

Local PSA's – 4/11 thru 6/30/13 – 30 seconds/ rotator airs 8x per day
(Locally produced PSA's with local tag information).

Break the Cycle – 4/11 to 4/26/13 – Tennis Tournament in High Point, NC to benefit Next Step Ministries domestic violence shelter.

Movers for Moms – 4/11 to 5/10/13 – Local 'Two Men and a Truck' franchise offers free pick-up of daily necessities and delivers to local shelter for homeless women and domestic abuse victims for Mothers Day.

American Cancer Society – 5/3 to 6/30/13

Junior Achievement – 5/3 to 6/30/13

Cystic Fibrosis – 5/18 to 6/30/13

Red Cross Blood Donations – 5/27 to 6/30/13

Military Appreciation Day – 5/15 to 6/1/13 – advertises 6/2 deep-sea fishing event for veterans

Midday Gospel Praise – Weekdays noon to 2pm

May 22 – Piedmont University president – discussion on availability of minority scholarships.

May 21– 1:05p-1:10p – Mike Andrews phone-in about event to raise money for Team Challenge, a Christ centered drug treatment facility for teens in Greensboro, NC.

April 29, May 2 & 3 – Susan G. Komen Walk on May 4th. (Short segments each day – approx.: 2 minutes.)

Sunday Praise and Worship – Sundays 8:30am to 11am

April 28 – Susan G. Komen Walk on May 4th.

Family Policy Matters NC – Saturdays at 6am

Supreme Court Considers Public Prayer

This week on "Family Policy Matters," NCFPC president John Rustin talks with David Cortman, senior legal counsel and vice president for religious liberty for the Alliance Defending Freedom (ADF). David talks about a major religious freedom case currently before the U.S. Supreme Court, Town of Greece v. Galloway, which involves the constitutionality of the town's public invocation policy that allows clergy members from the community to offer prayers before local government meetings. As David explains, this case has far-reaching implications for similar prayer policies of localities across the nation, including North Carolina. (June 22, 2013)

Abortion's Link to Pre-term Birth, Part 2

This week on “Family Policy Matters,” NCFPC president John Rustin continues a discussion he began last week with Martin McCaffrey, MD, clinical professor of pediatrics at the University of North Carolina School of Medicine in Chapel Hill, and the Director of the Perinatal Quality Collaborative of North Carolina. Dr. McCaffrey discusses the association between prior abortions and later pre-term birth, which he highlights in the article he wrote for the latest issue of Family North Carolina, the Council’s quarterly magazine. (June 15, 2013)

Abortion's Link to Pre-term Birth, Part 1

This week on “Family Policy Matters”, NCFPC president John Rustin talks with Martin McCaffrey, MD, clinical professor of pediatrics at the University of North Carolina School of Medicine in Chapel Hill, and the Director of the Perinatal Quality Collaborative of North Carolina. Dr. McCaffrey talks about the association between prior abortions and later pre-term birth, which he highlights in the article he wrote for the latest issue of Family North Carolina, the Council's quarterly magazine. (June 8, 2013)

The Faith and Family Connection, Part 2

This week on “Family Policy Matters”, NCFPC president John Rustin continues a discussion he began last week with Mary Eberstadt, senior fellow of the Ethics and Public Policy Center in Washington, DC. Mary talks about her new book, How the West Really Lost God: A New Theory of Secularization, which argues that the breakdown of the family in the West has contributed to the decline in religious belief. (June 1, 2013)

The Faith and Family Connection, Part 1

This week on “Family Policy Matters”, NCFPC president John Rustin, talks with Mary Eberstadt, one of America's leading cultural commentators, and senior fellow of the Ethics and Public Policy Center in Washington, DC. Mary talks about her new book, How the West Really Lost God: A New Theory of Secularization, which argues that the breakdown of the family in the West has contributed to the decline in religious belief. (May 25, 2013)

The Truth About "Charitable" Gambling

This week on “Family Policy Matters”, NCFPC president John Rustin talks with Asheville-based attorney Chris Derrick about his recent article for Family North Carolina magazine, “With Charity Toward None: Why Legalized Charity Gambling Casino Nights is Uncharitable.” Chris explains why so-called “charitable” gambling is really just casino gambling in disguise, and comes with the same dangers to individuals and society. (May 18, 2013)

General Assembly Legislation

This week on “Family Policy Matters,” new NCFPC president John Rustin talks with outgoing NCFPC president Bill Brooks. Brooks, who is stepping down from the NCFPC after serving nearly 20 years as president, talks about the 2013 legislative session, and some of the opportunities for pro-family legislation. (May 11, 2013)

Getting To Know John Rustin

This week on “Family Policy Matters,” outgoing NCFPC president Bill Brooks talks with

John Rustin, the new president of the NCFPC and the new host of "Family Policy Matters". Rustin formerly served as executive director of the North Carolina Free Enterprise Foundation. (May 4, 2013)

Impact Of Divorce On Children

This week on "Family Policy Matters," NCFPC president Bill Brooks talks with Patrick Fagan, Ph.D., Director and Senior Fellow at the Marriage and Religion Research Institute at the Family Research Council. Dr. Fagan talks about the negative impact of divorce on children, including how divorce impacts them physically and mentally. (April 27, 2013)

Love And Fidelity On Campus

This week on "Family Policy Matters," NCFPC president Bill Brooks talks with Caitlin Seery talks about the hook up culture on most university and college campuses today, and shares how the Love and Fidelity Network is working to combat that climate by promoting healthy sexual and family values among students. (April 20, 2013)

The Healthy Marriage Act

This week on "Family Policy Matters," NCFPC president Bill Brooks talks with Mike McManus, co-founder and co-chair of Marriage Savers, about S518-Healthy Marriage Act, a bill that was recently introduced in the General Assembly that would reform North Carolina's divorce laws. (April 13, 2013)

School Choice in North Carolina, Part 2

This week on "Family Policy Matters," NCFPC president Bill Brooks continues a discussion he began last week with Robert Luebke, Ph.D., senior policy analyst for the John W. Pope Civitas Institute. Dr. Luebke talks about school choice in North Carolina, why it is needed, and some of the school choice measures that have been introduced so far this year in the General Assembly. (April 6, 2013)