01/06/18

48 HOURS: "Grapes of Wrath" – a report about the 2015 showdown between two millionaires,

Robert Dahl and Emad Tawfilis, whose bitter money dispute over a Napa Valley winery business ended in murder. Entrepreneur Robert Dahl was drawn from Minnesota to the Napa Valley wine scene, while wealthy Silicon Valley businessman Emad Tawfilis wanted to be an investor in the lucrative wine business. Dahl invested in two failed businesses -- the first with Dominic Foppoli; and the second with local business couple Greg and Francine Knittel. Dahl still always had money. Dahl eventually partnered with Emad Tawfilis, which also failed. After hiring a private investigator, Tawfilis filed a lawsuit, hoping to get his money back. Dahl and Tawfilis met at the vineyard where they consulted their attorneys via a conference call. They then decided to talk privately. Something went drastically wrong, resulting in Tawfilis running through the vineyard while being shot at by Dahl. Tawfilis managed to call 911. Police arrived at the scene to find him shot in the head. Dahl tried to escape, but after a chase, committed suicide. They found other articles in his truck that suggested he had other victims in mind. On-screen text graphic: Dahl's wife and kids still live in California wine country. The grapes on the old Dahl vineyard were harvested last fall. The property is for sale. Interviewed: Dominic Foppoli (Napa Valley businessman); Lew Perdue (tech entrepreneur/wine writer); Francine and Greg Knittel (Napa Valley business couple); Myles Davis (electrician who worked for Dahl); Jonathan Kesselman (film director/Tawfilis friend); Steve Burch (winemaker); Dawn King (private investigator); David Wiseblood (Tawfilis' attorney); Jasmin Duel and Kousha Berokim (Dahl's attorneys). PREEMPTION

CBS Television Network Public Affairs Broadcasts: January

01/20/18 48 HOURS: "Murder in the Mansion" (9:00-10:00p) – a report on one of the most notorious cases in Texas history -- the 1976 ambush in a lavish Fort Worth mansion owned by Texas oilman Cullen Davis, that left two people wounded and two people dead -- one of them a child. To this day, no one has ever been held accountable for the crime. In 1976, Cullen Davis' estranged wife, Priscilla Davis, returned home to the mansion with her boyfriend, Stan Farr, and a friend. Gunfire erupted, and when it ended, Farr and Andrea Wilborn, Priscilla's 12-year-old daughter from a previous marriage were dead, and Davis and her friend were wounded. Both Davis and her friend identified the shooter -- a man dressed in black -- as Cullen Davis. The DA's theory was that Cullen committed the crimes because of the pending divorce and his banishment from the mansion, which had been ordered by the judge handling the divorce. They also believed that Andrea was shot before the adults returned home. Davis, then worth an estimated $500 million, hired Richard Haynes, the most famous defense attorney in Texas at the time, to defend him. When Andrea Wilborn's murder trial finally began, Haynes turned a routine case upside down, making the trial more about Priscilla than Andrea's murder. It took four hours for the jury to find him not guilty. Nine months later Cullen Davis was in trouble again -- charged with hiring a hitman -- but at trial, he was acquitted again. The Davises eventually divorced, Cullen Davis left Fort Worth, the mansion was sold and today is used as an event space. Now 83, Cullen Davis describes himself as a born-again Christian and he did not kill Farr and Wilborn, nor did he shoot Priscilla and her friend. On-screen text graphic: Richard "Racehorse" Haynes died in April 2017. The mansion is now an event space often used for weddings. Interviewed: Jack Strickland (former Fort Worth prosecutor); Christy Jack (attorney); Dee Davis (Andrea Wilborn's sister); Trey Davis (adopted son of Cullen Davis); Dan Cogdell (attorney, protégé of Richard Haynes); David McCrory (friend of Cullen Davis). (C: Maureen Maher - P: Chuck Stevenson, Gail Abbott Zimmerman) (OAD: 05/13/17)

01/20/18 48 HOURS SPECIAL: "All-American Murder: The Rise and Fall of Aaron Hernandez" (10:00-11:00p) – an investigation by best-selling author and 48 HOURS contributor James Patterson, author of "All-American Murder", which delves into the life and death of convicted murderer and former New England Patriots' player Aaron Hernandez. Through interviews, Hernandez's life is traced through the people who knew him. Also included is an examination of the possible role Chronic Traumatic Encephalopathy (CTE) played in his life as an adult and if it contributed to his suicide. Hernandez turned a hardscrabble New England childhood into superstar NFL dreams; in 2012 he was on one of the all-time best teams in the NFL and had received a $40 million contract extension. Everything soon fell apart when he was arrested for the 2013 murder of semi-pro linebacker Odin Lloyd in North Attleboro, Massachusetts. In 2015, Hernandez was convicted of murdering Lloyd. In April 2017, Hernandez committed suicide at the age of 27, in prison where he was serving a life sentence. His life is traced from his childhood in Bristol, Connecticut, to football glory, first in college at the University of Florida and then in the NFL, with the New England Patriots. However, his personal demons remained hidden behind the mask of a celebrity. Off the field, he ran with a bad crowd, used drugs and was also charged and acquitted of killing two other people. After his death, doctors learned the countless hits he took playing football may have caused Chronic Traumatic Encephalopathy (CTE), a degenerative brain disease found in people who have suffered repeated trauma to the head. On-screen text graphic: Prosecutors are appealing to have Aaron Hernandez's murder conviction reinstated. Shayanna Jenkins-Hernandez has filed a lawsuit on behalf of the couple's daughter, against the NFL and helmet maker Riddell seeking damages for the brain injuries Hernandez sustained. Ursula Ward has filed a wrongful death lawsuit against Aaron Hernandez's estate. Interviewed: Shawn Courchesne (former sports reporter, Hartford Courant); Tim Washington (family friend); Ian Rapoport (NFL Network); Shayanna Jenkins-Hernandez (exclusive footage from the "Dr. Phil Show"); Ruban Meyer (former head football coach, University of Florida); Deonte Thompson (Buffalo Bills wide receiver, former college teammate); Dr. Bennet Omalu (Forensic Pathologist, University of California); Linda Kenney Baden (Hernandez defense attorney); Brian Murphy (Hernandez Sports Agent); Don Gobin (witness to shooting attributed to Hernandez); Kenny Smith (Palm Beach County Sheriff's office); Ursula Ward (mother of Odin Lloyd); Doug Shef (Ward's attorney); Joseph Drenzo (North Attleboro Police Captain); Michael Kin (Detective Lieutenant, Massachusetts State Police); Thomas Hodgson (Bristol County Sheriff); William McCauley (Bristol County Sheriff); Michael Fee (Hernandez attorney); Dr. Ann McKee (Director, Boston University CTE Center). 48 HOURS (continued)

01/27/18 48 HOURS: “Sins of the Father” – a followup to 48 HOURS: “The Last Confession” (OAD: 03/01/14; 1st rebroadcast: 07/26/14; 2nd Updated Rebroadcast: 04/16/16), which was a report on the investigation into the 1960 murder of Irena Garza, in McAllen, Texas, and the efforts that family members and police have taken to bring the suspect, a Roman Catholic priest, to trial for the crime. Nearly 60 years after Irene Garza disappeared after going to confession on Easter weekend, the priest accused of murdering her goes on trial. In 1960, Irene Garza told her family she was going to church for confession but never returned home. Five days later, her body was found in a drainage canal. Police say she was beaten, sexually assaulted and suffocated. The investigation kept leading to Father Feit, who admitted hearing her last confession in the church rectory. Information about another attack, also led to Father Feit. He pled no contest to aggravated assault and was fined, but the Irene Garza case went cold. Rumors swirled that there was a conspiracy between the church and the authorities. Feit was re-assigned. In 2002, the McAllen Police Department asked the Texas Rangers’ cold case unit to re-examine the evidence. The investigation took a dramatic turn when a former monk, Dale Tacheney, told police that Feit admitted to killing a young woman while Tacheney was a counselor at a monastery. Despite the new finding, Hildago County District Attorney Rene Guerra did not believe the case was strong enough to take to court. In 2016, the new District Attorney said he had new facts and evidence and that a jury would get past the threshold of reasonable doubt in this case. John Feit was arrested, and flown back to Texas to stand trial. In December 2017, at trial, the latest details, including evidence and testimony from witnesses that the prosecution said was evidence of the long-suspected cover-up between authorities and the church lead to a guilty verdict in this case. On-screen text graphic: Former DA Rene Guerra says he has no regrets about how he handled the Irene Garza case. He plans to make another run for the DA’s office this year. Do you have more information about John Feit? Please contact us at 48Hourstips@cbsnews.com. Karl was found shot dead in his Ohio home after failing to show up for reserve duty. His family and friends immediately suspected Claudia, who had also vanished. Karl and Claudia's joint bank accounts had been emptied and she had returned to her home country of Brazil. One month later, Claudia Sobral was charged in absentia with aggravated murder. However, Brazilian law prevents Brazilian citizen from being extradited. One of the many questions being raised in this ground-breaking judicial case, is that since Claudia was also an American citizen and had renounced her Brazilian citizenship, is she still protected from extradition under Brazilian law? She fought back, winning many rulings. But in 2016, the Brazilian Supreme Court ruled against her and she is now in prison. Paul Hoerig traveled to Brazil to press U.S. authorities and Brazil to expedite the matter. Three weeks after he got home, the Supreme Court of Brazil officially closed the case: Claudia can be extradited. The last step: the Brazilian President has to issue the order to put Claudia on a plane. For the first time in a decade, the family feels hopeful that Claudia will be returned to the United States to stand trial. Original 11/25/17 on-screen text graphic: There is no timetable for the President of Brazil to rule on Claudia Sobral's extradition. Seventeen days ago, Claudia was released to the U.S. Marshalls. She was flown back to Ohio from Brazil, where she appeared in court for arraignment. Bail has been set at $10 million. 02/03/18 48 HOURS: "Natalie Wood: Death in Dark Water" (10:00 – 11:00p) - a followup report about the unexplained drowning death of Hollywood star Natalie Wood nearly four decades ago. County sheriff's investigators speak for the first time and tell 48 HOURS that her then-husband, actor Robert Wagner, is now a person of interest; the investigators want to speak with Wagner about the circumstances surrounding her death that night in 1981. Wood drowned off the coast of Catalina Island in California in November 1981 after she went missing from the Splendour, her family's yacht. Also aboard that night were Captain Dennis Davern, and actor Christopher Walken. The next day, Wood was found floating in the water wearing a red down jacket and flannel nightgown. After a two-week investigation, the death was ruled an accident. In 2011, as detailed in "Natalie Wood's Fatal Voyage" (OAD: 11/19/11), the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department reopened the death investigation. In 2012, the Los Angeles Coroner's Office amended the death certificate from an "accidental drowning" to "drowning and other undetermined factors." Now, six years after that investigation 48 HOURS talks with the investigators about new witnesses, new evidence and new theories as to what happened that night. Rumors of foul play have long surrounded Wood's mysterious death. At first, the three men aboard the boat told detectives that Wood, took off in a dinghy and went ashore. Over time, however, Wagner and Davern's accounts have shifted, raising a red flag to the investigators. Investigators also say Wagner has refused to speak with them since the case was re-opened. Investigators today note the autopsy report indicates there were a number of bruises that appeared to be fresh on Wood's body. The latest information is detailed through interviews with the detectives, and Natalie Wood's sister, Lana Wood. Also included are archival interviews with Robert Wagner and Captain Dennis Davern. On-screen text graphic: 48 HOURS' requests to interview Robert Wagner and Christopher Walken were declined. The Splendour is currently up for sale. Interviewed: John Corina (LA County Sheriff's Office); Detective Ralph Hernandez; Lana Wood (sister); Sam Kashner (Vanity Fair contributing editor); Matt Crowley (close family friend); Duane Rasure (original detective); and Thomas Noguchi (coroner). (See also: 48 HOURS SPECIAL PRESENTATION: "Vanity Fair: Hollywood Scandal", OAD: 11/19/11; Rebroadcast: 09/15/12) (C: Erin Moriarty – P: Liza Finley, Ryan N. Smith, Judy Rybak, Alec Sirken)

02/10/18 48 HOURS: "Paradise Lost" - an updated report on the investigation into the 2010 shooting death of Wall Street millionaire John Bender, who was killed in his exotic home in Costa Rica. His wife, Ann, is charged with the crime, but she claims innocence. After making a $100 million fortune on Wall Street, the Benders bought land in Costa Rica where they built a nature preserve, along with an elaborate, four-story hilltop home with no walls or windows as the centerpiece. The couple seemed to have everything; but both suffered from severe depression, became isolated, and were not entirely welcomed by the locals. On January 8, 2010, John Bender died from a bullet wound to the back of the head. Ann Bender says her husband was trying to kill himself. Nineteen months after the shooting, Ann Bender was charged with murder. At trial, Ann was found not guilty of murder; but in Costa Rica, there is no double jeopardy rule and Ann was brought up on the same charges again and this time was found guilty. 48 HOURS brought in the world-famous independent forensic team of Richard and Selma Eikelenboom, who, after examining evidence, say there were problems with the conclusion drawn by the prosecution. Today, Ann Bender is in prison continuing to fight for her innocence. Original on screen text graphic: The Bender gems, worth an estimated $20 million, were confiscated by the Costa Rican authorities. 07/25/15 EPILOGUE: Last February, nine months after Ann Bender was convicted, an appeals court overturned that decision. Its finding was that the prosecution's evidence was insufficient proof of murder. Ann was released. The court has ordered a third trial. Her boyfriend died while she was in prison. She must remain in Costa Rica, pending her next trial. On-screen text graphic for the 07/25/15 rebroadcast: The trial is scheduled to begin next month. Ann Bender has moved into a new home on the East Coast. She has put the Boracayan property up for sale. Just last summer, she got her multimillion-dollar gem collection back. 02/10/18 UPDATE: After six months, the third trial began. Two lawyers from the United Kingdom and two from the United States joined her legal team. In an unusual move, they also hired the Eikelenbooms for the defense team. After ten years and three trials, Ann Bender hears the words "not guilty" from the jury. Taking no chances, she flew home to the U.S. with no intention of going back to Costa Rica. Months later, the court announces its intention for a fourth trial. Legal experts say that they would be surprised to see the United States extradite Ann Bender. On-screen text graphic for the 02/10/18 updated rebroadcast: Ann Bender has moved into a new home on the East Coast. 48 HOURS (continued)

02/17/18 48 HOURS PRESENTS: “Rodney Alcalá: The Killing Game” – an updated report on the criminal justice system’s 50-year pursuit of serial killer Rodney James Alcalá. From his 1968 abduction, rape and attempted murder of 8-year old Tali Shapiro in Los Angeles; to his 2010 conviction -- with the help of advances in DNA technology -- for the kidnapping, rape and murder of five California women; and to the subsequent discovery of other murders attributed to Alcalá in New York and Wyoming. Although he had been initially apprehended in New York in 1971, the California prosecution at that time had no choice but to enter into a plea agreement with Alcalá. He pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of child molestation and was ultimately convicted -- but released by a parole board after thirty-four months in prison. In 1979, he was arrested for the murder of Robin Samson. Police had discovered a storage facility he had rented in Seattle, which contained photographs he had taken of more than one hundred young women, including photos which placed him near the scene of Robin Samson’s abduction. He was convicted, and sentenced to death. In 1984, the California State Supreme Court then ruled that he had not received a fair trial. He was tried and convicted a second time...and again the verdict was overturned. In 2003, DNA technology enabled Los Angeles Deputy District Attorney Gina Satriano to link Alcalá to three other unsolved murders: Jill Barcomb, Georgia Wixted, and Charlotte Lamb. Evidence also linked Alcalá to the 1979 murder of another Los Angeles woman, Jill Parenteau. In January 2010, Alcalá went on trial for all of these murders -- and was found guilty and sentenced to death. In 2012, Alcalá was sent to New York to face justice for two cold cases from the 1970s that had recently been solved: the 1971 murder of Cornelia Michael Crilley and the 1977 killing of Ellen Hover. He pleaded guilty to both. He was sentenced to two concurrent prison terms and returned to California. Meanwhile, Kathy Thornton had spent 39 years trying to find her sister, Christine, who went missing after a trip out west with her boyfriend. Her son urged her to examine the 48 HOURS website with the images of Alcalá’s unidentified photos of women. She recognized her sister in one. After entering her DNA into a database of missing persons, Kathy found out that her sister was a murder victim -- Christine had the misfortune of taking a motorcycle trip with Alcalá. Detectives met with Alcalá and after his statement to them, he was subsequently charged with first-degree murder. Includes interviews with: Chris Camacho, Los Angeles police officer; Matt Murphy, deputy District Attorney, Orange County, CA; Steve Hodel, detective; Bridget Wilvurt, friend of Robin Samson; Marianne Connelly, mother of Robin Samson; Robert and Tim Samson, brothers of Robin Samson; Pat Ellis, Detective; Tali Shapiro, victim of Alcalá. New interviews for the 02/17/18 updated broadcast: Steve Bracini (former cold case detective, NYPD); Leon Bornstein (roommate of Cornelia Crilley); Melissa Mourges (Manhattan Prosecutor); Martha Bashford (Manhattan Prosecutor); Anita Feinberg (friend of Ellen Hover); Mary Ellen O’Toole (former FBI Profiler); DeDee Parenteau (sister of victim); Cyrus Vance (Manhattan DA); Jeff Sheaman (Wyoming detective); Daniel Errasmoupe (County Prosecutor); Joe Tomich (Detective, Sweetwater County, Wyoming); Kathy Thornton (sister of victim). This is the story of a woman’s attempt to build a perfect race through a collection of 28 children, who each had their hair bleached, were home-schooled on an isolated property, and were injected with LSD as part of an initiation ritual. The children of the cult, now adults, tell their harrowing stories of the treatment they received from loyal cult members, referred to as “Aunties”. It is also the story of Detective Lex De Man who spent years trying to stop Anne Hamilton-Byrne, finally succeeding with the help of the FBI in the United States. Includes: (1) “The Family” – Yoga teacher Anne Hamilton-Byrne formed The Family in 1963. It was an apocalyptic cult with about 500 followers and more than 28 children. Some members willingly gave their children to her, others came from unwed mothers who were tricked into signing over their newborns to be raised by the cult, helped by members of The Family who were doctors and nurses at a nearby hospital. Many had no idea who their real parents were. In 1977, after years of rumors and speculation, police stormed a rural property and rescued seven children. The “Aunties” only faced charges of welfare fraud, while Anne Hamilton-Byrne and her husband Bill Byrne fled the country and for years, their whereabouts were unknown to the authorities in Australia. (2) “The Family...A Cult Revealed” - finding Anne Hamilton-Byrne became the obsession of Melbourne detective Lex de Man. He received a break in the case when Anne called one of the cult children from the United States. In New York, he enlisted the help of FBI, who would track her down to a farmhouse in the Catskills, and de Man personally escorted the couple back to Australia. Prosecutors ended up charging Hamilton-Byrne with conspiracy to make a false statement. Neither she nor her husband would spend one day in prison; they would each pay a fine of $5000. Authorities decided not to pursue any other charges. A couple of a dozen true believers stayed loyal. Hamilton-Byrne disappeared from the public until 2009, when she resurfaced on 60 MINUTES Australia where she denied any abuse. Anne Hamilton-Byrne is 95-years-old and is living in a nursing home in Melbourne suffering from dementia. On-screen text graphic: True believer Michael Stevenson-Helmer visits Anne every day. 48 HOURS

03/03/18 48 HOURS: LIVE TO TELL: “Afraid of the Dark” (9:00 – 10:00p) - Jennifer Schuett was just 8 years old in 1990 when she was yanked through her bedroom window by an unknown man – and then strangled, slashed and left for dead in a field off a gravel road in Dickinson, Texas. She didn’t die – and the kidnapper couldn’t silence her. This is story of Schuett’s will to live, her unwavering focus on pushing police to find her kidnapper, and how through the trauma she found a purpose in life by advocating for other crime victims. Schuett was alone in her bedroom, when she woke up in the arms of a man carrying her outside of the apartment building where she lived with her mom. He said he was an undercover police officer and that they would meet up with her mother. Both were lies. He took her to the field, tried to strangle her, and raped her and slashed her throat before driving away. When she came to, she couldn’t scream, couldn’t lift her head or even move. She was found by children playing in the field. Her assailant didn’t count on Schuett living, let alone having an acute ability to recall critical details of the man. While in the hospital, Schuett, struggling with a fear of men and police because of the attack, began writing notes describing her kidnapper. His name was Dennis. She was also able to give a forensic sketch artist a detailed description of him. Despite the details, years went by with no suspects or closure. The case was passed between detectives, and each time it felt like she was starting over. Then, 18 years after the attack, Schuett got a call from Detective Tim Cromie from the Dickinson Police Department. He was now on her case. Cromie vowed to do everything he could until the end of his career to get the answers she so longed to find. Cromie partnered with FBI Special Agent Richard Rennison to work on the case. In September 2017, utilizing DNA technology that was not available before, Rennison got a call: the kidnapper’s identity had been established. His name is Dennis Earl Bradford. On-screen text graphic: Jennifer has become a fierce advocate for other crime victims. Interviewed: Jennifer Schuett; Ralph Garcia (former detective); Dr. Cheryl L. Strunk; Sharon McBride (pediatric nurse); Lois Gibson (forensic artist), Tim Cromie (Dickinson Police Department); and Richard Rennison (FBI Special Agent). (C: Michelle Miller - P: Stephen A. 03/03/18 48 HOURS: “The Good Girl” (10:00-11:00p) – an interview with Noriella Santos, a well-educated woman with a high profile internship at the Clinton Foundation, who was charged in 2010 for her role in the winter 2009 murder of former boyfriend Michael Sinclair on Long Island. Santos admits that she did play a key, though unwitting, part in the execution-style murder because she was responding to the demands of her boyfriend Daniel Kraeger, who regularly beat her. Though he was born Daniel Kraeger, he had a history of changing his name and personas. At this time he had changed his name to Daniel Rivera. Santos claims that it was an abusive relationship with Daniel and that he had threatened to kill her family if she did not co-operate. Daniel found out that he had contracted a sexually transmitted disease and he ultimately blamed Sinclair. Daniel demanded a meeting with Sinclair, which Santos facilitated. After the murder investigation, prosecutors charged her with second-degree murder. A wealthy benefactor, who had known Santos since childhood, believed her story and hired an attorney, Michael Dowd, who started representing battered women in 1980. Dowd insisted his client was a victim, and not a co-conspirator. In 2015, Daniel Rivera was living as Daniel Greenspan in a Yeshiva and had become a scholar. The prosecutor reconsidered the murder charges, but needed Noriella Santos to get the real killers – Daniel and his accomplice David Belton – and were willing to give a reduced charge if she testified against them. In 2017, Santos was on the stand for four days. She told the jury Daniel had told her everything to do. After three days of deadlock, they eventually returned with a guilty verdict. Santos agreed to the plea deal: second degree attempted robbery. The judge sentenced her to time served and probation. On-screen text graphic: Noriella Santos attends NYU and is working toward an MBA in public service. David Belton, Greenspan’s accomplice, pleaded guilty to second-degree attempted murder and is serving ten years in prison. The earliest Daniel Greenspan can apply for parole is 2040. He will be fifty-three years old. Interviewed: Noriella Santos; Nancy Clifford (Suffolk County Prosecutor); Richie Santos (Noriella’s brother); Naim Khan, Bobby Thomas, Dan’ielle Atherton-Bonner (Daniel Rivera’s high school friends); Dawn Hughes (forensic psychologist); and Michael Down (attorney) (C: Jim Axelrod – P: Paul LaRosa, Murray Weiss)

03/10/18 48 HOURS: "Who Killed Fabio?" - a report on the 2017 murder of famed hairstylist and beauty company executive Fabio Sementilli who was found stabbed to death by his pool in Los Angeles, California. At first, police believed he was the victim of the "knock-knock" burglars, a ring targeting Los Angeles celebrities. Sementilli grew up in Canada, and became a superstar in the world of hairdressing. He moved to Los Angeles with his second wife and seemed to live a charmed life. Police investigation revealed that even though the Sementilli house had video surveillance, the DVR was gone. His widow, Monica, was anxious – calling the police every day. Police soon ruled out the burglars – they had never killed anyone before, and an $8000 watch was still on Sementilli's wrist. DNA from blood left at the scene led to Robert Baker, a man with a colorful past, and a member of Monica Sementilli's racquetball league. Finally, clues led them to believe that he and Monica were responsible for the murder, motivated by Fabio's life insurance policy. Monica had been quite unhappy in Los Angeles and wanted to return to her native Canada and had enlisted Robert Baker to help her. Fabio's sister believes there is more to the story. Both are currently in custody in Los Angeles and will be tried together. There is still one loose end – a third person was involved. On-screen text graphic: The knock-knock burglars continue to hit homes in Los Angeles. The trial of Monica Sementilli and Robert Baker is expected to be later this year. Interviewed: Mirella Rota (Fabio's sister); Luigi Sementilli (Fabio's son); Joe Mercurio (Fabio's friend); Bill Dunn (Los Angeles Police Department Detective); Justin Eisenberg (neighbor); Navid Solouk (home security expert); Pete Castellanos (friend of Fabio's); Mitch Englander (Los Angeles City Councilman); Elyse (friend of Monica's from the racquetball league); William Hayes (Los Angeles Police); and Mary Fulginiti (former federal prosecutor). 03/17/18 48 HOURS: "Mystery at Eagle Creek" – an updated report on the 2009 death of Rhonda Casto, who went hiking in Oregon's Columbic River Gorge with her boyfriend, Stephen Nichols, only to never return home, as detailed in 48 Hours: "Trail of Tears" (OAD: 03/05/16). In a new interview, Stephen Nichols, addresses what may or may not have happened that fateful day, giving bizarre answers and elusive clues. Before Casto headed out on her hike, she joked to a friend that Nichols was either - "going to propose or kill me". Somewhere along the trail, she slipped or fell 150 feet to her death. An autopsy seemed to support Nichols' version of events, but authorities declined to declare the death an accident, and Nichols was never charged. Investigation revealed several tawdry elements, including insurance policies, a potential love triangle involving Rhonda's younger sister and theft of Social Security payments by Rhonda's mother, Julia Simmons. Nichols moved to China, and began a new life with his daughter. In 2014, a secret grand jury heard evidence and indicted Nichols for murder. He was arrested during a trip home and pleaded not guilty. In 2016, while awaiting trial, Nichols pleaded guilty to two counts of sexual abuse of Rhonda's younger sister, Melanie Casto. In 2017, the prosecution decided to agree to a plea deal of criminally negligent homicide and coercion. Nichols received credit for time served and will remain on parole for three years. He says the reason he took the deal was time was running out for him to regain custody of his daughter. On-screen text graphic: About half of Rhonda's million dollar life insurance policy is being held in a court-controlled account for her daughter. The rest of the money has gone to attorneys' fees and Julia Simmons. Stephen Nichols still awaits a decision regarding custody of his daughter, now nine years old. Interviewed: Stephen Nichols, Julia Simmonds (Rhonda's mother); Mike Arnold (defense attorney); and Jessica Coleburn (friend of Rhonda's). (C: Peter Van Sant – P: Susan Mallie, Jennifer Terker)

03/24/18 48 HOURS: “The Fitbit Alibi” – a report on the groundbreaking 2016 murder case of Nicole Vander Heyden that was solved using 21st century technology. Vander Heyden went out with her live-in boyfriend Doug Detrie and other friends for a night on the town in Green Bay, Wisconsin and never made it home. A day later, she was found beaten and strangled in a field. Her live-in boyfriend became the prime suspect and was arrested because he had separated from the group during the barhopping and went home without Nicole. Detrie was wearing a Fitbit device and the data recorded during the time of Vander Heyden’s murder corroborated with what Detrie had told police, therefore clearing him of suspicion. He was released 18 days after his arrest. Over the next several months, clothes and other items found at the murder scene were processed by the police for DNA, which led police to George Steven Burch, a man who had moved from Virginia to Green Bay for a fresh start. Burch was questioned about a hit-and-run and had handed over his cell phone to police. The phone was an Android device with a Google account, which stores and tracks a person’s exact location within Google’s servers and is viewed with a tool called Google Dashboard. Investigators got a warrant to view Burch’s account and discovered that on the night of the murder, the data tracked him to Nicole’s house – the crime scene – where he stayed for nearly an hour. He was arrested and charged with first-degree intentional homicide. On February 19, 2018, George Burch went on trial for Nicole’s murder. The technology evidence from Fitbit and Google played an important part of the proceedings. Also in the courtroom, the sister and fiancé of Joey White, a man Burch killed in Virginia twenty years ago. Neither is surprised that Burch is on trial again. Only this time, they hope he is found guilty, and is not acquitted. It took the jury three hours to find Burch guilty. On-screen text graphic: Doug Detrie continues to raise Dylan, now two. George Burch will be sentenced on May 4, 2018. He faces life in prison. Interviewed: Vicki and Brandon Meyer (Nicole’s mother and brother); Brian Slinger and Richard Loppnow (Police Sergeants); Kate Briquet (journalist); Shawn Vander Heyden (Nicole’s former brother-in-law); Tiffany Hoffman (Nicole’s friend); and Shayna Stowe and Carla Rhoads (fiancé and sister of Joey White). 03/31/18 48 HOURS: LIVE TO TELL: “Trafficked” – an examination of sex trafficking through the eyes of survivor Alyssa Beck and the vast array of people who tried to help her – from law enforcement and her family, to the legal system and child advocates. In 2010, Beck was a 15-year-old Jacksonville, Florida runaway, who ran right into the hands of a violent sex trafficking group. She was living in a juvenile detention home when another young woman convinced her to run away with her. She ended up trapped in a hotel room, being beaten and having men pay money to do whatever they wanted to do to her. She recounts her battle to survive, how she escaped, her struggle to stay away from that life and her world today. The details Beck provided led to the arrest of seven people and the mastermind behind the ring, Ian Seth Gordon, who was given one of the first life sentences ever handed down in the case of a sex trafficker in this country. Also, actor Ashton Kutcher discusses his non-profit, Thorn, which has developed software used by law enforcement to identify potential victims and abusers, and disrupt groups like the one that had held Beck captive. On-screen text graphic: For more information about Thorn go to www.weareThorn.org. 03/24/18 CBS NEWS SPECIAL: “39 Days” (8:00-9:00p) – a review of the events of the past thirty-nine days, as seen through the eyes of the survivors of the school shooting at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland, Florida, in which a former student at the school shot and killed 17 people. CBS News journalists were embedded with the group of Stoneman Douglas survivors who have banded together to fight back. They are: David Hogg, Emma Gonzalez, Cameron Kasky, Delaney Tarr, and Jaclyn Corin. The program presented a timeline of the tumultuous events from the first day of the shooting to the “March for Our Lives” rally, which took place in Washington D.C. and other cities on March 24, 2018. Captured in this program are the students’ raw emotions as they grieve and work around the clock in efforts to change the gun laws of this country. CBS journalists also embedded with Andrew Pollack, whose daughter Meadow, was killed; as one of the more visible of the victims’ parents, he focuses on tightening school safety, not changing gun laws. Also included are strong voices from the Second Amendment conversation, including remarks by fellow student Kyle Kashuv.
