Kind Hearted Woman

In a special two-part series, acclaimed filmmaker David Sutherland creates an unforgettable portrait of Robin Charboneau, a 32-year-old divorced single mother and Oglala Sioux woman living on North Dakota's Spirit Lake Reservation. Sutherland follows Robin over three years as she struggles to raise her two children, further her education and heal herself from the wounds of sexual abuse she suffered as a child.

Seeking the Greatest Good

Gifford Pinchot (1865-1946) championed the establishment of the National Forests and the U.S. Forest Service, where he served as its first chief. To him, natural wealth belonged to the nation as a whole, and therefore should provide "the greatest good to the greatest number of people for the long run." This program chronicles the legacy of Pinchot's "practical conservation" philosophy.

Independent Lens
The Undocumented

The blistering deserts of southern Arizona have been littered with the scorched and desiccated bodies of more than 2,000 illegal border crossers in the past decade and a half. The grisly task of locating and identifying them falls to overwhelmed local coroners and tireless volunteers, who attempt to provide closure to devastated families.

Monday, April 29 at 10 pm

Wilderness: The Great Debate

The American West has been the nation's battleground for the preservation of wild lands. But have 21st century growth and energy demands relegated wilderness to the pages of history? In this visually stunning documentary, Robert Redford joins a group of diverse voices in debating the need and purpose of wilderness. Peter Coyote narrates.

Monday, April 29 at Noon

Meet the Arizonans who try to identify the bodies of illegal crossers lost in the desert.
