Massive wait times for U.S. passports to be processed	SRN News Reports: Would-be travelers are facing major delays in getting their U-S passports. If you've been waiting a long time to receive your passport, you're not alone. A massive backlog of applications has led to epic wait times for anxious travelers. It's a result of sky-high demand and a lack of workers. The short-staffed passport agency can't handle the half a million applications that flood in every week. According to the State Department, it's on track to top last year's 22 million passports issued.	4 minutes	07/03/23
A prayer for America	On today's broadcast of Love Worth Finding w/Dr. Adrian Rogers, he told how America is at a crossroads of morality and spirituality and we cannot afford to take it lightly. Our nation has been taken captive by the world, the flesh, and the devil. In times of crisis, we remember that our greatest resource is prayer, and our only hope for this country is God. We must commit to pray for America.	25 minutes	07/03/23
Biden to crack down on "junk" health insurance plans	SRN News Reports: President Biden will roll out a new set of initiatives aimed at reducing health care costs. The initiatives include a crackdown on scam insurance plans, new guidance to prevent surprise medical bills, and an effort to reduce medical debt tied to credit cards. The Biden administration plans to limit what it calls "junk" insurance plans, such as short-term policies that can deny basic coverage as people transition between employers.	4 minutes	07/07/23
United States is working to win the release of a detained journalist and other Americans in Russia	SRN News Reports: White House national security adviser Jake Sullivan said the U.S. has been in contact with Russian officials to press for the release of Wall Street Journal reporter Evan Gershkovich. Last week, the U.S. ambassador to Moscow was allowed to visit Gershkovich for the first time since April.	4 minutes	07/09/23
Summer vacations	On today's broadcast, Chuck Bentley of Crown Financial Ministries covered: The memories of holidays at the lake, cookouts, parades, and fireworks are sweet days of childhood. Enjoy your freedoms, your time to relax with family, and the privilege to live for God's eternal purposes. Make memories and enjoy today.	2 minutes	07/11/23

The FDA has approved America's first over-the-counter birth control pill	SRN News Reports: Opill is made by the giant pharmaceutical company Perrigo and it will arrive in your local drug store or grocery in January or February of 2024. It will have NO age restrictions. Pro-life groups are expressing concern about making the drug available without a doctor's prescription and without any limitation on how young a girl can be when she takes it. Advocates warn of health complications as well as moral ones.	4 minutes	07/14/23
When your dream dies	On today's broadcast of Turning Point, Dr. David Jeremiah discusses: Your big dream is almost a reality. Your plans are in place. Your supporters are excited. You're ready to act. And then, you hit a roadblock. What do you do? Dr. David Jeremiah says throwing a pity party is not an option. He offers tools and insight from the life of King David.	28 minutes	07/18/23
The Chinese Communist Party is rewriting the Bible	SRN News Reports: It sounds like a bad joke, but it's true: Chinese officials are working on a version of the scriptures that is subservient to their goals. A sneak-peak reported by Fox News includes a change to the story of Jesus and the woman caught in adultery. In the Communist version, Jesus stones the woman Himself. The CCP also plans to rewrite the Koran, but right now party members are focusing on the Bible — which is seen as the greatest threat to their rule.	4 minutes	07/19/23
7 tech companies agree on AI safeguards	SRN News Reports: Top A-I companies have agreed to safeguards put forth by the Biden administration. Amazon, Google, Meta, Microsoft, and other technology companies have agreed to meet a set of AI safeguards brokered by the Biden administration. President Biden hosted executives from the companies at the White House, where he said A-I offers both promising possibilities and potentially dangerous risks.	4 minutes	07/21/23
How to face challenges	On today's broadcast of Upwards w/Max Lucado, he covered: An Ironman triathlete told me the secret of his success: "You last the long race by running the short ones." In other words, don't swim 2.4 miles; just swim to the next buoy. Never tackle more than the challenge ahead. Face challenges in stages. You can't control your temper forever, but you can control it for the next hour. You last the long race by running the short ones.	1 minute	07/26/23

Always check your source	On today’s broadcast of Insight For Living, Dr. Chuck Swindoll discussed how when people are desperate to find answers to life’s important questions, they will sometimes trust anyone who claims the truth. Today’s shady influencers are skilled at tricking people into believing anything that sounds good or feels right. Why do people do this? Why are the masses eager to follow the latest guru or some expert with secret knowledge? Primarily because of our deep longing for truth.	27 minutes	07/26/23
Some states are expanding their suicide laws	SRN News Reports: Lawmakers in both Oregon and Vermont have dropped the requirement that a person be a state resident before he can seek physician-assisted suicide. That’s seen as a move to attract people from neighboring states where the procedure remains illegal. So far, 10 states offer physician-assisted suicide and pro-life advocates warn that there are groups seeking to expand it further. They nearly succeeded in Nevada, before the governor issued a veto.	4 minutes	07/27/23
Can a robot be a Christian	SRN News Reports: It’s not just a silly question. The Pentagon admits that the day is coming when it will have weapons systems that are guided by artificial intelligence and an Air Force spokesman says those weapons will likely have programming that give them a “Judeo-Christian” value system. Lieutenant General Richard Moore says smart weapons that have to make life-and-death decisions in combat will have to be provided with a moral compass of some kind.	4 minutes	07/28/23
Fed offers little guidance about future interest rate hikes	SRN News Reports: The Federal Reserve boosted interest rates this week, but it’s unclear if more hikes are in the future. On Wednesday, the Fed raised its key interest rate for the 11th time in 17 months as part of its ongoing drive to curb inflation. But chairman Jerome Powell provided little guidance about when — or whether — the central bank might hike rates again. Powell said the economy has proved surprisingly resilient despite the Fed’s rapid rate hikes.	4 minutes	07/29/23

Don't wait for "someday"	On today's broadcast of Upwards w/Max Lucado, he covered: You know there is a time for extravagant gestures. A time to pour out your affections on one you love. And when the time comes, seize it. Don't dismiss it. "Someday" we say, "I'll take her on the cruise." "Someday" we say, "I'll have time to call and chat." "Someday the children will understand why I was so busy." But you know the truth, don't you? Some days never come. And the price of practicality is sometimes higher than extravagance. The seized opportunity renders joy. The neglected brings regret.	1 minute	08/08/23
Inflation Reduction Act's name prompts second-guessing	SRN News Reports: The Inflation Reduction Act's name is coming under scrutiny, even from President Biden. At a fundraiser in Utah last week, the president said he wished he "hadn't called it that," acknowledging that the law would have "less to do with reducing inflation" than other results. When the legislation was proposed, the Congressional Budget Office said its impact on inflation would be "negligible." And Republicans criticized the name, too. Even former Obama economic adviser Jason Furman said he can't "think of any mechanism" by which the law would have reduced inflation.	4 minutes	08/13/23
FEMA pledges help to Maui wildfire victims	SRN News Reports: Federal officials are pledging to help thousands of people displaced by the Maui wildfires. FEMA administrator Deanne Criswell said her agency has started to provide 700-dollars to displaced residents to cover the immediate cost of food, water, first aid, and medical supplies. In addition, there is a FEMA hotel program. In a White House briefing, Criswell said "nothing can prepare" people for the severity of destruction and loss of life — and that the U-S is mourning with the victims.	4 minutes	08/14/23
Conquering through conflict – living in troubled times	On today's broadcast of Insight For Living, Dr. Chuck Swindoll discussed that because tranquil times represent the exception rather than the rule, the Bible focuses most on troubled times . . . telling us how to face them rather than trying to escape them.	27 minutes	08/16/23

Mortgage rates and gas prices bite into Biden’s economy message	SRN News Reports: Mortgage rates and gas prices are two indicators that are biting into President Biden’s economic message. Even though there’s evidence that inflationary pressures are easing, two economic indicators are causing more pain for Americans. Last week, the average long-term U.S. mortgage rate jumped to more than 7 percent — its highest level in 20 years. That’s tough news for would-be homebuyers already facing high home prices caused by a lack of supply. And according to Triple-A, the national average price of gas has increased about 30 cents per gallon over the past month.	4 minutes	08/20/23

The American Medical Association wants Americans to pay for surgeries to transplant a uterus into a man	SRN News Reports: The venerable doctors group says taxpayers should foot the bill for surgeries that would transplant a uterus into a man, who is living as a woman, so that man can give birth to a child. The AMA tells the Journal of Ethics that if men who are living as women cannot give birth, this may cause “psychological dissonance which undermines their health and well-being.” Each of the operations would cost about 300,000 dollars.	4 minutes	08/24/23
The story of Alfred Morris	On today’s broadcast, Chuck Bentley of Crown Financial Ministries covered: Alfred Morris joined the NFL back in 2012 as a 6th-round pick out of Florida Atlantic. He spent 8 seasons as a running back in the pros and earned $8 million. Alfred may be better known for something else though. During his junior year at Florida Atlantic, he bought a 1991 manual Mazda 626 from a pastor for $2. It was his first and only car for years. He drove it through college and took it with him to play for the Washington Redskins. He nicknamed it “Bentley”. No matter how much money he made, or how many yards he accumulated, “Bentley” was a reminder of his roots. Back in 2012, he said, “It just keeps me grounded, where I came from and all the hard work for me to get to this point.” Though he could buy any car he desired, he said he would drive Bentley until she died. He never wants to grow complacent but desires to better himself and those around him.	2 minutes	08/25/23

10 Rx drugs targeted for Medicare price negotiations	SRN News Reports: The Biden administration has released its list of 10 prescription medicines that will be subject to the first-ever price negotiations by Medicare. Drugs on the list include big-selling blood thinner Eliquis, diabetes treatment Jardiance, and eight other medications. The price negotiation process was authorized under the Inflation Reduction Act. A new Wall Street Journal poll shows nearly 60 percent of Republican voters back the former president. That's an 11-point increase since the newspaper's April survey. Trump's closest challenger is Florida Governor Ron DeSantis, who picked up 13 percent. The survey found that Trump's lead over DeSantis has nearly doubled to 46 percentage points. All other GOP candidates are in the single digits.	4 minutes	09/03/23
How to succeed after failure	On today's broadcast of Insight For Living, Dr. Chuck Swindoll discussed the natural response to making a mistake is to cover it up. Most people would rather sweep the broken pieces of a failure under the rug than face the consequences. And yet, the pieces never stay hidden for long. When a failure comes to light, the consequences can be hard to bear. A foul-up on the job may result in being fired. A botched project may forfeit future business. A broken promise may lead to a break-up. Failure is never final. It's never too late to acknowledge the wrong, get up, and start doing what is right. White House on impeachment inquiry: “no evidence of wrongdoing”	SRN News Reports: The White House is pushing back against the House GOP’s impeachment inquiry into President Biden. Announcing the formal impeachment inquiry, House Speaker Kevin McCarthy cited “allegations of abuse of power, obstruction and corruption.” But the White House fired back, calling it “extreme politics at its worst.” Spokesman Ian Sams said, “House Republicans have been investigating the president for nine months, and they’ve turned up no evidence of wrongdoing.” The White House also pointed to GOP members of Congress who have publicly stated there’s no evidence.	4 minutes	09/13/23
A damning investigation of the web’s biggest pornography site	SRN News Reports: Sound Investigations has released undercover video of a man who identifies as an employee of Mind Geek — parent company of Porn Hub — admitting that rapists and human traffickers are doing brisk business on the site. He says its because of a loophole in Porn Hub’s verification process. The man also tells Sound Investigations that Mind Geek isn’t very motivated to fix it because they don’t want to lose business.	4 minutes	09/15/23
Aiming for a great marriage in the dating years	On today’s broadcast of Focus On The Family: Dating in today’s culture has changed significantly in a generation. Single adults are often less intentional about thinking and planning ahead for a future marriage. And many aren’t committed to moral boundaries anymore in their dating relationships.	28 minutes	09/15/23

Biden remains underwater in job approval ratings	SRN News Reports: President Biden begins the week with stubbornly low approval ratings. According to the RealClearPolitics average of polls, 41 percent of Americans approve of Joe Biden’s job performance while 55 percent disapprove. That reflects a series of recent surveys showing low approval ratings fueled by unhappiness over the president’s handling of the economy. Recent polls also have shown little enthusiasm for Mr. Biden’s decision to run for re-election — including among Democrats.	4 minutes	09/18/23
Self worth is not in how much or what you own	On today’s broadcast, Chuck Bentley of Crown Financial Ministries covered: How do you measure self-worth? Is your worth found in your appearance – or the people you know? How about your career, job title, or college degree? Do awards or achievements give you meaning? Perhaps your income, material possessions, or retirement account do it for you. Self worth should be measured by our character and choices, not our belongings.	2 minutes	09/19/23
White House blames GOP for surge of migrants at southern border	SRN News Reports: The White House is blaming Republicans in Congress for the latest surge of migrants crossing the southern border. Thousands of asylum-seekers have overwhelmed agents in recent days on parts of the U-S border with Mexico. In response, the Biden administration announced it would grant Temporary Protected Status to nearly half a million Venezuelans already in the country. And 800 active-duty military troops are being sent to the border. But the main message from the White House is one of blame aimed at congressional Republicans, who accuse the president of allowing open borders.	4 minutes	09/21/23

The power of love over discouragement	On today’s broadcast of Turning Point, Dr. David Jeremiah discusses: It’s the quality of love so strong and resilient, the Apostle Paul uses a military term to describe it. He covers a study of 1 Corinthians 13 with a look at how true love must endure all things, just as an army must defend its ground against all attacks.	28 minutes	09/25/23
Christians find unlikely ally in battle over gay agenda	SRN News Reports: Muslims. They don’t see eye to eye with Christians theologically, but they are beginning to join them in efforts to curb the LGBT advance — especially in the schools. Earlier this year the city of Hamtramck, Michigan — whose city council is ALL-MUSLIM — voted to ban the display of the rainbow flag in all public spaces. This presents a real problem for gay activists, who have always aligned themselves with minority groups, without considering what those minorities believe.	4 minutes	09/26/23
Confronting guilt in motherhood	On this edition of Family Talk, Dr. James Dobson talks to Julie Barnhill about how it’s easy for a mother to feel guilt over things that are not done “perfectly” during those child-rearing years. Dr. James Dobson talks candidly with author and speaker, Julie Barnhill, about her book, Motherhood: The Guilt that Keeps on Giving. She explains how mom’s can tell the difference between true and false guilt.	26 minutes	09/27/23
Trump to skip 2 nd GOP debate, meet with union workers instead	SRN News Reports: Former President Trump will be a no-show again for the second Republican primary debate. Making good on his promise to not “do the debates,” Trump is skipping the event in California as he did the first debate in Milwaukee last month. Once again, he’s dialed in to counterprogramming – this time with a primetime speech to union workers in Michigan. Trump argues that he, not President Biden, is the United Auto Workers union’s best choice for the White House.	4 minutes	09/27/23

Encouraging your kids to discuss their feelings	On today’s broadcast of Focus On The Family: Feelings can be confusing for children to experience and express. Dr. Joshua Straub equipped parents to create a safe environment in their home, so that children can express what they are feeling and learn how to manage their emotions.	28 minutes	09/29/23
President Biden has no plans to meet with McCarthy over GOP budget impasse	SRN News Reports: President Biden has no plans to meet House Speaker McCarthy ahead of a possible government shutdown. McCarthy says he and the president should meet to discuss the impasse, but White House budget director Shalanda Young says there’s already a budget agreement in place. If a shutdown occurs, it would halt paychecks for many of the roughly 2 million federal employees, plus some 2 million active-duty military troops and reservists.	4 minutes	09/29/23
White House salutes longest living U.S. president	SRN News Reports: The White House is saluting former President Jimmy Carter’s 99th birthday. There’s a special display on the north lawn of the White House this weekend in honor of the 39th president. It’s a three-tiered red, white, and blue wooden cake display, topped with 39 candles with the message “Happy Birthday President Carter.” It was announced earlier this year that Carter was receiving hospice care at his home in Plains, Georgia. He’s the longest living American president in history.	4 minutes	09/30/23
