City Council Takes Care of Business at a Busy Meeting

The Taylorville City Council approved an ordinance at their meeting Monday night to amend sections of the City Code in regards to bills for City mowing and penalties. Alderman Bruce Jones thanked everyone who was involved in pulling together the information:

[audio:jonesmowing070213.mp3]comment here[/audio]

The penalty increase for not mowing, cutting and trimming of weeds, grass, or plants will be $250 for the first offense, $300 for the second offense, and $350 for the third. This is in addition to an initial $200 fee that the City charges for having to do the yard work.

A settlement was reached last week in the lawsuit over the Hathaway Homes Project. City Attorney Rocci Romano gave an update on the settlement at the Taylorville City Council meeting Monday night:

[audio:romanosettlement070213.mp3]comment here[/audio]

The settlement agreed upon was $30,000.

Taylorville's Fourth of July Celebration is this Thursday. Mayor Greg Brotherton tells in his update at the City Council meeting what's in store for the day:

[audio:mayorfourthofjuly070213.mp3]comment here[/audio]

Line up for the Parade will be at 9 am at the Christian County Fair Ground and will begin at 10 am. No pre-registration is required.

The Taylorville City Council was presented with a motion to accept the quote of $4,400 to perform work on the mechanical door restrictor and pit ladder for the Municipal Building elevator. However, City Attorney Rocci Romano gave 3 reasons why the Council should not take action on it for now and refer the contract back to the Public Facilities committee:

[audio:romanoreasons070213.mp3]comment here[/audio]

The Council decided to pull the motion from the agenda. Alderman Ray Koonce said he will work with the Mayor to gather that information and present it to the committee.

The Taylorville City Council approved the sale of self-contained bottles of air. They also approved the amending of the City Code in regards to disabled veterans being allowed free access to the handicapped accessible cabin or to an overnight camping site or tent camping site for a total of two weekends each season on a first served basis. The Council tabled the motion to allow Superintendent Dick Wiseman to seek quotes for the removal of four trees on Park Avenue so they can figure out what was approved and what wasn't approved for the removal process. The Council did approve the motion to allow Superintendent Wiseman to contact a heating and cooling company to determine if it is the air conditioner causing the leak in the Municipal Building roof over the Police Department.

The meeting adjourned at 7:37pm.

The Taylorville Park District Board heard about a Tree Keepers program at their meeting Monday night. Barb Grabner-Kerns from Trees Forever explains what the program entails:

Thomas McKinney asked the Taylorville Park District Board at their meeting Monday night for permission to bring his Ice Cream Truck to Manners Park. The Board approved the request as long as he just sells ice cream for now and not drinks because they do not want the possibility of money being taken away from the concession stand during little league season. The Board also heard from Maintenance Superintendent Gary Brown who told them they will be losing their Pepsi machines. Brown said with the amount of machines they had, the cost to maintain them was outweighing the money they were making from them. Brown added he talked to Pepsi about bringing back just one machine next spring and seeing how that works out.

Taylorville City Council Discusses Insurance Requirements for Events at Meeting

There are many events that are held on city property in Taylorville but with those events come questions about insurance requirements. The Taylorville City Council asked City Attorney Rocci Romano his opinion on what they should do at their meeting Monday night:

[audio:romanoinsurance080613.mp3]comment here[/audio]

Again, under Romano's recommendation, event sponsors would need to provide a certificate of insurance, name the City as additional insurance, and sign a document that would hold the city harmless if something happens. Aldermen Rob Heberling and Shawn Burtle said they should continue as planned with upcoming events while the system is being developed. The issue will be discussed further at the next Ordinance Committee meeting.

The Taylorville Police Department has been cracking down on lawbreakers and issuing many citations. However, there are some citations where the element of that offense is unclear. City Attorney Rocci Romano addressed this issue in his update at the Taylorville City Council meeting Monday night:

[audio:romanocitations080613.mp3]comment here[/audio]

This topic will also be discussed at the next Ordinance Committee meeting.

The Taylorville City Council approved the appointment of Kira Propst to the Tree Board. Kira will replace Adam Johnson and serve the remainder of his term. The Council approved the use of the water plant property to be used by the Soccer Club if the city's insurance says they are good to go. The Council approved the motion to allow Acting Fire Chief Mike Crews to begin the process of applying for the 2014 SAFER Grant for one firefighter. The Council also approved the motion to bid and/or advertise to fill a full time dispatcher position at the Taylorville Police Department and to do the same for a part time dispatcher if the position becomes available as they anticipate current part timers to apply for the full time spot.

While the first three passed on an 8-0 vote, the Route 48 barely passed on a 4-3 vote with Alderman Bruce Jones abstaining. Alderman Rob Heberling explained why he was voting against it:

[audio:heberlingroad090413.mp3]comment here[/audio]

Several audience members who live in that area voiced concern about having their property annexed into Taylorville. City Attorney Rocci Romano explained how the process would work if the City took jurisdiction over those roads:

[audio:romanoroadexplanation090413.mp3]comment here[/audio]

Once the information from IDOT is gathered by Romano, the topic will be discussed at a committee meeting and the public will be able to voice their opinions again.

Taylorville School Board Decides to Cut Early Bird Classes at Busy Meeting

Board member Katie Fraley told Frump a tough choice had to be made:

[audio:fraleydecision070813.mp3]comment here[/audio]

After hearing arguments from several other parents, the Board stood by their decision and said this could just be the start of cuts at the high school if the state doesn't right itself. Several Board members recommended going to Lincoln Land Community College or taking classes online to fulfill those extra classes.

The Taylorville School Board was presented with the 2013 General Supply List. Superintendent Dr. Gregg Fuerstenau says they received a donation from Tenaska that helped cut the costs of some supplies:

Taylorville Schools Curriculum Committee Discusses Building Trades at Meeting

The Taylorville Schools Curriculum Committee met Thursday night to discuss the Building Trades Program. Superintendent Dr. Gregg Fuerstenau started off by saying that their top priority is to provide the best education they can:

[audio:feurstenautoppriority.mp3]comment here[/audio]

Dr. Fuerstenau once again reiterated that the program will remain intact this year with the exception of building a house. They are only cutting the house for now while they further evaluate the program.

Member Jim Andruch says it all comes down to the funding that is available:

[audio:andruchfunding.mp3]comment here[/audio]

Andruch added some possibilities for future house projects:

[audio:andruchsuggestions.mp3]comment here[/audio]

Member Katie Fraley pointed out that the $200,000 they have been putting into houses could go towards more pressing needs at the moment such as updating textbooks. Fraley brought in an English textbook that is currently being used by 4th graders that has a copyright of 1989 and is falling apart. She also recommended they send the petition to legislators urging them to address school funding especially in rural areas.

Member David Cowell says they need to look into how to get the most out of the program:

[audio:cowellremodel.mp3]comment here[/audio]

Several audience members, including contractor Alan Collebrusco and two former Building Trades Program teachers, pointed out that remodeling a house is actually tougher to do than building one. They said you need to understand the building aspect in order to remodel a house.

Member David Driskell suggested that the first course serve a pre-req to the building portion:

[audio:driskellprereq.mp3]comment here[/audio]

The Committee agreed that in the future they would look into building a smaller house that would cost much less than the $200,000 they have been spending over the last several years. They also agreed to reinstate an advisory committee that would include school board members, contractors, plumbers, electricians, etc. to help plan future builds.

The meeting adjourned at 7:15pm.
