DRAGONFLY TV SPORTS - Dragonfly TV Sports” is a weekly half-hour science television series that meets the educational and informational objectives of the FCC’s Childrens Programming requirements for children ages 13-16. The programs highlight children “doing” projects with real hands-on experience and demonstrates practical applications of mathematics and science, in particular, as it relates to individual sports or sporting activity. It introduces young viewers to a variety of scientific disciplines within a particular sport and challenges them in critical thinking and problem solving skills, while providing valuable information to reach answers. Each sports-related episode is engaging, entertaining and educational in structure, allowing children to investigate science on their own. “Dragonfly TV Sports” is closed-captioned for the hearing impaired and displays the “E/I” icon throughout the broadcast.

SPORTS STARS OF TOMORROW - This program showcases the hard work and dedication required to be a true sports star. Chronicled are the trials and tribulations of young athletes as they strive to become top level performers in the sports arena. This program helps viewers realize that with hard work and determination, their goals in life and on the playing field are attainable. Key values such as dedication, discipline, commitment and community involvement are reinforced in each episode. The program also provides in-depth stories that reveal the important challenges and lessons that mold young athletes. Through these stories, viewers learn that while many desire greatness on the grand stage of competition, much can be learned through the journey that can make a significant difference throughout their lives.

THE RE-INVENTORS – The Re-Inventors is a weekly half-hour science television series that meets the educational and informational objectives of the FCC’s Children’s Programming requirements for children ages 13-16. Teenage viewers follow hosts Matt Hunter and Jeremy MacPherson as they dig up original patent designs from history’s lost inventions and build them, test them, and try to make them work. From a snow annihilator from the 1930s to a Chinese dragon rocket over 600 years old to a solar powered crematorium, Matt and Jeremy take viewers through the strange and entertaining world of invention. Each episode introduces young viewers to a variety of scientific disciplines and challenges them in critical thinking and problem solving skills, while providing valuable information to reach answers. Each episode is engaging, entertaining and educational. “The Re-Inventors” is closedcaptioned for the hearing impaired and displays the “E/I” icon throughout the broadcast.
