SYNOPSIS: We all know people who have lost a loved one, or perhaps a job, or spouse in divorce, and we want to comfort them, but we don't know what to say. We talk to two grief experts about just what grief is, and how it affects the grief-stricken person, their family and friends. We'll also hear some advice on what to do and not do when comforting a grieving person.

Host: Christopher Michael. Guests: Dr. Mary Lamia, clinical psychologist and psychoanalyst in private practice in Marin County, CA, author of the books, "Understanding Myself," and "Emotions!" (www.marylamia.com); Russell Friedman, Exec. SYNOPSIS: Have you ever wondered what goes on behind the desk at the major hotels in the U.S.? How come some guests always get the best rooms and service, and you end up in a room overlooking the alley? Why is it that you have to pay for your mini-bar peanuts and some guests never pay? We talk to a hospitality industry insider about his experiences in two large hotels; how hotels figure out who to put where; how the mini-bar and movies work; and how to get the best service from the staff that counts.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Jacob Tomsky, veteran of the hospitality business in hotels in New Orleans and New York City, author of the book, "Heads in Beds: A reckless memoir of hotels, hustles and so-called hospitality," (www.jacobtomsky.com).

SYNOPSIS: Some young students and some older Americans are looking forward to graduating from high school so they can get right into the workforce. These workers would rather have a more hands-on learning experience than 2- or 4-year colleges usually provide. We talk to two men about the alternatives to a college degree: one who says the skilled trades are a great place to start a lifelong, good-paying and rewarding career; the other who took an entrepreneurial approach to his life's work.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Henry A. Kelly, Project Exec. Georgia Power Company, Atlanta, GA (www.gobuildgeorgia.com); David DiEugenio, owner, Cartridge World USA, Gainesville, FL (www.cartridgeworldusa.com/store849)

SYNOPSIS: Girls these days are expected to do so many things: get good grades, excel in athletics, volunteer, be popular and make it into a good college and complete a degree program. This can put a lot of stress on anyone, but our guest says that teenage girls are especially susceptible to pressure and the idea that they have to be "perfect" in everything they do. We discuss how girls can be successful in school and life without over-taxing themselves physically and emotionally.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Ana Homayoun, nationally-recognized educator, speaker and consultant, founder of Green lyy Educational Consulting, author of "The Myth of the Perfect Girl," (www.anahomayoun.com)

SYNOPSIS: The film "Lincoln" has been out for a few months now and by just about everyone's measure it's a blockbuster. The movie just touches on the events surrounding the 13th Amendment to the Constitution that abolished slavery, without going into great detail about the events that led up to the activities in the film. We talk to a historian and author about the film, the men and events that led to the passage of the amendment and how the actors and craftspeople brought the people and the era to life.

Host: Christopher Michael. Guests: David Rubel, historian, author of "A Steven Spielberg Film – Lincoln, a Cinematic and Historical Companion," published by Disney Press, (www.davidrubel.net).

SYNOPSIS: Millions of men and women didn't celebrate Valentine's Day – not because they're killjoys but because their sweetheart dumped them. A romantic break-up can be hard to take, and it can monopolize your thoughts, keep you from working, sleeping and getting on with your life. We talk to two break-up experts about some strategies for coming back from a romantic disaster stronger and wiser for the experience.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Dr. Debora Phillips, behavior therapist in private practice in San Francisco; teacher at three medical schools, author of the newly revised edition of "How to Fall Out of Love," (www.drdphillips.com) Dr. Phillips invites listeners to email her with questions about break-ups at deborap@earthlink.net; Christine Arylo, teacher, speaker and author of the book, "Madly in Love with Me: The daring adventure of becoming your own best friend," (www.madlyinlovewithme.com).

SYNOPSIS: When a loved-one becomes ill, their caretakers can suffer just as much as the patient. Navigating hospital rules and regs; trying to discuss the case with doctors – if you can find them – and dealing with nurses who seem more like wardens, can wear a caregiver out and change them into resentful relatives rather than loving spouses or children. We talk to an author who has been there about how she combined common sense, perseverance and humor to take care of her chronically ill husband in and out of the hospital.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Jane Heller, humorist, novelist and author of the non-fiction book, "You'd Better Not Die or 1'll Kill You: A caregiver's survival guide to keeping you in good health and good spirits," (www.janeheller.com).

1:47	SEGMENT #1 – Seeing vs. Observing: Enriching life by being more observant	10:29

SYNOPSIS: How often do you walk around your neighborhood without noticing what really makes it interesting? Do you know what kinds of trees, wildlife, signage and minerals inhabit your little corner of the world? No? That's probably because you see your habitat, but you don't observe much about it. We talk to two psychologists about the difference between seeing and observing, find out how your neighborhood can become a whole new world if you walk with people with different perspectives, and discuss how anyone can learn to become more observant of their surroundings with company or alone.

Host: Christopher Michael. Guests: Dr. Alexandra Horowitz, psychologist, animal behavior and canine cognition specialist who teaches at Barnard College, and is the author of the book, "On Looking: Eleven walks with expert eyes," (www.on-looking.com); Dr. Duane Jackson, Chairperson of and professor in the Dept. of Psychology, Morehouse College, Atlanta, GA (www.morehouse.edu)

13:19	SEGMENT #2- The Inventor and the Tycoon: The birth of motion pictures	12:09

SYNOPSIS: Watching the Best Picture clips during the Oscars® last month reminds us how technologically sophisticated movies are these days with special effects, gorgeous cinematography and amazing sound. It really wasn't that long ago when just seeing a few pictures move for a very few seconds was as exciting as 3-D movies are to us today. But who made the pictures first come to life? Was it Thomas Edison? Or someone else? We talk to an author about how two very different men - one a millionaire, the other an artist and a murderer – joined forces to make pictures move.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Edward Ball, author of "The Inventor and the Tycoon: A gilded age murder and the birth of moving pictures," (www.facebook.com/EdwardBallAuthor).

1:47	SEGMENT #1 – 1968: The year that changed baseball forever	11:41

SYNOPSIS: Baseball is quite a different game today than it was 45 years ago, when players made middle-class wages, lived in the neighborhoods in which they played and were, for the most part, wholly-owned employees of their team owners. What a difference a season makes! We talk to an author about the events of the 1968 baseball season and how they changed the players, the business of baseball and the country forever.

Host: Christopher Michael. Guests: Tim Wendel, Writer in Residence, Johns Hopkins Univ., author of "Summer of '68: The season that changed baseball and America forever," (www.timwendel.com)

COMPLIANCY ISSUES COVERED: race, politics, recreation, business, media, labor issues

14:30	SEGMENT #2 – New Ideas on Race and Diversity	10:55

SYNOPSIS: Can race be taught as a school subject, like chemistry and foreign language? Are we doing those different from us a disservice by trying to "walk a mile in their shoes" as a way of understanding them? Are news stories giving the public a skewed view of what different factions in society and the world think of each other? Are racial tensions brought about just because of skin color? Or are there other factors in play? We talk to two researchers about the answers to these questions and take a slightly different look at race, ethnicity, religion and how they affect our perceptions of the world.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Lawrence Blum, Prof. of Philosophy, Dist. Prof. of Liberal Arts & Education, University, Massachusetts, Boston, author of "High Schools, Race and America's Future: What can students teach us about morality, diversity, and community," (www.umb.edu); Todd Pittinsky, Assoc. Prof. in the Dept of Technology and Society, SUNY-Stony Brook, lecturer at Harvard Univ., author of "Us + Them: Tapping the positive power of difference," (www.stonybrook.edu).

1:50	SEGMENT #1 - Making Tough Decisions: Inside the Supreme Court	11:55

SYNOPSIS: The U.S. Supreme Court will decide a number of high-profile cases this term, including ones on same-sex marriage, voting rights and election funding. The deliberations of the justices on these and other cases are done behind closed doors, so the public has little to no idea of how they make their decisions. To get an idea of how the system works, we talk to two Supreme Court specialists about how the process works, and look at how decisions were crafted in past cases.

Host: Christopher Michael. Guests: Carolyn Shapiro, Assoc. Prof. of Law, Chicago-Kent College of Law, Illinois Institute of Technology, Dir. of the Institute on the Supreme Court of the United States (www.kentlaw.iit.edu); Marjorie Heins, former civil rights lawyer, Adjunct Prof. at NYU, founding Director of the Free Expression Policy Project, author of "Priests of Our Democracy: The Supreme Court, academic freedom, and the anti-communist purge," (www.fepproject.org).

14:48	SEGMENT #2- The Drunken Botanist: The plants behind popular spirits	10:42

SYNOPSIS: Cocktails are making a comeback, and the distilled spirits that go in them have very interesting and complex histories. We talk with an author who researched how many popular liquors are created, the myths that surround some of them and what fruits, vegetables and shrubs are used in the creation of some of your favorite drinks.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Amy Stewart, author of "The Drunken Botanist: The plants that create the world's-great drinks;" (www.amystewart.com).

COMPLIANCY ISSUES COVERED: agriculture, recreation & leisure, manufacturing, science
