“What’s significant about the money part is that it helps pay for the lights,” she said. “It allows us to get supplies we may not normally have coming in. It helps with the salaries for the staff. I have six people working here, along with 75 volunteers who put in over 550 hours of volunteer time.”

By the end of December, Rowland expects the center to have served over 50,000 meals this year. In addition, the Holiday Haul also brought in 19,365 pounds of food.

“This is record breaking,” Rowland said. “It was a record breaking year last year too, and now we’ve beat that record.”

St. Susan Center had multiple schools help this year, including Maple Grove, Southwestern and Panama along with Jefferson and Persell in Jamestown. The Falconer junior varsity girls basketball team helped sort the collection on Dec. 15 and the Diamond Dogs team from Frewsburg sorted supplies on Dec. 16.

“The significance of it all makes me emotional,” Rowland said. “The world is in such disarray that I think people sometimes feel there is no community or no support from people. Here in Jamestown, we have that community. We have that sense of community that many strive for.”

Rowland said some people who came in to support the less fortunate may be living paycheck to paycheck, but they still brought in three or four cans of food.

“It may cause stress for them, but they still did it,” Rowland said. “It’s a beautiful thing.”

St. Susan Center had multiple companies in the community who donated or helped support the Holiday Haul, including Synergy, Cummins, Jamestown Awning, Jamestown Cycle Shop, and Jamestown Mattress. Mayor-Elect Kim Ecklund also supported the Haul by bringing in her own canned goods and stopping by to cheer them on multiple times. Rowland thanked Media One Radio Group and the Post-Journal for helping to get the word out about the haul.

The Falconer boys basketball team came on Dec. 27 to help date and inspect all canned goods.

Rowland said St. Susan Center has shared about 1,000 pounds with The Salvation Army and another 1,000 pounds with other organizations.

“There was such community spirit that we saw for the Holiday Haul,” Rowland said. “We had lines of cars coming in, so much so that we had to move to the entrance of the parking lot to be able to accommodate them. This is my third Holiday Haul, and every year I am blown away. Every time I think it can’t get any better and then it hits my heart even more. It really

Cherie,

Can you give me answers to the St Susan questions as far as volunteers, things you don't want no perishable food

Talk about the need at St Susan's ..has there been an increase in the amount of people they serve..what are they really short on?

Is money just as good as food donations..if so why? Food and supply donations are very much needed; however, monetary donations also enable St. Susan's have flexibility to purchase other items including perishable and non-perishable food. We have partnerships, such as with FeedMore WNY that allows us to, purchase perishable food that is drastically reduced or grant based. All donations help St. Susan's provide well balanced meals to our guest.

Does St Susan's need volunteers to help prepare/serve? St. Susan's quite frankly cannot serve our guest without our volunteers!

- We have volunteers who pick-up from our local retailers recovery food. Food rescue, also called food recovery, food salvage or surplus food redistribution, is the practice of gleaning edible food that would otherwise go to waste from places such as farms, produce markets, grocery stores, restaurants, or dining facilities and distributing it to local emergency food programs. St. Susan's is so blessed by our local retailers, such as, Wegmans, Walmart, Tops Panera, Red Lobster Ecklofs and Target. 90% of our protein we serve our guest is from this program.
- Our volunteers help us prep produce, and serve our guest.

To: <tarzanboy@gmail.com>

Hi Dan!

I will be happy to do reports with you Thursday and Friday mornings. We can record a report at 5:55am, 7:05am, and 8:05am. I will then play them back during the hour.

Here are some of the questions I will ask:

Why did you decide to pick up where Keith left off and carry the ball this year?

What types of things are you specifically looking for and why? What should we not bring down to your location?

Talk about the specific groups helping you out this year and why they are important to the goal.

Talk about the need at St Susan's ..has there been an increase in the amount of people they serve..what are they really short on? Is money just as good as food donations..if so why? Does St Susan's need volunteers to help prepare/serve?

Sponsor thank yous and why are these important to what you are doing?

Are there any specific stories/memories that touched your heart while you were helping Keith over the years? Talk about one or two.

What would you say to someone who has never given before?

If there is anything else you would like me to ask, let me know. This gives you something to think about before we start Thursday morning. Friday will be mostly the same, except we can talk about how you did on Thursday..who visited..who helped etc.

My studio line is 716-664-9576. I'm doing a lot of running around and am on the air quite a bit in the morning. so if I don't grab your call right away. just call back.

I look forward to talking with you!

Dan
