Dear Affiliate Partner:

To assist you in complying with the reporting requirements for children's television and the requirement that stations air "core" educational and informational children's programming, we are providing you with episode-specific descriptions ("The More You Know" educational and informational programming block) as set forth in the attached Quarterly Children's Programming Report for the 1st quarter of 2023. Please note that we have not included the specific dates and times for each of the programs as that information may be station-specific.

This report is divided into the following categories:

1. Educational Objectives and Show Summaries: The More You Know both for programs broadcast in the 1st quarter of 2023 and those planned for the 2nd quarter of 2023.
2. Core Programming: Regularly scheduled programming furnished by the NBC Network that is specifically designed to serve the educational and informational needs of children ages 13-16. Each of these programs is identified on-air as educational and informational with the "E/I" icon and is similarly identified to the national listing services. Please note that the target age range for The More You Know programming is identified as 13-16 years old.
3. Other Programming: Programming furnished by the NBC Network that contributes to the educational and informational needs of children 16 and under but is not specifically designed to meet the educational and informational needs of children.
4. Public service announcements targeted to children 16 and under.
5. Non-broadcast efforts that enhance the educational and informational value of NBC Network programming to children.

The regularly-scheduled children's programming and promotional content furnished to you by the NBC Network during the 1st quarter of 2023 complied with the commercial limits of the Children's Television Act, and 47 C.F.R. §§ 73.670(a)-(d), provided that you broadcast and distributed such programming as furnished to you by NBC, and did not add any promotional or advertising content thereto other than as directed by NBC via weekly postings on APT.

Despite the recent revisions to the Children's Television Programming Rules we will continue to provide this report on a quarterly basis. Please consult your legal counsel with any questions.

EARTH ODYSSEY WITH DYLAN DREYER
THE FAMOUS FACES OF AFRICA [EDD520]

Host Dylan Dreyer is taking us on an African adventure to see the celebrities of the savanna! On this adventure, we get up-close and personal with animals and insects as they compete in challenges of skill and talent. These animals range in size and strength, from the largest land mammal, the elephant, which weighs up to seven tons to the strongest insect in the world, the dung beetle, an insect capable of shifting a mass one-thousand one hundred forty-one times its own weight! Surviving in the savannah isn't all competition, it also involves teamwork, such as the red-billed oxpecker and its quick work of eating hundreds of parasites off most forms of animals in just one minute or the gorillas who make childrearing a shared task of the troupe. Plus, we make a local stop in Chicago at the Brookfield Zoo to meet Sophia the leopard tortoise and learn a little bit about what makes her species so unique.

[Educational Message: Being superstars of the savanna is no easy task; it takes work and resilience and a bit of teamwork. From the massive elephant to the modest dung beetle, Africa's rich ecosystem shows us nature's brilliance and interconnectivity in its many forms.]

MUTUAL OF OMAHA’S WILD KINGDOM PROTECTING THE WILD DESERT-DWELLING TORTOISES [WLK101]

Join us as we venture to the Edwards Air Force Base in the Mojave Desert to observe an ancient and important creature that is on the brink of extinction. Desert tortoises have been living in this region for over thirty million years. But in recent decades, widespread urbanization has radically changed this environment and the resulting habitat loss is causing the tortoise population to disappear. Thanks, in part, to conservation biologists working in this area to raise a whopping seventy tortoises a year, they may yet have a fighting chance. But that’s just one part of the problem; ravens are a common threat to tortoises and their numbers have only increased due to man-made developments. Field biologist Tim Smith shows us his high-tech solutions for combating the invasive presence of ravens through the use of pressure-triggered repellants and firing lasers to redirect them from nesting in the area. These methods utilize a raven’s vast intelligence to retrain their behavior in hopes this will help re-balance the ecosystem.
