The listing is by no means exhaustive. The order in which the issues appear does not reflect any priority or significance.

DESCRIPTION OF ISSUE	PROGRAM SEGMENT	DATE	TIME	DURATION	NARRATION OF TYPE/ DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM SEGMENT
SAFETY: NEWS AND INFORMATION
SAFETY	UniMás News Briefs	1/23/15	Various	:30	The Department of Homeland Security reported the Transportation Security Administration found more than 2,000 firearms at nation's airports last year, the majority of them loaded. The number reflected a 22 percent increase from 2013, when 1,813 firearms were discovered. The number of firearms discovered at TSA checkpoints has risen every year since 2005.
IMMIGRATION REFORM: NEWS AND INFORMATION
IMMIGRATION	UniMás News Briefs	1/6/15	Various	:30	The Department of Homeland Security said today that anybody that enters the country illegally, or that aids others in doing so, will not be eligible for the recent executive action proposed and set in motion by President Obama. This warning comes in part with a publicity campaign directed at Mexico and Central America, which seeks to bring to light the immigration reform that has been active since President Obama's announcement last November.
IMMIGRATION	UniMás News Briefs	1/7/15	Various	:30	The Department of Homeland Security announced El Salvador's designation for Temporary Protected Status is being extended for 18 months, from March 10, 2015, through September 9, 2016. The extension allows eligible TPS beneficiaries to retain their status as long as they otherwise continue to meet the eligibility requirements.
IMMIGRATION	Perspectiva Nacional	1/11/15	6:00 AM	14:59	Mexico's president, Enrique Peña Nieto visited the White House. At the meeting, President Obama addressed issues such as economy, security and immigration between the two countries. The international impact of these issues and for Mexicans in the United States, is what we discuss with Peter Schechter, an analyst at the Atlantic Council, and Maureen Meyer, an analyst at Washington Office on Latin America.
IMMIGRATION	UniMás News Briefs	1/28/15	Various	:30	The Obama administration has ordered training for immigration agents, including describing encounters between agents and immigrants and how agents should proceed, a checklist of questions to determine whether immigrants might qualify under the President's plans to avoid deportation and to review government files to identify any jailed immigrants to release under the program. This places the obligation on the government to identify immigrants who might qualify for lenient treatment when it was previously the responsibility of immigrants or their lawyers to assert.
IMMIGRATION	UniMás News Briefs	2/2/15	Various	:30	Thousands of immigrants seeking legalization through the U.S. court system have had their hearings cancelled and are being told that it may be 2019 before their cases are resolved. Some immigration lawyers fear the delay will leave their clients at risk of deportation as evidence becomes dated, witnesses disappear, sponsoring relatives die and dependent children become adults.
IMMIGRATION	UniMás News Briefs	2/5/15	Various	:30	The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) commissioner stated that undocumented immigrants granted work permits under the Obama administration's amnesty orders will qualify for the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC). These credits would be paid retroactively for the three-year period before they file for their permits if they have been working that long while in the country illegally. Some undocumented immigrants that qualify under the President's executive action order may also qualify for certain tax credits.
IMMIGRATION	UniMás News Briefs	2/12/15	Various	:30	The ACLU says the federal government has refused to turn over public records regarding the alleged abuse of migrant children while they were in the care of immigration authorities. The organization sought the records through the Freedom of Information Act in December after filing a complaint last summer alleging more than 100 minors were abused or mistreated by Border Patrol agents while in their custody.
IMMIGRATION	Perspectiva Nacional	2/15/15	6:00 AM	7:59	Representative Luis Gutierrez (D-IL) addresses the issue of immigration and what happens behind the scenes at the House regarding the executive actions President Obama and extension process of DACA. Also Representative Tony Cardenas (D-CA) also reminds the audience to enroll for health insurance and why it is important to do so.

IMMIGRATION REFORM: NEWS AND INFORMATION
IMMIGRATION	UniMás News Briefs	2/17/15	Various	:30	U.S. District Judge Andrew Hanen of Texas has temporarily blocked President Obama's executive action on illegal immigration by granting a request from 26 states to allow the courts to look at its constitutionality before it is implemented. The Homeland Security Department is ceasing preparations for a program designed to shield millions of immigrants from deportation. The ruling means that the Homeland Security Department also won't be accepting applications for an expanded Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program,
IMMIGRATION	Perspectiva Nacional	2/22/15	6:00 AM	17:00	We discuss the decision of Judge Andrew S. Hanen, from the District Court in Texas, which temporarily suspended President Obama's executive actions on immigration. Latino community leaders, Ben Monterroso and Lorella Praeli inform our viewers what the future holds for the pro-immigration movement despite the injunction. An immigration attorney speaks on the next steps and how soon the appeal of the decision by the federal government will take place and what those benefitting from executive action can do while the lawsuit is resolved.
IMMIGRATION	UniMás News Briefs	2/23/15	Various	:30	The U.S. government asked a federal judge Monday to lift his temporary hold on President Obama's action to shield millions of immigrants from deportation. The Justice Department's motion for a stay was filed with U.S. District Court Judge Andrew Hanen in Brownsville, Texas. If the stay is granted, President Obama's immigration action would go forward while the lawsuit proceeds through the courts. The states have argued the President's action would force increases in law enforcement, healthcare, and education.
IMMIGRATION	UniMás News Briefs	2/27/15	Various	:30	Hundreds of immigrants have been deported not by the federal government but by hospitals looking to cut costs in a process known as "medical repatriation." U.S. hospitals send undocumented patients back to their home countries, often while they're comatose and unable to consent. These patients are sent to medical facilities in their home countries often resulting in long-term disability and death.
IMMIGRATION	Perspectiva Nacional	3/1/15	6:00 AM	8:00	We discuss the urgency that pro-immigration community organizations and the consulates of Mexico in the country are injecting to those who can benefit from the executive action so they can continue to ready their documents. The Consul of Mexico expands on the topic along with Gustavo Torres, Executive Director of CASA de Maryland, who believes the President's immigration plan will succeed in court.
IMMIGRATION	UniMás News Briefs	3/29/15	Various	:30	President Obama's executive order could yield immediate effects for undocumented immigrants who have been working and paying taxes for a long time in the U.S. Thousands could have access to federal refunds from previous years. Experts offer advice for those interested when the order takes effect.
IMMIGRATION	UniMás News Briefs	3/30/15	Various	:30	As of today, the grand majority of legal residents in this country will be able to renew their green cards online by paying $450. This change seeks to simplify the process by which immigrants are able to renew their legal status in the country. The exact charge is $365 for the document and $85 to enter and be reviewed for the biometric information. If the person seeking this renewal has committed a crime, they must first speak with a lawyer before attempting to renew their green card.
WOMEN'S ISSUES: NEWS AND INFORMATION
WOMEN'S ISSUES	Perspectiva Nacional	3/8/15	6:00 AM	23:00	In commemoration of International Women's Day, we talk with community leaders who give their perspective on the struggle for gender equality in regards to wage, labor, civic and political participation. Hispanic community leaders provide their perspective on the challenges women face today in the workplace and why females are underrepresented in the political arena at all levels. We also discuss the challenges older women are facing not only in the workplace, but also with their health.
HEALTH: NEWS AND INFORMATION
HEALTH	UniMás News Briefs	1/22/15	Various	:30	Using certain electronic cigarettes at high temperature setting could potentially release more formaldehyde, a cancer-causing chemical, than smoking traditional cigarettes does. Formaldehyde is found in many things, certain building materials, disinfectants and embalming fluid.

HEALTH: NEWS AND INFORMATION
HEALTH	UniMás News Briefs	1/30/15	Various	:30	Scientists in the life sciences division of Google X labs are working on a proactive, preventative approach to one of the world's deadliest diseases and making a wristband that detects cancer cells by using human skin. The wristband would work in tandem with a pill that would send nanoparticles through the body to latch on to markers of different conditions and diseases including cancer.
HEALTH	UniMás News Briefs	2/3/15	Various	:30	According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, more than 100 individuals across 14 states are infected with the measles. The CDC is again encouraging all parents to get their children vaccinated.
HEALTH	UniMás News Briefs	2/11/15	Various	:30	The nation's top nutrition advisory panel has dropped its caution about eating cholesterol-laden food, a move that could undo almost 40 years of government warning about its consumption. The new view on cholesterol in food does not reverse warnings about high levels of "bad" cholesterol in the blood, which have been linked to heart disease. Moreover, some experts warned that people with particular health problems, such as diabetes, should continue to avoid cholesterol-rich diets.
HEALTH	Perspectiva Nacional	2/15/15	6:00 AM	9:02	We discuss health issues in particular the measles outbreak, with prominent health officials who explain the issues behind the disease and encourage everyone to get vaccinated regardless of age and they also clarify false rumors about the effects of immunization.
HEALTH	UniMás News Briefs	2/24/15	Various	:30	Children at high risk of developing peanut allergies are far less likely to do so if they are given peanut-containing foods before they turn one year old. Peanut allergies are rising and affect more than two percent of children. The American Academy of Pediatrics used to recommend no peanut-based foods before age three but found no evidence it prevented allergies.
HEALTH	UniMás News Briefs	2/24/15	Various	:30	It was confirmed by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention that there is no evidence tying undocumented immigrants to the recent measles outbreak that has afflicted individual communities. There are an estimated 20 million measles cases worldwide every year and very few ever reach the United States.
HEALTH	Orlando Al Minuto	3/5/15	Various	:30	The time for subscribing for health insurance has been extended from March 15 through April 30, whereas those people that have not signed up, can do so now to avoid paying the penalty fee for not having medical insurance. A person is eligible to take advantage of this period of extension, also, if there has been a major life change such as a marriage or birth of a child.
POLITICS: NEWS AND INFORMATION
POLITICS	Perspectiva Nacional	1/18/15	6:00 AM	9:01	Arizona Representative Ruben Galego (D-AZ) joins us along with Executive Director of Mi Familia Vota, Ben Monterroso. They analyze President Obama's executive actions on immigration topic which will likely be mentioned in President Obama's State of the Union address.
POLITICS	Perspectiva Nacional	2/1/15	6:00 AM	17:02	Discussion with leaders of the religious community centered on the future visit of Pope Francis later this year as his visit is not merely religious in nature. He is scheduled to address the Congress as well as hold meetings with President Obama in regards for a final action on immigration reform. We discuss what effect or impact this will have among politicians.
POLITICS	UniMás News Briefs	3/22/15	Various	:30	Senator Ted Cruz (R-TX) is expected to announce his candidacy at Liberty University, an evangelical Christian school in Virginia, for the 2016 U.S. presidential election race, giving the Tea Party favorite a head start. As a presidential candidate, he is likely to portray himself as the most reliable proponent of small government.
POLITICS	Perspectiva Nacional	3/29/15	6:00 AM	7:59	We discuss with two analysts the pre-candidacy announcement of Ted Cruz for president in 2016.

EDUCATION: NEWS AND INFORMATION

EDUCATION	UniMás News Briefs	1/8/15	Various	:30	The Pershing Square Foundation, supported by Donald Graham, CEO of Graham Holdings Company and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, has made a three-year, $10 million investment to The Dream.US, a national scholarship program for undocumented youth who want to attend a four-year college. Five-hundred accepted Fall applicants have been notified that they've been awarded up to $25,000.

EDUCATION	UniMás News Briefs	2/4/15	Various	:30	President Obama spoke with six young immigrants known as "Dreamers" who would be subject to eventual deportation under a bill passed by the House. The legislation would overturn President Obama's executive actions limiting deportations for millions of undocumented immigrants and also giving them authorization to work. The president is confident he could uphold a veto over any attempts to override his executive action.

EDUCATION	UniMás News Briefs	3/6/15	Various	:30	The government filed this week an advisory that notified Judge Andrew Hanen in Texas that it has already implemented significant parts of the Expanded DACA program, by granting protections and work permits to approximately 100,000 people.

EDUCATION	UniMás News Briefs	3/10/15	Various	:30	President Obama has asked the Treasury and Education Departments and the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau to report by October 1 on whether bankruptcy laws or other laws or regulations should be changed for student loans. The review will focus on private student loans that do not carry protections given to federal student loan borrowers, such as the ability for borrowers with permanent disabilities to discharge loans.

GOVERNMENT: NEWS AND INFORMATION

GOVERNMENT	UniMás News Briefs	1/18/15	Various	:30	President Obama wants to make tax increases for the wealthy and reductions or credits for the middle class, as part of a tax reform. This new tax reform would crack down on what is known as the "stepped-up basis" which is a tax break that mostly benefits the wealthy. In doing so it would increase the top rate to 28% from the current rate of about 25% with various surcharges while expanding the number of things that would be subject to it.

GOVERNMENT	UniMás News Briefs	3/4/15	Various	:30	As the nation awaits a Supreme Court ruling on Obamacare, lawmakers in many states are moving ahead with a range of Affordable Care Act bills, some of which seek to bolster the law and others that are bent on derailing it. The issue is whether subsidies issued through exchanges operated by the federal government are legal. By the end of June, the justices are expected to issue a ruling, which could either uphold the law as it now operates or strike down those subsidies for good.

GOVERNMENT	Orlando Al Minuto	3/13/15	Various	:30	The IRS indicated they have about billion dollars in repayments nationally, from the year 2011 that has not been claimed. It is estimated that about one million people did not file income tax returns that year and about 57,500 of that total are residents of Florida. The IRS says the money that is not claimed will be sent to the Treasury Department.

GOVERNMENT	UniMás News Briefs	3/27/15	Various	:30	According to a senior administration official, Secret Service staffers are no longer allowed to drive official government cars within ten hours of drinking alcohol. The rules were put into place after two allegedly drunk agents drove into a barrier during a suspicious package investigation next to the White House on March 4.

ECONOMY	Perspectiva Nacional	2/8/15	6:00 AM	8:00	We talk about the border and the blooming economy with Congressman Henry Cuellar (D-TX) and the deputy of Nuevo Leon. We also discuss the commercial bonanza at the border that is helping both Mexico and the United States and the impact it would have in this economy if there are changes in immigration policies between the two countries.
ECONOMY	Perspectiva Nacional	2/8/15	6:00 AM	6:01	We briefly explain the tax credits presented by President Obama this week, as part of his budget message. Alejandro Mendoza details the benefits for middle class families, not only in terms of taxes, but also for family finances.
ECONOMY	Perspectiva Nacional	3/15/15	6:00 AM	8:02	We discuss the progress of the "right to work" laws in 25 U.S. states. This legislation allows certain employees of private companies to avoid paying their dues to the labor unions. We discuss the impact this law has on the union movement and worker protections now and how this benefits corporations. To discuss this topic further we speak with Rosa Lozano, National Worker Center Partnership Coordinator of the AFL-CIO and the Executive Director of LCLAA, Hector Sanchez.
LATINO ISSUES: NEWS AND INFORMATION
LATINO ISSUES	Perspectiva Nacional	1/4/15	6:00 AM	23:01	Ambassadors Luis Carlos Villegas and Harold Forsyth of Colombia and Peru respectively, joined us to discuss the opportunities of the Pacific Alliance, of which their countries are members, along with Mexico and Chile. This initiative would open the door to these four countries to develop innovative policies in various fields, especially in economic development and employment, which could be an option to reduce the migration flow to the United States.
LATINO ISSUES	UniMás News Briefs	1/12/15	Various	:30	In 2000, at the start of George W. Bush administration, the cost of applying for citizenship was $225. By 2008, the cost had risen to $675. After the 2007 surge, the share of legal permanent residents of Mexican origin who naturalized dropped from 19.8 percent in 2008 to 12.7 percent in 2010. Green card renewal was far cheaper than naturalization, hence, legal permanent residents who were poorer and less educated opted to keep renewing legal residency rather than become citizens.
LATINO ISSUES	UniMás News Briefs	1/15/15	Various	:30	Millions of DREAMers needed their birth certificates to qualify for the deferred action federal program but were unable to travel to their countries to obtain them. Because of direct internet connection with Mexican civil registries, DREAMers and other undocumented immigrants are now able to obtain their birth certificate through the various consulates in the United States.
LATINO ISSUES	UniMás News Briefs	1/16/15	Various	:30	In a Pew Research Center poll 63% of Americans said they approve of President Obama's announcement to re-establish diplomatic relationships with Cuba after more than 50 years of tensions. The majority also agree that the President should end the trade embargo on Cuba.

LATINO ISSUES: NEWS AND INFORMATION
LATINO ISSUES	Perspectiva Nacional	3/22/15	6:00 AM	23:50	We discuss racial profiling and excessive force by local authorities with Marty Castro, Federal Commissioner for Civil Rights. Also, Attorney Louis Paoli provides recommendations on what Latinos should do if they find themselves unjustly seized by police, regardless if they have immigration documents or not.
LATINO ISSUES	Perspectiva Nacional	3/29/15	6:00 AM	9:02	In 2011, a court in Texas banned the sheriff of Maricopa County in Arizona from ordering interventions based on racial profiling. Despite the court ruling, the sheriff led more interventions which violated the court ruling. To soften the action, the sheriff made a donation of $100,000 to a civil rights organization and proposed the government create a fund of $350,000 for victims of these actions. We ask two community leaders their opinions and they both agree the self-imposed fine is not enough to repair the damage done to the immigrant community in the state.
LATINO ISSUES	UniMás News Briefs	3/31/15	Various	:30	The National Association of Hispanic Real Estate Professionals blamed more stringent underwriting standards and higher mortgage fees for driving down the numbers of Hispanics who own homes. The percentage of Hispanic homeowners is at its lowest point in sixteen years.
CRIME ISSUES: NEWS AND INFORMATION
CRIME ISSUES	Orlando Al Minuto	1/13/15	Various	:30	Police are looking for a suspect that tried to steal a car at an auto parts establishment with a mother and her children inside the car at the time. CRIME ISSUES	Orlando Al Minuto	1/23/15	Various	:30	School authorities at Cocoa High School located in Brevard County received an anonymous call that an 11th grade student had brought a gun to school. The authorities found the gun in the student's vehicle. According to the Brevard County school district code the student will either be suspended or expelled from school.
CRIME ISSUES	Orlando Al Minuto	2/3/15	Various	:30	Authorities are warning the public of the high incidents of fraud, especially scammers that call and claim to be IRS employees, asking for personal information and payment to avoid being arrested. Authorities warn that you should never give any personal information over the phone to avoid being scammed.
CRIME ISSUES	UniMás News Briefs	2/28/15	Various	:30	According to the Federal Trade Commission's annual report, identity theft was the number one complaint from Americans this year once again. Massive data breaches that could lead to identity theft keep happening and most recently, hackers hit insurance companies stealing sensitive information of millions of customers.
CRIME ISSUES	Orlando Al Minuto	3/3/15	Various	:30	According to the transportation safety authorities, there has been an alarming number of weapons that have been confiscated at airports. Despite the regulations ruling out traveling with a weapon aboard the plane, the authorities at the security checkpoints in 2014 recuperated more than 2,000 weapons, which represents a 22 percent increase from the previous year. Of that total, 47 were found at the Orlando International Airport. To date there have been nine fire arms confiscated at the Orlando International Airport.
TERRORISM: WARNING, NEWS AND INFORMATION
TERRORISM	UniMás News Briefs	1/13/15	Various	:30	U.S. airport screeners have been ordered to enhance the number of random searches of passengers and carry-on luggage due to a step-by-step recipe of kitchen ingredients for what al Qaeda calls the hidden bomb to bring down an airplane. After alleged ISIS followers took over the twitter feed and YouTube channel of the U.S. Central command, the FBI today is launching a full investigation.
TERRORISM	UniMás News Briefs	2/21/15	Various	:30	A new intelligence assessment circulated by the Department of Homeland Security and reviewed by CNN, focuses on the domestic terror threat from right-wing sovereign citizen extremists and comes as the Obama administration holds a White House conference to focus efforts to fight violent extremism.
