Activities

Section 1: Vacancy Information

Two open positions were filled during this time period. A news reporter was hired in May. The successful candidate learned of the position through an online job board. After a lengthy period of advertising, there were numerous candidates for the position. A graphic designer was also hired in September. The successful candidate learned of the position through an online job board. The position was posted for three weeks; there were no other qualified candidates for the position.

Section 2: Recruitment Source Information

With two open positions, a discussion was had as to where to publicize positions. It was recommended to reach out to local universities with potential positions in order to properly publicize. We also continued to utilize online job boards such as Indeed and Journalism Jobs.

Section 3: Supplemental Recruitment Activities

Our staff continues to be active in educating students and the community about careers in the radio and multimedia industries.
