Dear Buzz,

Please help the Freestone County Museum get the word out that we still have several copies of Sonny Sessions 456 Hardcover book for sale. Price is $75 and is our major fundraiser for the year. We don't ask folks to buy BBQ or Fish plates but a feast of words that will last a lifetime.

The museum hours are Wed, Fri, Sat from 10am to 5pm. We will also do mail orders if someone can't make it into town. They can call the museum for more information 903-389-3738.

I think this book would make an AWESOME Christmas present for Grandma and Grandpa that have everything.

Thanks

'Peace Has Come' Christmas Musical Set Sunday At Calvary Fairfield

By Billy Patterson

The congregation of Calvary Baptist Church in Fairfield will be presenting their annual Christmas musical this coming Sunday at 10:45 am, which will feature an incredible collection of beautiful lyrics and music.

'Peace Has Come: A Musical for Christmas' will feature seven different songs with two featuring soloist Amy Rutledge and Kim Whitaker. Rutledge will perform a solo part in 'Breath of Heaven (Mary's Song)' while Whitaker will be featured in 'What a Beautiful Name'. Calvary's twenty-five member choir has been practicing this year's musical for several months.

Other songs in the musical will be 'Peace Has Come' with 'O Come, All Ye Faithful', "Come, Thou Long-Expected Jesus", 'I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day', 'Heavenly Peace', and 'Peace in the Midst of the Storm'.

Katie Allen will be the narrator throughout the musical which will instill upon the audience why the prophet Isaiah called Jesus the 'Prince of Peace'.

"This musical may be the best collection of music and songs we have ever performed at Christmas," music and education minister Shelby Race stated. "You will leave this performance with a breath of freshness of just how important the birth of Jesus Christ was, and still is to the world today", he added.

"Come one and all to Calvary this Sunday and be a part of a special performance of our talented adult choir", stated Pastor Terry Skinner. "You will be blessed by this incredible Christmas musical, and we will be blessed to have you join us as we honor and celebrate our Savior's birth".

Calvary Baptist Fairfield is located at 220 E. Main. The performance will begin at 10:45 am this Sunday, December 16th.

Please reply and let me know if you receive this release. Any help you can give to get the word out about this event will be greatly appreciated.

Calvary's Children's Choir Presents 'The Colors of Christmas' Musical

By Billy Patterson

Calvary Baptist Church will soon be filled with the wonderful voices of children as the choir presents their Christmas musical this coming Sunday night.

The young and talented singers will present 'The Colors of Christmas' in the annual event which is looked forward to by the entire congregation. After several months of preparation and practices, the kindergarten through 6th grade students will take the stage with some having acting performances as well.

This Christmas musical will include the songs 'The Colors of Christmas', 'You Make All Things New', 'Mary, Did You Know', 'At The Cross (Love Ran Red)', 'Nothin' Less Than The Best', 'Joy To The World! The Lord Is Come', 'Hark! The Herald Angels Sing', and 'Go Tell It On The Mountain'.

Connor Petty will perform a solo special during 'You Make All Things New' and K.K. Williams will have a solo special during the song 'Nothing Less Than The Best.'

"I continue to be amazed each year just how talented and excited our young people are to sing the songs in our Christmas musicals," Calvary's music minister Shelby Race stated. "Our kids truly love singing about our Lord and Savior and sharing the wonderful music of the Christmas season."

For a blessing you'll remember throughout this holiday season, Calvary invites everyone to attend this very special Christmas musical which begins at 6:30 pm this Sunday, December 2nd. Bring your entire family and friends for a great night of worship in song. Calvary is located at 220 E. Main in Fairfield.

The blank canvas comes to Corsicana

Outdoor Painters Society to paint the town red and many other colors November 9 and 10

The phrase "a blank canvas" is often used to describe a journey that lies ahead or untold possibilities in the future. Soon, dozens of blank canvases will depict the lovely shapes and colors found around Corsicana.

The Outdoor Painters Society's "Paint Out" will bring dozens, perhaps even hundreds of artists practicing the tradition of "Plein Air" painting to town next weekend. ("en plein air" is a French term for outdoors. This method contrasts with studio paintings which might create a predetermined look.)

You will see these artists along our brick streets and city sidewalks, set back for a view of the Courthouse, or across the street from the historic State National Bank building. They might choose a historic home in the Carriage District or one more modern in Mills Place, set up on the porch at Pioneer Village or in the country on a farmhouse veranda.

More than working artists, these visitors are capturing the many facets of Corsicana and will make them available for sale at the Saturday Art Show and Reception from 4 to 6 p.m. on November 10th at the Warehouse Living Arts Center, 119 West 6th Avenue.

They will paint in various locations all day Friday, November 9, beginning with a breakfast and welcome at Across the Street Diner. Their day will conclude with an Artists' Reception at 100W followed by a visit to the Nancy Rebel Studio on Beaton Street, and finally, dinner at Napoli's, another storied location.

On Saturday, November 10, the painters will choose a location or two from a provided list: Canterbury Court, sponsor of this month's Mimosas at the Market, Palace Theatre and Warehouse Living Arts Center, Beaux-Arts architecture of the Corsicana Post Office, beautifully restored Navarro County Courthouse, two artist-favorite churches, St. John Episcopal Church and First United Methodist Church, or the Old City Jail, where a tour and lunch will be provided. A second lunch option will be the Veterans' Day celebration at the Corsicana Municipal Airport's C. David Campbell Field, sponsored by the Coyote Squadron. The schedule also includes other points of interest around town.

This is the first time the Outdoor Painters Society has visited, painted, and exhibited in Corsicana. The group organizes ten Paint Outs each year ranging from a day to as long as one week. Approximately 75% of the members reside in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado. This Paint Out event is made possible by the Navarro Council of the Arts, who has organized the schedule and all activities, plus a grant from the Corsicana Visitors' Bureau.

The art exhibition is an opportunity for locals to own an original piece of art depicting a favorite place in Corsicana, a peaceful Texas landscape, or perhaps a location seen in a new light, passed by but never really noticed. A 'People's Choice' painting will be awarded $250. As the entertainer Danny Kaye once said, "Life is a blank canvas; throw all the paint you can at it." That advice seems "plein" and simple.

For more information, contact Leah Dill Blackard, Executive Director of the Navarro Council of the Arts at ncart@sbcglobal.net, or 903.872.5411.
