

Issue	Date	Time Aired	Duration	Show	Segment Title	Description
Arts	10/10/2016		15	Morning Amp	Frank Waln	Frank Waln is a Lakota activist and Hip Hop artist from the Sicangu Sioux Rosebud Reservation in South Dakota. Jesse Menendez spoke with Frank about his new song called 7, which describes the plight of indigenous people in the United States. The song also addresses this country's dark history of genocide and colonization at the hands of our founding fathers. Happy Indigenous People Day!
Arts	10/10/2016		15	Morning Amp	Brujos	Chicago-native, award-winning artist, activist and academic Ricardo Gamboa joins the Amp this morning to talk about his upcoming web series BRUJOS. BRUJOS is a web series following four gay, Latino grad students--that are also witches as they try and survive the school semester and a witch hunt led by the straight, white, wealthy, male descendants of the first New World Colonizers.
Technology	10/10/2016		40	Morning Amp	Hashtag	Curtis Shaw Flagg is the operations manager at Laugh Factory Chicago, and the Director of Marketing for Open Books. He's also Vocalo's senior social media correspondent. This morning he joins the Amp in studio to recap what's trending around the web. This morning we'll discuss who controls the Internet now that the US Government handed over control to ICANN. We'll also talk about the NFL and their announcement that they are going to fine teams up to $100,000 for posting social media video during games. And finally, we'll talk about how social media may have played a role in the robbery of Kim Kardashian while she was in Paris.
Arts	10/7/2016		40	Morning Amp	The Reel Critic	When he's not speaking with celebrities at movie premieres he acts as Vocalo's senior film correspondent. He is Reggie "The Reel Critic" Ponder and he joins us break down box office numbers and to tell us which new releases are worth spending our money on.
Arts	10/7/2016		15	Morning Amp	And ya don't stop	Vocalo's senior Hip Hop correspondent Gabe Mendoza checks in with a review of West Coast rapper The Game's new album 1992.

Race	10/6/2016	40	Morning Amp	Peace Council	Britt Julious is a Journalist, essayist, and cultural critic. Evan F. Moore is a Chicago based journalist who has written for publications such as Rolling Stone.com and DNA Info Chicago. He covers sports, politics, race and culture. They make up today's Peace Council. We'll be discussing Brit's recent article for Cosmopolitan, Solange Gives a Voice to Black America With Her New Album A Seat at the Table . We'll also talk about the unapologetically Black renaissance in pop culture.
Arts	10/6/2016	15	Morning Amp	Lit and Luz Fest	Nuria Sheehan is the Managing Director of Lit & Luz Festival. Susy Bielak is an Artist and Curator of Public Practice at the Block Museum. This morning they join the Amp to talk about the 3 rd annual Lit and Luz Festival which is a festival featuring renowned authors and visual artists from Chicago and Mexico City. The event will move between Spanish and English and explore the theme of "(Anti-)Static" or "Motion."
Feminism	10/5/2016	40	Morning Amp	Council of Feminist Thought	Claudia Garcia-Rojas is a Chicago-based writer and activist. She is co-director of the Chicago Taskforce on Violence Against Girls & Young Women and a Black Studies doctoral candidate at Northwestern. She makes up today's COFT and will join us to discuss the vice presidential candidates stance on women's health issues and their voting record on women's rights matters.
Arts	10/5/2016	15	Morning Amp	Reclaimed Soul	This week on Reclaimed Soul, host Ayana Contreras will highlight deeper, lesser known Chicago Soul. We'll hear music from David Hunt, Ronnie Dyson and more.
Politics	10/5/2016	15	Morning Amp	VP Debate	Last night Vice Presidential candidates Mike Pence and Tim Kaine squared off during the first and only vice presidential debate of 2016. WBEZ Northwest Indiana Bureau reporter checks in with the NWI perspective on the debate.

Technology	10/4/2016	40	Morning A mp	Tech talk	Mike McGee is the co-founder of The Starter League, a beginner-focused software school that was acquired by Fullstack Academy, an NYC-based software school in March 2016. He is now the Director of Programs at CodeNow, a non-profit transforming underrepresented youth into coders, designers, and product managers by teaching them to solve meaningful problems with software. Today, he's in studio discussing Google's plan to debut a new virtual reality headset at an event in San Francisco later today. Also, Samsung recently acknowledged that some of its top-loading washers "pose a risk of personal injury or property damage". And finally, On Monday morning Facebook launched Marketplace on iOS and Android so its 1.7 billion users could buy and sell stuff to each other right inside the Facebook mobile app. Within hours, Facebook users were selling stuff that Facebook says they can't. Drugs. Animals. Adult services. Weapons.
Arts	10/4/2016	15	Morning A mp	Funked up Friday	Our former Senior Millennial Spending correspondent A.J Lubecker is in studio to talk about the 1 yr anniversary of his comedy variety show at Laugh Factory Chicago; Funked Up Friday!
Education	10/4/2016	15	Morning A mp	CTU Strike	Chicago Public School Teachers have been working without a contract since June 31st of 2015. Last Wednesday, the Chicago Teachers Union announced it will go on strike Oct. 11 if negotiations with Chicago Public Schools do not result in a contract acceptable to its members. WBEZ Education reporter Becky Vevea joins us with the report.
Sports	10/3/2016	15	Morning A mp	LaToya "Moneyball" Smith talks Cubs, Sox, Bears and Sky, oh my!	Bears, Cubs, Sox and Fly, oh my! Senior sports correspondent LaToya "Moneyball" Smith stops by to review weekend games with Jesse and Jill and talk this coming week in sports.

Arts	10/3/2016	40	Morning Amp	Curtis Shaw Flagg talks casting calls, sharing and Pepe the Frog	The Morning AMp talked with regular guest Curtis Shaw Flagg about Pepe the Frog, an internet meme that recently had been declared a hate symbol by the Anti-Defamation League. Later, we discuss the greater pressure put on actors to advertise through social media, and a new study investigating how young adults share on and off the web.
------	-----------	----	-------------	--	---