1. Economy

Economic concerns have been the focus of almost everyone over the past few years. The recent recession has affected individuals, families and businesses all over the country, and here in our local region. With unemployment and home foreclosure rates high, it’s been a difficult recovery for most areas of the economy. Many economic factors are now starting to show improvement, bringing a sense of optimism to some people. However, there are still many pockets of poverty in the nation, and many real areas of concern for people who have not been able to participate fully in the prosperity enjoyed by some. This disparity in wealth is becoming more obvious as middle class Americans feel a continuing pinch on their economic well-being.

2. Education

Many people consider education to be one of the most important factors in the economic growth and prosperity of our country. During the past few decades we've seen many jobs disappear entirely, and others evolve almost beyond recognition. It's become increasingly apparent that young people today must prepare themselves for an ever-changing work environment. A college education is not necessarily a guarantee of success, but it's extremely important for students to assess their aptitudes, abilities and interests, and make an appropriate decision about their education. In our present-day technological society, there's a growing need for people who have the training and skills needed for the ever-changing face of our economy. With budget cutbacks prevalent at the national, state and local levels, the fight to maintain a high-quality educational system for our country is of paramount concern for many people.

Now that Gov. Walker knows who he will face in the upcoming November election, he can start to fine-tune his strategy during the final campaigning months.

And one of the issues we could hear a lot more of during Walker's campaign is higher education.

Last week, Governor Scott Walker mentioned on social media what he expects to work on if he gets another four years in office.

One of the items he talks about is the continuation of the U-W tuition freeze. Since the 2013 school year, students' tuition at all U-W universities in Wisconsin have been frozen...

The freeze will expire at the end of this school year...

However, if re-elected, Gov. Walker would like to extend it.

3. Health/Safety

The issue of health and safety is of concern to everyone in our viewing area. The advent of the new health care reform law brings many new questions to the forefront. People are concerned about how the law will affect them and their families. With two major medical facilities in the city, La Crosse area residents are well-positioned as far as access to quality health care, but the question of affordability continues to exist for many people. With an increasing focus on healthy eating habits, particularly for children and young people, health information is vital in our efforts to control obesity and other risky health behaviors.

Environmental concerns are on the minds of many of our viewers. The importance of a clean and stable environment is becoming evident to a vast majority of people. Concern over global climate change has led to awareness that all aspects of our lives on this planet are intertwined in a sometimes fragile environment. What we do as individuals and local communities can have a broad impact when combined with the efforts of others, across the country and around the globe. From industrial pollution to agricultural contamination, and from recycling to conservation, the environment is a prime concern of everyone.

5. Crime

The issue of crime is a continuing concern for the residents of our area. People are focused on the safety of their families and neighborhoods. Many are worried about the growing drug problem in our communities. Several high-profile crimes and murders around the region make residents aware of the need for quality and progressive law enforcement agencies. With ever-increasing demands and costs in the criminal justice system, many jurisdictions are exploring community-based sentencing for lesser offenses. Even though some crime statistics are lower, community concern over the issue is still extremely high.

6. Government

Government affects all of us, in our daily lives and in the long term well-being of our families and our communities. We attempt to bring all aspects of government into focus for our local viewers. From events in Washington and around the world to local happenings, it's important for our audience to be aware of those actions of government that will shape their lives in the coming months and years. An informed electorate will be more likely to make wise choices when entering the election booth. The knowledge and participation of the public is essential if we want to have government that responds to the needs and desires of its citizens.

There's quite the buzz in La Crosse surrounding the new Northside Elementary School.

The newly installed permanent drug drop-off sites around the area are working.

The U.S. Appeals Court ruled Wisconsin's gay marriage ban is unconstitutional but the battle isn't over yet. Many people are shocked a ruling came down so quickly, the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago only heard the case last week. Although a ruling has been made, state officials have time to appeal it.

To avoid the confusion that happened last time, the La Crosse County clerk said she isn't doing anything until a final decision has been made.

One last preview before the big event at Gundersen Health System. Around 6,500 walk to support breast cancer research in La Crosse for the 9th annual Steppin Out In Pink.

The annual event raises awareness and thousands of dollars for breast cancer. Plus all of the money stays local.

The event kicked off with the 'survivor breakfast'. Organizers say the breakfast grows every year, with about 250 people attending this year alone.

One recent breast cancer survivor says she is proud to be among such strong and courageous women.

“Murder At Sea?” - a rebroadcast of a report on the disappearance of newlywed George Smith, who vanished in 2005 from a cruise ship in the Mediterranean while on his honeymoon, as first reported in “Love Lost” (OAD: 04/08/06) and mentioned in “Dark Voyage” (OAD: 09/23/06). This report uncovers the questionable alibis, failed polygraphs and a provocative video that involves the three men who last saw Smith alive. In the years since Smith went missing, his family has been seeking answers to what happened to him after a night of heavy drinking and gambling in the ship’s casino. His disappearance was ruled a likely accident and the case has gone nowhere, despite reports of arguments on the stateroom balcony, furniture being moved and a bloodstain on the overhang of the lifeboats. Mike Jones, an attorney for the Smith family, is now trying to get the case moving again. He has gained access to Royal Caribbean’s internal investigation and has learned about the existence of a videotape in the possession of the FBI, which was recorded just hours after Smith went missing by three of the four men to last see Smith alive: cousins Zach Rozenberg and Greg Rozenberg and their friend Rusty Kofman. The other passenger, Josh Askin, is not on the video. Attorneys for Rusty Kofman and Zach Rozenberg have declined to comment. Greg Rozenberg’s attorney says his client just made stupid comments. While initially cooperating, Askin’s attorney has now told him to take the Fifth Amendment in all questioning. All four men say they had nothing to do with Smith’s death but the men are still on the FBI’s radar in this cold case. Mike Jones believes that Josh Askin knows what happened. He continues to prod the FBI to re-open the case. On-screen text graphic: The FBI’s field office has agreed to review the George Smith case. On-screen text graphic introduction for the 07/05/14 rebroadcast: “9 years ago today George Smith disappeared from his honeymoon cruise. This week, his family announced a $100,000 reward for information leading “to the arrest and conviction of the person (s) responsible.” On-screen text graphic for 07/05/14 rebroadcast: Anyone with information should call 1-844-651-1936. “Death at Soho House” - a report into the death of swimsuit designer Sylvie Cachay and her ties to the son of an Oscar-winning songwriter. Sylvie Cachay was a rising swimsuit designer, working with top companies like Victoria’s Secret, before launching her own line of swimwear. In 2010, she was found dead and partially clothed in an overflowing tub at the Soho House in New York City. Police learned Cachay had checked into the hotel with her boyfriend, Nicholas Brooks, the son of troubled Academy Award-winning songwriter Joseph Brooks. Although there was an empty bottle of prescription pills nearby, the on-scene medical examiner found marks on Sylvie’s neck that suggested strangulation and the investigation quickly turned to Brooks. He was arrested. At trial, Brooks was found guilty of second degree murder. Through interviews with Cachay's family and friends, a picture of a successful woman with everything to live for is revealed, but one who was also having second thoughts about her much younger boyfriend. Nicholas Brooks' sister, Amanda Brooks, discusses their childhood, how their family was torn apart by divorce and how their father's famous name and his own troubled life brought nothing but notoriety to the case. On-screen text graphic: Nick Brooks is appealing his conviction arguing the jury should have heard his "rough sex" allegation. "The Writing on the Wall" - a report on the investigation into the May 5, 2009 murders of the wife and two children of Christopher Coleman, the security chief for televangelist Joyce Meyer Ministries. In Columbia, Illinois on the morning of May 5, Coleman called his neighbor, police detective Justin Barlow, and asked him to check on his wife, Sheri, and their two young sons, Gavin and Garrett, after his own calls had gone unanswered. In months prior he had made local police aware of explicit death threats he was receiving regarding his involvement in Meyer's ministry. Barlow entered the house that morning through an unlocked basement window and upon entry he found spray-painted messages on the walls, with the phrases "you have paid" and "punished", and when he went upstairs he discovered the bodies of Coleman's family strangled to death in each of their beds. An investigation began and soon after police discovered Coleman was having a serious affair with cocktail waitress Tara Lintz, a high school friend of Sheri's. Sheri's friends came to her defense telling police Sheri said her husband was having an affair and if anything happened to her, Chris did it. Moreover, the crime scene lab found the handwriting on the wall matched up to Coleman's script. Two weeks after the murders police had enough evidence to charge Coleman with first-degree murder of his family. The trial for Coleman began two years later and the prosecution's computer experts discovered the e-mail threats came from Coleman's laptop, and one can of the spray paint used on the walls of his house was purchased at a local hardware store with a computerized signature linked to Coleman. The jury needed more evidence though, and it came from one of the jurors who noticed the date on a picture of Coleman and Lintz kissing which proved Coleman lied to them about when the affair began. After a guilty verdict, the judge sentenced Coleman to life in prison. 48 HOURS MYSTERY spoke to Coleman by phone and he denied planning to divorce Sheri to marry his mistress and said he did not know who murdered his family. On-Screen Text Graphics: Sheri's family is suing Joyce Meyer Ministries. They claim the murders might have been prevented if the Ministries had investigated the threats more seriously. May 5th is the three-year anniversary of the murders of Sheri, Garrett and Gavin Coleman. On-screen text graphics for the 03/30/13 rebroadcast: In December 2012, after a long legal battle with the Colemans, Sheri's family was allowed to rebury Sheri and her sons in a cemetery closer to their home in Chicago. On-screen text graphic for the 07/19/14 rebroadcast: After a long legal battle with the Colemans, Sheri's family was allowed to rebury Sheri and her sons in a cemetery closer to their home in Chicago. "A Bad Bet" - an investigation into the deaths of South Carolina sports bookie Brett Parker's wife, Tammy Parker, and his associate, Bryan Capnerhurst, who Parker claims he shot while Capnerhurst was attempting to rob Parker's safe. Though sports betting in South Carolina is illegal, Brett Parker and his father ran an honest family bookmaking operation that was generally left alone by police. At first police took Parker's story at face value, but as the investigation continued, they discovered a co-worker (Capnerhurst) with financial problems who was demanding money he was owed from Parker, and a marriage not as solid as they were led to believe. Police determined that Capnerhurst was a victim, rather than a killer, and that the adulterous Parker had murdered his wife, in part to collect on a life insurance policy. At trial, he was found guilty on two murder charges and sentenced to two consecutive life sentences with no parole. On Screen Text Graphic: Four months after the murder conviction, Brett Parker and his father Jack were indicted on federal charges of operating an illegal gambling business. "Honor and Dishonor" - a report on Sgt. Brent Burke, who was court-martialed for the 2007 murders of Tracy Burke, his estranged wife and his former mother-in-law, Karen Comer. Four civilian trials, with no physical evidence, had already led to three mistrials and a hung jury; but the military decided to move forward with action under the uniform code of military justice. Tracy Burke and Karen Comer were discovered shot to death in Comer's Rineyville, Kentucky home. When it was discovered that Tracy was in the process of going through a divorce, Sgt. Brent Burke was taken into custody and booked for murder. There was little physical evidence and no murder weapon, but during an interview, Eion Burke, a young child of four, said that Sgt. Burke was the killer. When charges were dropped and he was released from jail, Kentucky State Police spoke to the Army and they came to the same conclusion: a case for murder, this time to be tried by the Army's Judge Advocate General's Corps (JAG) because Burke on active duty at Fort Campbell when the crimes were committed. He would face a court martial trial which is very different from a civilian court trial -- there is always a verdict and never a hung jury. The trial commenced and the JAG prosecution team was able to present physical evidence -- a tiny piece of glass taken off of Burke's coat, which was similar to the shattered glass door at the crime scene. The panel decided that Sgt. Burke was guilty and that he would serve a life sentence without parole. He would also be dishonorably discharged and stripped of his rank. On-screen text graphic for the original and 09/21/13 rebroadcast: Tracy Burke's children visit each other regularly. According to military law, Brent Burke will get an automatic appeal. On-screen text graphic for the 07/26/14 rebroadcast: Tracy Burke's children visit each other regularly. "The Last Confession" - a report on the investigation into the 1960 murder of Irena Garza, in McAllen, Texas, and the efforts family members and police have taken to bring the suspect, a Roman Catholic priest, to trial for the crime. The night before Easter, Irene Garza went to church and disappeared. Five days later she was found dead in a canal. Police said she was sexually assaulted and suffocated. There was one immediate suspect, Father John Feit, the priest who admitted to hearing Garza's confession that night, but who has denied any involvement in the murder. Noemi Ponce Sigler, the original investigator's daughter, says her father was told to step away from the case because a deal had been made between the Church and the police regarding Feit. In 2002, the McAllen Police Department asked the Texas Rangers Cold Case unit to re-examine the murder. The investigation took a dramatic turn when a former monk, Dale Tacheny, told police that Feit admitted to killing a young woman while Tacheny was a counselor at a monastery. Joseph O'Brien, an assistant pastor at the church in 1960 also told investigators that Feit told him that he did it. Despite these new findings, Hidalgo County District Attorney Rene Guerra doesn't believe the case is strong enough to take to court, though he would have prosecuted Feit in 1962 on the charges. Members of the Garza family have pinned their hopes on Ricardo Rodriguez, a candidate for Hidalgo County District Attorney, who has said he would look into the case. On-screen text graphic: The primary election for Hidalgo County District Attorney is Tuesday. On-screen text graphic for the 07/26/14 rebroadcast: Rene Guerra lost the election for Hidalgo County District Attorney in March 2014. District Attorney-elect Ricardo Rodriguez has promised to revisit the case when he takes office in January 2015. “The Preacher’s Passion” - Felicia Tang was an actress and model in Hollywood, CA. Her boyfriend, Brian Randone, was an inspirational preacher and one-time reality show contestant. Two months after they met in Las Vegas, Tang was living in Randone’s Los Angeles home. After a night of passion, Tang was dead. On the morning of September 11, 2009, Randone summoned police because Tang wasn’t breathing. He maintained she overdosed on the drug GHB (Gamma hydroxybutyric), which they both took before going to bed. However, police didn’t buy the story. Police believed he beat Tang to death because they counted some 320 bruises, lacerations and abrasions on her body. The medical examiner who did the autopsy on Tang believes the bruising on her face and bite mark on her tongue were a result of Tang’s struggle to breathe. Randone was charged with her murder and after prosecutors saw her body, they added another charge: torture. On November 14, 2011, two years after Tang’s death, the trial began in a Pasadena courtroom. Prosecutors tried to prove Randone caused Tang’s death, but the defense painted Tang as a drug addict and said she died of an overdose. The defense called former San Diego Deputy Medical Examiner Dr. Harry Bonnell to the stand. Dr. Bonnell said homicide is impossible in this case because the PEA (pulseless electrical activity) found in Felicia’s body proves it. He went on to tell the jury there is no PEA in smothering victims and the causes of PEA are drugs or blood volume loss. Prosecution was denied the opportunity to rebut Dr. Bonnell’s testimony. The jury came up with the verdict of not guilty of torture and not guilty of murder. Jurors, who did not want their names to appear on the episode, claimed Dr. Bonnell’s testimony was crucial in declaring Randone not guilty. Several medical examiners “48 HOURS” consulted made clear they would have testified that Dr. Bonnell was incorrect, and PEA is possible in smothering. On screen text graphic: Brian Randone is suing various Los Angeles County law enforcement agencies for $21 million for false arrest, wrongful imprisonment, and emotional distress. “Walking Free” - a followup to “Murder on Lockhart Road” (OAD: 12/09/06) which itself was a followup to “The Alibi” (OAD: 10/11/02) detailing the story of David Camm, who was convicted in two murder trials -- each eventually overturned -- and was found not guilty in his third trial for the murder of his wife and two children. Camm was found guilty of murder in 2002 but the conviction was reversed in 2004. Following the appeal, a critical piece of evidence was tested: unknown DNA was put through a national database which led to ex-con Charles Boney. Police believed both Boney and Camm worked together. They went on trial separately and both were convicted. In 2009, the Indiana Supreme Court overturned Camm’s second conviction. Boney’s conviction still stood. His wife’s parents still believed Camm was guilty. The State decided to try him a third time. Defense attorneys used a different strategy, involving DNA. In this trial, Boney testified that he provided Camm with the gun and that any of his DNA was put there by Camm. Camm was found not guilty. On screen text graphic: David Camm is working with the group “Investigating Innocence,” based in Illinois. He’s a case worker helping others who have been wrongfully convicted. David Camm’s legal team is exploring a potential lawsuit against the State of Indiana. David Camm hopes to reconcile with Jane and Frank Renn, Kim’s parents. On screen text graphic for the 08/02/14 rebroadcast: David Camm is moving forward with a $30 million lawsuit against Floyd County and the state of Indiana. Mackenzie never made dinner, and Reid received a call from police saying his daughter’s car was found abandoned on a ranch, 40 miles from their home in Wenatchee, Washington. Four days later Mackenzie was found dead along the banks of the Columbia River. She had been strangled, stabbed and beaten. Investigators looked at a list of potential suspects, including her boyfriend, who failed part of a lie-detector test, though he had a solid alibi. They talked to her parents, who had gone through a bitter divorce. And police talked to her mother’s boyfriend, with whom she had tangled with in the past.

Liz Reid, a police informant, came forward claiming to have seen the actual murder on videotape -- shot by the killers. However as the task force began to investigate this, a tip came in about Chris Wilson, a classmate of Mackenzie's from the Academy of Hair Design. After police linked DNA at the crime scene to Wilson, he was charged with her murder. Wilson claimed he was innocent and his mother hired attorney John Henry Browne. Police dismissed Liz Reid's story after she changed it several times and they did not find a video. When the task force searched the apartment that Wilson lived in during the time of the murder, they found a stain which tested positive for Mackenzie's DNA. Prior to the trial, D.A. Gary Reisen made Wilson an offer -- plead guilty to manslaughter and serve only six-and-half years in prison -- but Wilson turned it down and the trial began. Fearing an unfair trial after the jury questionnaires came back believing Wilson was guilty, Chris Wilson accepted a new plea deal -- fourteen years in prison in exchange for agreeing to these words: "...I also did recklessly cause the death of Mackenzie Cowell by strangulation and by stabbing her with a knife". Chris Wilson believes he was framed by law enforcement. On screen text graphic: Christopher Wilson may be eligible for release from prison in 2023. He will be 42 years old. Former police informant Liz Reid recently received a scholarship to attend the University of Washington. Update for the 06/08/13 rebroadcast: Less than a year after the plea deal, Wilson filed a motion to withdraw the guilty plea, stating he did not fully understand the consequences of how much time he would spend in prison. On screen text graphic for 06/08/13 rebroadcast: Late yesterday, an appeals judge denied Wilson's motion to withdraw his guilty plea. He said Wilson provided no evidence he misunderstood the plea deal he signed. Chris Wilson's earliest possible release date remains August 2023. He will be 42 years old. On screen text graphic for the 08/09/14 rebroadcast: An appeals judge denied Wilson's motion to withdraw his guilty plea. "Fateful Connection"- a report on the investigation led by a determined detective to solve a 30-year-old cold case involving two young women who went missing in Florida, in 1982. Amy Hurst and Wendy Huggy did not know each other. Hurst and her new husband, Bill Hurst, had recently moved to Pasco County, Florida, leaving her two young children in the care of relatives in Michigan. Then she just disappeared. Sixteen-year-old Wendy Huggy lived with her grandparents in Pasco County, and went to a party -- she never returned home. A fisherman found a body floating in the Gulf of Mexico, wrapped in a homemade afghan, but identification proved difficult. There was no connection made to either woman, although Hurst's husband was immediately viewed as a suspect in her disappearance -- but he too disappeared, and both cases languished for decades. Detective Lisa Schoneman, a member of the cold case unit, stepped in and a new investigation began. In 2009, Amy Hurst's son discovered significant evidence about the afghan, through the Doe Network, and a body in a Tampa, Florida potter's field once thought to be Wendy Huggy's was examined. In 2011, it was determined to be that of Amy Hurst. Investigation led to her husband, Bill Hurst, who was in Kentucky. Police were able to get Hurst into custody, and he was indicted on first degree murder charges -- he was found guilty. Detective Schoneman says she will keep trying to find Wendy Huggy. On-screen text graphic: William Hurst will be 85 when he becomes eligible for parole. On screen text graphic for the 08/16/14 rebroadcast: William Hurst is appealing his conviction. "The Blue River Murder"- a report on the investigation into the 2010 death of Stephanie Roller, a Colorado mother of three who allegedly went for a walk during a blizzard and was later found dead in a nearby river. According to Roller's husband, Dale Bruner, she packed up her laptop and headed out for a walk during a blizzard. He waited 11 hours before calling police to report her missing. Friends, as well as the police, found the story strange. Three days later, she was found dead in the Blue River, the victim of a brutal murder: she had been badly beaten and was still alive when thrown into the water. The police investigation uncovered: a marriage on the brink of collapse, Stephanie's emotional affair with Ron Holthaus, and her concerns for her safety and that of her children. Police had three suspects - the jilted husband, the married boyfriend and the boyfriend's jealous wife. Ultimately, the focus turned to Dale Bruner as the chief suspect when information was discovered regarding his dark, violent side, and eight months later he was arrested for the murder of his wife. In 2012, he was convicted at trial. On screen text graphic: Dale Bruner will be eligible for parole in 2072. He would be 110 years old. On screen text graphic

"Spies, Lies & Secrets" - a report about the death of Shane Todd, a brilliant, high-tech engineer at a Singapore company who, according to his parents, was murdered because he was unwilling to share secrets that could harm the United States. But, to the police in Singapore, he was just an American who committed suicide. In 2012, Todd, then a research engineer at the Institute of Microelectronics (IME), was found dead in his Singapore apartment. His parents believe he was killed because he was unwilling to go along with a plan to share cutting-edge American technology with China. He was scheduled to leave Singapore in a matter of days when he was found dead. Journalist and 48 HOURS consultant Ray Bonner, who broke the story in London's Financial Times, says police made mistakes in the investigation, and that he is quite surprised, because Singapore is a sophisticated place. With pressure mounting, Singapore expanded a coroner's inquest into Shane Todd's death. In all, seventy witnesses testified over the course of ten days of testimony. The state's coroner ruled that the cause of death was suicide by hanging. He also found nothing legally wrong with the IME - Huawei relationship, yet determined that the meeting Shane's boss had with IME colleagues was "improper, but not witness tampering." Shane's family feel betrayed, and plan on taking their quest for truth to Washington, pressing for a congressional investigation and a meeting with President Obama. On Screen Text Graphic: The Todds are expecting their first grandchild. He will be named Truman. On screen text graphic for the 08/30/14 rebroadcast: Mary Todd has written a book about the family's ongoing quest to prove their son was murdered. "Lina's Heart" - Lina Kaufman was a married mother of two when one morning her husband found her in the bathroom, slumped over a magazine rack. Adam Kaufman called 911 and unsuccessfully tried to revive her. Lina's death gripped Aventura, Florida because she was 33-years-old when she died in 2007, and the circumstances around her death were strange. For eighteen months, Adam says he badgered the Dade County, Florida medical examiner's office seeking a conclusive explanation for his wife's death. They thought she may have had an allergic reaction to a spray tan, but in April 2009, Adam was charged with killing his wife by "mechanical asphyxiation". The trial began in May 2012 and the prosecution led the jury to believe the couple had an unhappy marriage, and fought the morning of Lina's death. Adam's defense no longer blamed Lina's death on her spray tan because there wasn't enough evidence to support it, and instead they attacked what they believed to be a botched investigation by the police. There was bruising and abrasions found on Lina's arms and legs and the defense said this was from Lina being moved from room to room by firefighters, and not a struggle with Adam. Moreover the defense said Lina died of natural causes and undiagnosed heart failure, more specifically acute and chronic myocarditis. Adam himself, and Lina's mother, Frida Aizman, both testified about Lina's prior fainting spells. Frida Aizman shared her support and love for Adam while on the stand. After eight hours, the jury reached a verdict of not guilty. On screen text graphic: Adam Kaufman plans to write a book about his ordeal. On screen text graphic for the 09/06/14 rebroadcast: Adam Kaufman is raising his two children, and is back in the real estate business. His wife lost her footing near the waterfall and plunged into a creek. Her body was swept away downstream. It appeared to be an accident, but investigators were skeptical and believed it was murder. Four years later, Mueller was arrested for first degree murder. His first trial ended in a mistrial. The second trial ended this week in another mistrial. 48 HOURS examined the incident and the trials through interviews with the Mueller family, investigators, prosecutors, and jury members. On-Screen Text Graphic: On Tuesday, the prosecution and defense will meet with Judge Wasserman to discuss the future of the case. If the prosecution decides on a third trial, it must begin within ninety days. Video update for the 09/06/14 rebroadcast: Two months after the second trial, the prosecution, with no new evidence to present, felt a unanimous verdict was unlikely and announced there would be no third trial. "Blade Runner: The Verdict"— an updated report, including the verdict, in what has been called the South African trial of the century: the murder trial Olympic athlete Oscar Pistorius ("Blade Runner"), which was originally reported on in "Oscar Pistorius: Shots in the Dark" (OAD: 06/16/14). This update includes: (1) Judge Thokozile Masipa delivers her verdict: guilty of culpable homicide (manslaughter in the US). Pistorius sits stoically as the verdict is read. Victim Reeve Steenkamp's family and friends are stunned. (2) Pistorius and Steenkamp made an attractive couple; both were rising stars in their native South Africa, but some say that Pistorius was changed by fame (OAD: 06/14/14). (3) Before there was a Reeve Steenkamp, there was a Samantha Taylor. Taylor, a former girlfriend and a witness for the prosecution along with her mother, Trish Taylor, discuss the controlling, manipulative manner displayed by Pistorius and his pre-occupation with guns. (4) Inside the exclusive Silver Woods Estate in Pretoria, South Africa, a gated community where the crime took place. Oscar Pistorius was forced to sell his home there to pay for his mounting legal fees. Includes a video re-enactment of the crime made with Pistorius, which was entered as part of the defense. (5) Judge Thokozile Masipa said she made her decision based on Pistorius' state of mind and believes it was not his intention to commit murder. (6) professional athletes sometimes develop an air of invincibility that includes the assumption that whatever happens, someone is going to take care of it. That arrogance can convince an athlete that he doesn't have to play by the rules. This issue, and that of domestic violence, is dominating the headlines in the United States with the release of the videotape of Baltimore Ravens player Ray Rice attacking his then-fiancé, now wife, in an elevator. This incident, like the shooting of Reeve Steenkamp, has caught the world's attention, and once again linked violence with athletes in the public's mind. (7) The verdict is in, the trial is over, but the story is far from over. Pistorius is out on bail awaiting his sentencing. “Loved to Death” - an investigation into the rise of violence surrounding relationship breakups among adolescents, as detailed in the story of Wayland, Massachusetts teenager Lauren Astley, a popular teen whose last encounter with her football player ex-boyfriend proved to be fatal. She had had a tumultuous relationship with Nathaniel Fujita: they dated for three years, with continual breakups and reconciliations. At the end of their senior year of high school, Lauren had broken the relationship off for good and was looking forward to college and meeting new people. Fujita, too, was to go to college, but he struggled to come to terms with the breakup. His mother, worried about him, took him to a psychiatrist. Their relationship was discussed by their friends on social media. Lauren secretly visited Nathaniel one last time to see how he was doing -- the meeting proved fatal. Two families were forever changed. Through interviews with friends, police investigators, Nathaniel’s uncle and Lauren’s parents, their relationship is examined. Also discussed are several high school programs aimed at helping teens recognize the signs of a healthy or unhealthy dating relationship. “A Raging Son” - a report about the investigation into the 2012 death of Weight Watchers executive Danielle Thomas, and the murder case against her boyfriend, Wall Street attorney Jason Bohn, who claimed being neglected by his mother as a child should keep him from spending his life in jail. Thomas was found dead in the bathtub of the Astoria, Queens apartment she shared with Jason Bohn. Thomas and Bohn had a whirlwind romance and she moved to New York to be with him. Everything seemed to be falling in place for the financial analyst, and while there was talk of marriage, the relationship had become physically and emotionally abusive. Police had been called. Bohn had been arrested for assault. Now, Bohn was arrested and charged with murder. Bohn’s defense is that an explosive moment of anger that resulted in Thomas’ death was directly connected to his bad childhood. Bohn’s attorney asserts he was abandoned by his mother Maureen O’Connell, a wealthy publishing executive, and he experienced profound neglect and abuse that caused a mental illness called Intermittent Explosive Disorder. Prosecutors dismissed his claims and they assert that audio recorded in an accidental phone call made while Thomas was still alive suggest Bohn knew exactly what he was doing. At trial, the Ivy League grad and Wall Street lawyer is found guilty of murder. “Paradise Lost” - an investigation into the 2010 shooting death of Wall Street millionaire John Bender, who was killed in his exotic home in Costa Rica. His wife, Ann, is charged with the crime, but she claims innocence. After making a $100 million fortune on Wall Street, Bender and his wife bought land in Costa Rica where they built a nature preserve, along with an elaborate, four-story hilltop home with no walls or windows as the centerpiece. The couple seemed to have everything; but both suffered from severe depression, became isolated, and were not entirely welcomed by the locals. They lived in fear after an abduction attempt and a break-in, and were forced to arm themselves and hire a security team. On January 8, 2010, John Bender died from a bullet wound to the back of the head. Was it murder, suicide or accident? Prosecutors say it was murder. Ann Bender says her husband was trying to kill himself and had been suicidal for some time. Other issues in the investigation include: allegations that the trustee of the Bender’s $100 Million fortune siphoned money from the trust, and the Bender gem collection, which to the Costa Rican authorities, looked like it could have been a smuggling operation. Nineteen months after the shooting, Ann Bender was charged with murder. At trial, Ann was found not guilty of murder; but in Costa Rica, there is no double jeopardy rule and Ann was brought up on the same charges again and this time was found guilty. 48 HOURS brought in the world-famous independent forensic team of Richard and Selma Eikelenboom, who, after examining all the evidence, say there were problems with the conclusion drawn by the prosecution. Today, Ann Bender is in prison continuing to fight for her innocence. On screen text graphic: The Bender gems, worth an estimated $20 million, were confiscated by the Costa Rican authorities. Interviewed: Ann Bender; John Bender's friend Pete DeLisi; CBS News consultant/reporter Ned Zeman; prosecutor Edgar Ramirez; Ann's psychiatrist Dr. Carlos Lizano; Bender friend, Paul Meyer; Bender Trust administrator Juan Alvarez; Ann's current boyfriend Greg Fischer; Ann's attorney Fabio Oconitrillo; security guard Oswaldo Aguilar; Ann's brother Ken Patton; forensic experts Richard and Selma Eikelenboom.
