Hello,

My name is Stacey Kim and I am currently a junior at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. I currently have a track that I would like to release on WPGU, but I was confused if once it's released it would be only to create a buzz about the artist and the song or would the artist get paid each time the track is played on the radio? My purpose is not to make profit and therefore my ultimate goal would be merely to let my song be heard. If this aligns with WPGU's regulations please let me know. Thank you for taking the time to read this email.
Have a great rest of your day.

Sincerely,
Stacey Kim.

Thank you!

Hi Curtis and Grace,

I am reaching out because would love to coordinate a WPGU on air interview for the director or actress from the film Not Waving But Drowning - hopefully next week. If it helps you to select the DJ at all, the director is available most days BEFORE 11 AM EST.

The film will be at the Savoy 16 IMAX theaters on Mon April 22 7 PM, and Thurs April 25 5 PM. Tickets can be purchased here on the Goodrich Quality Theaters Website, <http://www.ggti.com>.

The thing that is really cool about these screenings is they are pre-release, so Champaigne is getting a little sneak peak at the movie before it's available to everyone else! I think you will enjoy checking out our Tumblr here for some photos, video clips, quotes etc: <http://nwbdbmovie.tumblr.com/>

Film Title: Not Waving But Drowning

Synopsis: Leaving smalltown life in her dust, Adele moves wide eyed to New York City, and her best friend Sara stuck in their hometown. Separate for the first time in their lives, the film charts new relationships with boys, girls and eccentric old ladies. Beautiful music sequences capture fleeting emotions as their lives move in unexpected directions.

The film is opened with The Most Girl Part of You a dark, but sweet short film, based on an Amy Hempel short story.

Cast: Vanessa Ray(Pretty Little Liars), Megan Guinan, Adam Driver (GIRLS), Lynn Cohen(Hunger Games 2), Isabelle McNally, Lili Reinhart

Hi Cherie!

Thank you for your interest, however - WPGU 107.1 is not currently hiring. We just finished up our spring hiring session last month. You also need to be a current University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign student to work at WPGU 107.1.

However, we always hire across multiple departments (engineering, production, on-air, web, marketing/promotions) at the beginning of the summer and fall semester.

Look out for WPGU 107.1. Info Nights (for the summer, probably the last week of May / beginning of June) or Illini Media Info Nights the first week of the fall semester 2013.

Thanks again for your inquiry! Hope to see you at our info nights in the future!

Hello!

My name is Cherie Kamide and I'm a prospective journalism student. I'm still very uncertain about what kind of environment or position I want to work in post graduation, but I listen to your station everyday at the bookstore where I currently work and I think about the amazing opportunity it'd be to be able to have a glimpse at what working in a radio station would feel like. So, I just wanted to ask to see if there was a position available at the station, I'd really be up for anything. I've written for a newspaper before and I was once a photo editor for one as well, but even if you need someone to do janitorial work I'd be willing to do that too!

You can contact me via e-mail or telephone: 630-441-0843

Hello,

I was just wanting to inquire about possibly submitting music to your radio station. I manage an up and coming artist and we are greatly interested in gaining some airplay. First off, does your station play pop/electronic music? It has a hip-hop influence to it as well. I know some stations have a very specific standard for the music played, so I just want to make sure my artist's music will stand a chance at being aired before we submit. If it does, how would we submit it? Does it have to be in a hard copy CD or is there a way we could send you the song files via e-mail? Thank you so much in advance and we look forward to working with you. I hope you have a wonderful day!

Hi Curtis:

Liz Smyth had your job about 2009-10 I think. She works at WXRT in programming. I always liked her--very down to earth, focused, common-sense.

She sent me this email last night and I promised I would share it and encourage discussion about it. In fact, I hope you reach out to her about it. Besides, she would be a great contact for you to have.

I expected some complaints about the Hooters thing. She is realistic about it. Most of the women working here probably are. But I imagine some people cringed a little when they saw the FB posts.

Not giving you grief--just another valid point of view.

Let me know if you have questions.

Hi Nancy! I hope you don't mind if I share a couple of thoughts with you--- PGU is in my blood for life I guess :)

Today WPGU showed up in my Facebook news feed, and I was pretty disheartened by what I saw. An album was posted with numerous pictures of Hooters waitresses sitting in the studio--- some photos featured men hanging out outside the fishbowl, the ladies posing with male employees/students, and the ladies sitting with their feet up in the air studio. As a former WPGU Program Director and woman in the broadcast industry, I believe this Hooters feature disrespects the Illini Media legacy.

I should be clear- I do not take issue with anyone who chooses to work at Hooters, or even WPGU taking advertising money from Hooters (to some extent).

What I do take issue with, is the message that this post sends to female members of the Illini Media staff and the Illinois student body as a whole. The University of Illinois is over 50% female, and yet WPGU has never been anywhere close to a 50/50 gender split on staff. Particularly with management positions, PGU has been male dominated. This post was clearly aimed at objectifying these waitresses, and I can't see any place for that in a learning institution.

I'd like to think that PGU could be a place where young women learn broadcast skills alongside the men, possibly management skills, and focus on music and/or news programming content. This place of learning could strive to surpass sexism/objectification (as many legitimate radio stations do), for at least a few hours a day during college. Inevitably, they will get to experience plenty of that objectification out on Green Street any given night and when they enter the real workforce.

Thanks for your time! Hope you are well!

Let me thank, on my own and my colleagues working in the office of a small company, all employees of your radio, for the excellent work. All day I spend at the computer, often listen to your radio station. Always interesting to hear what is happening in neighboring countries. Hard working days, your radio is helping ordinary office manager to work out all week and on Friday evening when labor weekdays have been completed, your radio is helping to distract from the work. But in our country there is no opportunity to see small souvenirs with logos of your radio, pens, neck strap, gadget, stickers, t-shirts, hats & visors, hook, carbine... all that can remind me of your radio. I am writing to request you to send me if you have such a product with your logo, if it does not entail significant costs for your radio. I would be very grateful.

Dear Ms. Levant,

My name is Max Ellithorpe and I am a graduate student in political science at the University of Illinois.

When I was driving to CRCE this morning, I heard an advertisement on WPGU for Drew's Pizza. The ad simulated two guys taking bong hits of marijuana, talking about being "baked" and having the "munchies", and mentioning a special 4/20 discount at Drew's Pizza. While nobody has control over Drew's Pizza's pot-themed business model, I find it slightly ridiculous that WPGU would choose to air such suggestive advertising. Despite the fact that our society has certainly moved towards acceptance of marijuana, it remains against the law. I hope that you take action to remove this advertisement from Illini Media's ad sales program.

Thank you for your time.

Best wishes,
Max Ellithorpe

Hello, my name is Chris Carter and I was wondering how I can get my band, Lunar Light Parade, considered for rotation on WPGU! We are an up and coming Colorado band, and we heard of your station through a friend in Urbana. Please get back to us with what we can do.

Much of our new material is on soundcloud for free download.

Thank you for your time and consideration!

Band Bio:

Lunar Light Parade is the culmination of long-time friends, Chris Carter and Marshall Cremeens, two young men who formed the band in 2009 over a mutual passion for pop rock and electronic dance music. Influenced by diverse artists such as Gotye and Depeche Mode, the duo set out to combine melodic pop music with a dance-rock edge, with the intent of creating original alternative pop. With Chris on vocals, guitar and programming, and Marshall on vocals, bass and keyboards, the two musicians began to write and record music together, thus forming a cohesive songwriting team capable of producing unique and catchy songs. The blend of Chris' shimmering guitar and Marshall's charging bass set against a backdrop of thumping beats and thick synth textures creates a sound unto itself yet highly accessible. Having already released their debut album Reconnection EP, Lunar Light Parade are currently writing and recording songs for a full length album.

I'm following up to see if you have received the package Be Easy Music sent regarding our newest band, Taj Raj. If you have received the package we hope you have checked out their music and that you enjoy it as much as we do!

Their new album Fine Hearts Alive has caught a lot of attention from Minneapolis radio stations 89.3 The Current, where they are based. Songs such as "Romani" have been featured on their station and their album has received a positive write up which you can read below on the top link. Along with radio station recognition, their latest video for the song "Pollice Verso" is garnering buzz with over 2k views in its first week of release. We would love it if you took the time to check out this video, which we have attached for you below, as well.

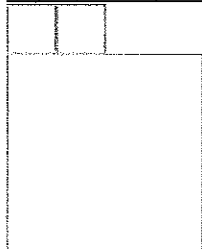

We at Be Easy Music are proud and excited about our newest band and we hope to hear feedback from you soon! Thank you for your time.

Hello Again,

Last year, the Corvette Club of Illinois raised over $9000 for the efforts to end domestic violence and family abuse in our area. We did this by sponsoring a fall golf outing - one that your station helped us promote. With the demise of government support, this critical work will get done only if we somehow raise the funds to make it happen. So, to get participants signed up during summer, we are once again releasing PSAs and asking for your help.

Please find attached: One 60 second PSA, One 30 second PSA, and live copy for both. These are current now through September 5th. We desperately need the help of radio broadcasters like you to publicize the summer registration period for this event. We are a non-profit organization without any significant ad budget. We push every cent we can (100% of net) towards our charity.

Can we count on you again? Sincerest thanks for all you've done in the past.

Our best,

Steve

Hi my name is Carl Rosenberg, I am a sophomore here at U of I and this semester I switched majors to Broadcast Journalism. When talking with my advisor about good clubs or activities to do to gain more experience in the major he recommended a few activities but what stood out the most for me was when he mentioned the WPGU radio station. I have always loved a wide variety of music, and I have media production experience from high school. I was wondering what opportunities there are available for students. Thank you.

Hi! My Name is Paul Rodgers and I am very interested in working for your establishment...WPGU 107.1... I am a 21 year old student at Parkland Community College in Champaign, Illinois... I am at a point in my life where I am really passionate about music and want to make my way into the music scene and hopefully be a famous alternative rock musician someday... I really love alternative rock...my favorite bands are NIN, RHCP, Foo Fighters, Filter, RATM, LP, The Cure, Switchfoot, Coldplay, Nirvana, Soundgarden, Pearl Jam, Audioslave, TODD, Beastie Boys, Flyleaf, No Doubt, The Smashing Pumpkins, Weezer, Three Days Grace, The Police, STP, Alice in Chains, Garbage, Bush, Collective Soul, The Cranberries, Metallica, Third Eye Blind, and many others... I would like to be the best DJ or worker at your establishment...heck I will be a janitor and clean up the place if you want me to... kinda like how Trent Reznor made his way into the world of music...he started out as a janitor at a recording studio, got a chance to make some demo tapes, got a contract and started his music career like nobody else has done in such dramatic fashion...MTR is my hero and I think I could do a lot of good for your company...Thanks for reading... Please contact me by e-mail or phone...my email is prodgers222@yahoo.com and my phone # is 1-217-552-0753 (Cell) or 1-217-356-3319 (Home) Thanks...

Hi Courtney,

My name is Tommy Campbell, I'm a Freshman here at U of I and I got your email address off of the website. I was just wondering what it would take for me to maybe get a job down at the station. I have always had an interest in working in a public radio station and when I went on the website it said to contact you. You can contact me at this email, I was just wondering if there are any requirements or applications I needed to fill out, and if you all were even looking for new students to work.

Thanks!

Tommy Campbell

Hello!

My name is Angela, and I am very interested in getting involved with WPGU 107.1 FM. I was wondering how I can get involved or whether you were taking any new people for Spring semester at all. As a marketing major, I really would like the opportunity to gain experience in radio broadcasting. If you could help me out, I would greatly appreciate it.

Thank you,
Angela Yang

Hello Courney, my name is Dennis Austin. I was accepted into the University of Illinois last month for the upcoming semester but delayed it until the summer for personal reasons. However, the reason for me contacting is being involved with WPGU is because I would honor the opportunity to Anchor/host the January 21st Inauguration of Barack Obama. Now as someone in my situation who has delayed his admission, would it be fine with you and the staff at the station for me and other students at the college to be apart of this historical event. I would love the opportunity to do so, as well as get acquainted with the talented staff there. Thank you for your time and have a great semester.

Also, I have radio experience as I'm currently anchoring a news program for an hour a day and hosted a 3 hour weekly broadcast for 3 years in High School. I have served as Editor-In-Chief of my schools newspaper and have reported on issues regarding Don't Ask Don't Tell, Obama's economy, AIDS in America and a whole host of subjects both on print and radio. Thank you for your time.

Sheila,

I was again forwarded your message regarding our Smashed Cash show. I'm sorry to hear that you were disappointed in the promotion. I will remove your entry from the drawing per your request. But, I do want to have the chance to clear up some of what you've described here.

The Smashed Cash promotion was designed and executed by our promotional staff for the217.com. None of the work was done by radio station staff. Any information you may have received about station staff being involved was simply untrue.

We would certainly hope that our promotional staff told their friends about Smashed Cash. We are really excited about it here and hire student promo staff so that they will likewise get their friends excited about the things we do. The staff that hosted and filmed the cab sessions, however, did not have a choice in who participated. The "pick ups" were in the hands of the taxi driver whose business we were disrupting. Contestants did not have to purchase a cab ride to play. Once they were in the cab, they were told that they had the chance to be filmed and win cash and their ride for free. We did have contestants refuse to be in the video. You would obviously not see these contestants in the edited video.

The editing of the video was done by the production manager of our creative department. This is an adult staffer that I don't believe knows the host, the videographer, or any of the contestants. She chose the clips that fit together, were framed and lit the best, and would make the most funny video. We filmed six hours of video to produce a 3 minute piece. We definitely did cut a lot of what was filmed, and held some back for future episodes. But, I can assure you that the cuts were not made for any of the reasons you've described.

So, a little "behind the scenes" for you. Again, I'm sorry that you've come away from this with bad feelings.

Sincerely,

Dawn Longfellow

To whom it may concern,

I wanted to let you know that I registered for the Cash Cab drawing, for all it is worth. My reason for my words is that I was very disappointed to hear that the actual cash cab nights out were not based on random pick ups, they were friends and acquaintances of your staff, that were doing the interviews. Your staff made phone calls and lined up the people being picked up. I think its kind of crappy, that you advertise to people that they have a chance to win ,if they pay to take a cab on the designated dates. People from Gibson City ran up to the campus, just for that reason. Another thing is the editing of the tapes, you didn't put the one, of the friend of your radio station personnel, that they put up to coming on to the cab driver..Shame on your station for these kind of actions. Take my name out of the drawing, I don't want any part of such deception.

Disappointed,

Response: The radio station had to ok the publicity, they were only in the cab for a total of 1 1/2 hours, for all 3 days, so your 6 hours of filming is VERY incorrect, and phone calls were made to people to be ready to be picked up, with the exception of 2 pick-ups. They told the cab driver where to go, it was NOT up to him. So ,leaving it at that, I have the facts straight, you do not. S. Keesey (no response necessary)

Courtney--

Just writing to log my disappointment, along with many others about the music WPGU is currently playing. I used to listen to the station all day by streaming it at work, keeping it on in my car and even listening on my ipod. Now I can't listen. I wake up this morning, go the the217.com and see that the latest songs are Everclear, Alice in Chains, Rise Against, Temper Trap (OK), and Candlebox (WTF?) I quickly open my Itunes and flip in on shuffle.

Please bring back The National, Arcade Fire, Fleet Foxes, and the artists I haven't even heard of yet but I used to hear for the first time on WPGU. This is a college town. People crave quality music. WPGU can provide it. There are other stations for No Doubt, Linkin Park and Candlebox. I don't know if we can go back but I hope so. Thanks for reading my message.

Thanks,

Hi Courtney, I wanted to contact you and let you know my total distress at the recent formatting changes at WPGU. WPGU used to be a great station, one I would tune into on all my drives, one that consistently played music I like and occasionally turned me onto something new. Since the new formatting has gone into effect, I've found the station all but unlistenable.

It's a complete shame to waste such talented DJs on such mediocre music. I've heard from countless people over the last two months who are sad to have to change their dials and won't listen to WPGU anymore. I hope your staff will consider reinstating the old music rotation to avoid losing your listening audience.

I am not a fan of the heavier and older music line up 107.1 is transitioning to. Although much of it is of my generation, I have always enjoyed 107.1 as the progressive music station in town. I am looking for on line streaming alternatives at this time. Please reconsider the direction the station is taking.

Dear Mr. Hasenberg,

My name is Scott Harrison, and I'm a PhD student at the University of Illinois.

I listen regularly to 107.1. I've been alarmed lately at just how 'not-alternative' the station has become. A group of friends and I have been keeping track of what you play and the following artists comprise the list:

Blink 182
Coldplay
Switchfoot (bordering on Christian rock)
Audioslave
Kings of Leon (cool band, your station seems to only play their singles)
Mumford & Sons
the list goes on...

I assure you that none of the above-mentioned acts are alternative. There are a host of strong college radio stations playing new, diverse, and culturally-significant music. Why does 107.1 not do the same?

Finally, why don't any of the DJs include hip-hop in their rotations? Frankly, it sounds like you have a group of suburban kids playing boring, suburban kid music over there.

Yours sincerely,

Scott Harrison

Not trying to complain but Is WPGU intentionally moving toward becoming a 90's rock station? The last few weeks have featured increasing doses of No Doubt, Bush, Candlebox, Collective Soul, Goo Goo Dolls, Linkin Park, Red Hot Chili Peppers, Green Day, Stone Temple Pilots, Offspring, Third Eye Blind and such. Seems like you used to be heavy on current indie/alternative music mixed with a few classics like Blondie, Bowie, and maybe even a little Velvet Underground mixed with a few of those 90's hits. Now it seems like it is about a 50/50 mix of 90's and current alternative/indie. Is this an intentional direction and will it continue to go this way? I am hearing a lot more No Doubt, Everclear and Chili Peppers and less Fleet Foxes, Wilco and Arcade Fire. This is concerning to me.

Thanks,
Ryan

Mr. Erik Hasenberg,

While listening to to WPGU the last few weeks, I heard several advertisements for the bikini contest at Joe's. While I ignored them at first, I found the degradation of women that your station so easily displayed on air to be too much. Despite the quality music played on your station, I can no longer listen to WPGU. Sorry, if you aren't the right contact person, but I couldn't find a good spot on your website to voice my concern.

If possible, check out our music on Airplay Direct and please consider us for a few plays your station. Not exactly the type of stuff that gets played on a regular basis at PGU, but it might fit into one of the specialty shows. Any play or mention would be greatly appreciated, even if it's only in the couple of weeks leading up to the Streetfest.

Thank you very much for your attention.

Hello Erik,

My name is Donald Placek and I'm currently a junior studying Industrial Engineering. I first took interest in WPGU this past February while walking by the station while you guys were playing Gold Soundz by Pavement, which I'm not used to hearing at college at all, let alone on the radio. After tuning in at home and hearing the types of stuff you guys play, I contacted Nick Jones about pursuing a job with WPGU. He informed me that you were full for Spring, but I should look into employment for this summer or fall. I actually just got back down to Champaign this weekend and I wanted to see if you did indeed have positions for new people. Ideally, I'd like to do DJ'ing, but I understand that is probably your most requested position and I would love to hear other possibilities for work as well. Any information on how to pursue this would be much appreciated.

Erik,

As you most likely know, I am riding my bike cross country this summer in support of Cancer Research with the Illini 4000. We are going to be having a benefit show at Cafe Paradiso on Friday April 29th from 7-10pm featuring some local bands. Seeing as I have worked for WPGU for my entire college career, I was hoping that it would be possible to gain some WPGU support and possibly have a live read written up about the event and promoted with help from the DJ's. If you are able to help us out by typing up a live read, we will in exchange, be able to feature the WPGU logo on our website, <http://illini4000.org/>, you can see the logos of our supporters scrolling at the bottom. This would be a huge favor to me and also to the organization!

Hello Erik,

My name is Hayden Cler and I play in a band called That's No Moon. We played a show sponsored by WPGU. It was with the Village and the Withershins. Since the show we've had various people from your station contact us about a CD. Yesterday we came into the station and turn a few in (the staff was very friendly and helpful by the way.) We have posted on our websites and such that you can request our songs. Do you know when the songs will be available for request? What must one do to get their music in regular rotation ? Thank you so much for your time.

Rock,
Hayden

Hello,

I'm contacting you on behalf of Interfaith in Action, an RSO on campus. We are trying to raise money in order to help alleviate hunger and poverty in our local community. We're planning on supporting a packaging event that directly benefits the Eastern Illinois Food bank. In order to achieve this goal, we're trying to put together a benefit concert for the end of the semester.

I'm wondering if you might be able to point me in the direction of local groups that would be interested in participating. If necessary, we'd be able to pay but our funds are limited. Ideally, we'd like a group that's willing to play for free so as to give back to their community.

Thanks for your help!

The old days at WPGU

Hello from FL...

As I mentioned, I worked at WPGU in '61. Spent way toooooo much time at the station and my grades (or lack therefore of) reflected it. This is when WPGU moved from the huts on what was the parade grounds unit (Hence the call letters - - PGU) to the basement of Weston Hall....and we went from being a closed circuit station, only heard in the dorms and Newman Hall, to FM!! After that, I went back to Chicago for a year at Roosevelt University (the only college that you could claim you were late for class because the elevator broke down) and finally finished by undergraduate work degree at Saluki-land.

After graduating from SIU in '66, I returned to Illinois for grad work and once again went to work at WPGU. I was on the air as a DJ and newscaster and, at the same time, was selling commercials for WKID, an MOR station at 1580. Eventually, I became the Information Director in charge of news and sports at PGU. My wife and I lived in Champaign. She taught in Danville while I worked in radio.

It was a fun time with a wide variety of music...broadcasting in every sense of the word.

More to come at a later date.

Have an eventful evening...
