Protect Yourself	FOX45 News at Eleven on ABC	10/2/2017	11:05p.m.	.90	She shared exactly what she witnessed with us but we also talked with a fighting backed expert who explained in an active shooter situation why you have to keep moving and get to anything that can cover or conceal you as fast as possible. We got back to our hotel room and there were police there, Janet Eby, Eaton resident was in Vegas. There was a gal sitting with a bandage on her ankle we later found out she was one who had been shot. We facetimes with Janet Eby from Las Vegas, it was supposed to be a fun weekend away with friends from Eaton. We looked out on the Mandalay Bay all the time and the Country Concert we could hear it from up on top of our hotel. They were on a bus passing by the Mandalay Bay when the shooting happened. The Marriott Hotel on the strip was on lockdown and victims were being treated in their hotel lobby. The solemnness of everyone on the strip is like nothing you have never experienced. Bill Parsons is a former Dayton Police Officer with experience in Private Security. What is difficult about an active shooter who would have that high ground advantage is it eliminates a lot of what would have been good cover or concealed areas. He said the shooting seemed disorienting for concert goers to figure out where the bullets were coming from, but said if you take one thing away when a shooter is active move fast and cover. Today Vegas Security is air tight, from their hotel room they can see suspect Stephen Paddock's window. Parsons also said there is an acronym you can used called the "OODA LOOP". Observe, orient, decide, and act, to figure out your best plan of action in an active shooter situation.
Donte Murphy Sentenced	FOX45 News at Eleven on ABC	10/11/2017	11:06p.m.	.31	A former Ponitz Coach and Teacher's Aide sentenced today for having an inappropriate relationship with a student. Mr. Murphy is there anything you wish to tell the court before I proceed? No thank you your honor. Donte Murphy had nothing to say for himself before being sentenced to 5 years' probation. He was convicted of 3 counts of sexual battery, tampering with government records, and forging his teaching certificate. He had a consensual relationship with the 18-year-old student but since he is a teacher it is a crime. Murphy coached track and cross country.

FBI Raid	FOX45 News at Eleven on ABC	10/19/2017	11:02p.m.	.49	You can't see the house from here, it's behind these woods. This road, Schnebly, just reopened. Deputies say they expect it to stay closed through the night as agencies check every inch of the home. More than 170 weapons, hundreds of thousands of rounds of ammunition, all found during a 2015 raid at this house located sat 2302 Schnebly Road. Today agents with the ATF and FBI are back. Nancy lives nearby stopped by the barricade. "I've never seen anything like this ever." Behind bars is 48-year-old Joel Montgomery, booked on federal firearm and embezzlement of government property charges. Neighbors tell FOX 45 agencies started arriving here around 9 on Wednesday night, before this nothing out of the ordinary. A spokesperson with the FBI says the search was authorized by the court. We also reached out to the U.S. Attorney's Office. A spokesperson says right now there is no public court findings Nancy and other Spring Valley residents are anxious to find out what happened. "I mean it is just a quaint atmosphere around here. You know these people don't lie, they take care of each other."
Wrong Way Driver	FOX45 News at Eleven on ABC	10/30/2017	11:02p.m.	.90	You guys have seen these usually in parking lots like the one here at the Centerville Police Department. They would be put on the off ramps supposedly catching wrong-way drivers. Blowing out their tires Odot tells me tonight there is no possible way they would work. A Driver's worst nightmare, seeing someone's headlights facing you on the freeway. "Car going in the wrong direction. He came directly at me." That 911 call from Richard Newland who earlier this month saw 69-year-old Melvin Bonnie go up the off ramp at I-675 and Far Hills Road. Bonnie was one of two killed after hitting two other cars. I-675 wrong way drivers are Deja-vu for drivers who remember this tanker explosion on I-75 in April. A car was going down the highway the wrong way and on social media people telling Fox45 there are sick of seeing these scenes Matt Bruening with ODOT says the same. "We're frustrated and tired of seeing these things on the news too. It certainly is not what we intend our freeway system to operate like." Drivers have been asking ODOT for years what about spike strips designed to pop the tires of wrong way drivers. Just put them on the ramps. It sounds good in theory, but Bruening says, "These are devices that just don't work for this application." Here is why, there is no system for speeds over 5 miles per hour. The strips not guaranteed to pop wrong-way tires for people going highway speeds, in fact they might pop the tires of right way drivers because of constant use. They also aren't compliant with National Safety Standards. Test show even when the strips slashed tires they didn't deflate quick enough to stop drivers from getting on the interstate. Bruening says, "Really the issue for us is not so much what to do, it is where to do it." There are on and off ramps statewide. Meaning it is a needle in a haystack. Last year we had 30 crashes total. They have already increased signs and striping statewide at the off ramps. They're also looking into a new system that would trigger flashing lights when someone goes up the wrong way.

Little York Flooding	FOX45 News at Eleven on ABC	11/6/2017	11:06p.m.	.49	This is how high tree water was. I'm told a tree fell across the levy in this backyard and the water backed up within minutes. None of these homeowners had flood insurance because they were told they didn't need it. When the unbelievable happens, time seems to stand still. Chelsey Anello says, "We're just not sure what we are gonna do. It's just devastating right now. We just didn't even know where to begin, where do you start, you know." Trying to sort through water soaked rooms, wondering what do you salvage, what do you set aside? "We've had stuff forever that we now have to carry out and put in a pile that we call stuff because it's too hard to call it trash." Water from the creek out back started rising fast after a tree fell and blocked the levy. Within half an hour Alvira Avenue was covered. Across the street cars stalled out, next door an elderly couple rescued and recovering, down the street more residents left with little options. The flash flood is a flashback for a family who went through this exact same thing 24 years ago in Florida., and their lifetime investment gone. This house was just paid off, now they will have to start over. These residents tell me both the county and township say they can't do anything to help. They are hoping to file a claim with FEMA or get some help under Emergency Disaster Assistance.
Red Light Camera	FOX45 News at Eleven on ABC	11/13/2017	11:04pm.	.45	Eye opening new numbers tonight from Dayton's controversial traffic camera program. In the first month 2 cameras have issued 18,000 warnings. 70% of drivers passing by these cameras were caught speeding, thousands got warnings and the message is loud and clear, slow down or pay up. If you've got a lead foot you may also want laser focus to spot these sneaky traffic cameras. Rob Eller says a lot of drivers are in trouble here on James H. McGhee Boulevard. Hi is a cautious driver with a clean record but he is still uneasy, seeing big brother write tickets. This is one of two mobile traffic cameras operated by Dayton Police. The other trailer is on Riverside Drive. The goal of the program is to reduce speeding, reduce crashes and save lives. In October, more than 380 thousand drivers passed by one of these cameras, 70% were speeding of those nearly 18 thousand got warnings. Every single violation is looked over by a police officer before it is sent out as a violation. This month drivers are getting tickets costing $85. October's warnings would have earned the City of Dayton 1.5 million dollars. This is just the beginning, Dayton plans to add 5 permanent cameras. Lamar Davis says go for it. He has seen too many crashes on James H. McGhee and says drivers need to come to their senses. I think it is good, it'll slow down the drivers you know and keep the street safe. Whether you agree with them or not, only time will tell if they are making a difference. Officers review every potential violation and they only issue a citation if there is clear evidence a driver is breaking the law.

Tyra Patterson	FOX45 News at Eleven on ABC	11/20/2017	11:05p.m.	.80	Tyra Patterson was handed a life sentence for the 1994 murder of 15-year-old Michelle Lai, but she is innocent and was recently granted parole. Four other people were also convicted of the murder Tyra told us, she never lost hope someone would come forward and stand by her innocence. We talked about the night of the crime and how she got tangled up with police and what she will do when she leaves prison in just a few weeks. She has never talked on television but she's been in the news since 1994 when what she calls a false confession and murder conviction would change the course of her life. Today she is waiting out the final month of her sentence at The Northeast Reintegration Center in Cleveland. I came to prison not knowing how to read or write and I have gotten my 3rd STEAM class engineering license, I'm a paralegal, I have my ALT certificate, which is administrative office technology, I'm a certified tutor. She lived in front of the alley where 15-year-old Michelle Lai was shot in the head, sitting in a car with her sister Holly Lai and friends. There were 4 others there that night, they were all convicted. Tyra remembers being outside smoking marijuana when the group surrounded and robbed Michelle's car. Tyra says she ran home but on her way picked up the damning piece of evidence that would connect her to the scene, a necklace that had been ripped off a victim in Michelle Lai's car. Tyra called 911 then later that day would be interrogated by Dayton Police. Police told her it would be better to admit to robbery than murder, so she did. Tyra was tried and convicted of aggravated robbery and murder and sentenced to life in prison. Twenty-two years later Michelle Lai's sister Holly came forward in letters she wrote to Governor Kasich in 2016. After that other suspects and jurors came forward and The Ohio Justice and Policy Center pushed for Tyra's clemency and for a parole hearing which was granted in October. The Ohio Justice and Policy Center has been the driving force behind Tyra's freedom. She will be working for them as a paralegal and will continue mentoring troubled youth in the Cincinnati area when she leaves prison next month. She also told me the first thing she wants to do when she leaves is eat seafood and put on real pajamas.

Christmas Tree	FOX45 News at Eleven on ABC	11/29/2017	11:14p.m.	.29	Business is booming in The Spring Valley Tree Farm. This past weekend, they've sold around 750 Christmas Trees, and many more people will go home with their perfect tree during the next couple of weeks. Spring Valley Tree Farm is a family business, testing and figuring out what works with our climate and soil features. We can get a traditional, new England fir to grow in Ohio soils and Ohio temperatures and that is why the Canaan fir is so popular. Canaan firs grow fast and as a grower, that is a good thing. Little trees aren't bad, this one is going to be a nice one someday 3 years down the road, maybe. Matt also wanted us to know that trimming the long narrow top off of the tree will not save you money. The trees are designed to have that so it will support your star or angel tree topper. They measure the tree from the stump to the launch of branches.
Greenon Accident Update	FOX45 News at Eleven on ABC	12/4/2017	11:06p.m.	.25	Charges have been filed against an 18-year-old man in connection with an August crash that killed two Greenon High School Students. Trey Blevins has been indicted on two counts of aggravated vehicular homicide and OVI. Blevins has been released from jail on a $50,000 bond. Seventeen year old David Waag and fifteen-year-old Connor Williams were in Blevins car on August 20th. Authorities say Blevins was 3 times the legal limit of marijuana in his system. Five nomograms are the limit and Blevins had nearly 18. Authorities say the teens were not wearing their seat belts at the time of the single vehicle crash.
Family Displaced by Fire	FOX45 News at Eleven on ABC	12/11/2017	11:08p.m.	.25	Weeks before Christmas, a Miami Valley family is homeless after a fire destroyed their New Lebanon home. They're now worried their kids won't have anything to open Christmas Day. Ryan, Jeenniger, and their 5 kids are staying in a hotel they have been there since the end of November, when their home caught on fire. The family was only in their New Lebanon home for a month and they lost everything in the fire. Coworkers started a go-fund me to help get the family through the holiday. Also, nearby family is doing what they can, but the couple is worried about the kids having anything to open on Christmas Day.
Holiday Shopping Tips	FOX45 News at Eleven on ABC	12/18/2017	11:06p.m.	.30	It's the last week before Christmas, and shoppers are rushing to stores hoping to find that perfect gift but as millions head out, thieves are also looking for easy targets. We talked with a self-defense expert for tips on safety this season. Don't pile up the gifts in the front or back seat of your car. It's probably one of the easiest things for thieves to see and steal in minutes. Also, if you are shopping you most likely have all your credit cards and cash on hand. Try to only carry what you need from store to store. Women keep purses close, men keep wallets inside a jacket pocket. If someone approaches you have a plan to fight back. Take a breath thinking targets on the body, easiest is the stomach then groin attacking until the person is down. Experts say the best thing to do is keep your head on a swivel and be aware of your surroundings.

Flu Restrictions	FOX45 News at Eleven on ABC	12/28/2017	11:08p.m.	.25	The flu season is in full swing and things are so bad here in Ohio Area Hospitals are restricting some visitors. Starting tomorrow most hospitals in the area will have signs up asking anyone with the flu or flu like symptoms not to visit patients. The Greater Dayton Area Hospital Association says flu season started early this year and is stronger than in previous years. Children's Hospitals are not included in Montgomery County, 69 people were hospitalized with the flu last week, more than 540 people with the flu were seen by a doctor last week.
