of our local Veteran's Day Parade. One of the Bomber Girls, "Stormy" was our guest and gave insight to this organization whose main mission, as a club, is to send care packages to our service members overseas, and the work that goes into that such as fundraising, shopping, packing, transporting and shipping.

NOVEMBER 9, 2014

lisa Scarborough, the president and founder of Coastal Pet Rescue joined us shortly after a new adoption facility of theirs was vandalized. Because of their work in our community in rescuing animals, providing brief interim shelter and helping to find adoptive homes for pets, many caring individuals and groups came to their aid financially from our community in hearing of the news of the crime, and provided funding to replace and repair portions of their facility. Future fundraising events and opportunities for volunteer work were discussed as well.

NOVEMBER 16, 2014

With the approach of Thanksgiving, we were pleased to have as our guest Ms. Mary Jane Crouch, the executive director of Second Harvest of Savannah. Ms. Crouch detailed the non stop work done by Second Harvest to address hunger in our area and gave information on the many factions of the organization and their continuing efforts to provide food for those in need as well as ways to help through volunteer work and donations.

NOVEMBER 23, 2014

In an effort to further emphasize the need to bring awareness to those who suffer from hunger, at this important time of the year, and encore presentation of our interview with the executive director of Second Harvest of Savannah was aired.

NOVEMBER 30, 2014

Ms. Sherrie Harris, the executive director of Crimestoppers was our guest and offered great insight as to how the program works. She stressed the great lengths they go to in providing unparalleled secure venues for providing tips and information that could lead to the arrest of those wanted for crimes in our area. In addition, she gave specific information about current cases being worked on so that the listener could help in providing any information they may have while underscoring the trust of maintaining anonymity during the process.

DECEMBER 7, 2014

Mrs. Gina Bilbo, the director of Public Affairs for the Chatham County Sherrifs Office was our guest. She discussed many of the branches of the Sherrif's Office and the work they do from helping to guide people back into society as productive citizens to delivering Christmas gifts to the needy, and many of the ways that people can volunteer or intern in an effort to pursue a career with the Sherrif's Office. She also gave the listeners many tips on how to stay safe, alert, and avoid being a victim of crime during the holiday season.
