Diana was last seen leaving a bar on June 20th with her on-again, off-again boyfriend, 32-year-old Michael (Mike) Jones, who worked in wealth management at PNC Bank. Witnesses reported that the couple seemed to be having a good time, but also told police at one point it looked like Diana was upset. She never returned home; her mother knew something was wrong when her daughter didn’t call her, something she did every day. Investigators looked into Mike Jones and learned he was well educated, had gone to law school and thrived at his job as a wealth manager at PNC Bank; they also learned he told outlandish lies and was a convicted felon on probation for threatening to kill an ex-girlfriend near Fort Lauderdale in 2012. Initially unable to locate Mike, investigators found his car in a Hampton Inn parking lot in the Fort Pierce area; he claimed to not know of Diana’s location. Three days after she had gone missing, further investigation led to the discovery of Diana’s car in a Publix parking lot in Melbourne; her body was in the trunk. Two days after Diana’s body was found, Mike Jones was charged with her murder; he pleaded not guilty. In October 2019, his trial began in Vero Beach; prosecutors sought the death penalty. After seven days of testimony, the case went to the jury, who found Mike guilty in less than an hour. Lori’s husband, Chad Daybell, a former gravedigger-turned-doomsday novelist and podcaster, will be tried later. Chad and Lori were charged in May 2021 with murdering her children, 7-year-old JJ Vallow and 16-year-old Tylee Ryan, who disappeared in September 2019, shortly after the family moved to Idaho, from Arizona. Tylee was last seen in Yellowstone National Park with her family on September 8th, 2019; JJ vanished on September 23rd, 2019. In June 2020, their bodies were found in shallow graves on Chad Daybell’s property, just outside of Rexburg, ID. The Daybells pleaded not guilty to the murder charges. During the trial, prosecutors argued that Lori’s true motive was money; the defense claimed she did not commit the murders and suggested that Lori was manipulated by Chad. After 60 witnesses and four weeks of testimony, the prosecution rested its case; the defense declined to call any witnesses. The jury deliberated for seven hours over the course of two days; Lori appeared emotionless as the guilty verdicts were read. She will be sentenced at a later date. On-screen text graphic: Chad Daybell may stand trial as early as June 2024. He has pled not guilty. 48 HOURS: “The Plot to Kill Jamie Faith” (9:00 – 10:00p) - a report on the murder of American Airlines manager Jamie Faith. Jamie and his wife, Jennifer, set out from their Oak Cliff neighborhood in Dallas, TX for an early morning dog walk on October 9th, 2020. Moments after they left home, Jamie was shot dead; Jennifer was unharmed. The murder stunned their friends and neighbors and the community rallied around Jennifer, raising more than $60,000 in a GoFundMe account to help her and her daughter make up for Jamie’s lost income; they also provided meals for the grieving family. Investigators learned that starting in April 2020, Jennifer had been in constant contact with a man she dated in high school, Darrin Lopez. Darrin drove the same make and model as the gunman’s getaway truck in Jamie’s murder; text messages between Darrin and Jennifer, cell phone data and GPS coordinates further linked him to the crime. Darrin was arrested on January 11th, 2021, in Dickson, TN and charged with a federal gun crime and, at the state level, charged with murder; he pleaded not guilty to both charges. On February 24th, Jennifer was arrested on obstruction of justice charges. Along with other evidence, prosecutors discovered an email account in Jamie’s name, in which Jennifer pretended to be Jamie, in order to taunt Darrin. In September 2021, Jennifer was charged with murder-for-hire. On February 7th, 2022, Jennifer appeared in a Dallas courtroom and pleaded guilty to one count of use of interstate commerce in the commission of murder-for-hire. In exchange for the guilty plea, prosecutors agreed to take the death penalty off the table and recommended a life sentence. 48 HOURS: “A Stabbing in Colts Neck” (10:00 – 11:00p) - a report on Donna Ongsiako’s story of survival and her ongoing efforts to help other victims of random violence. In early July 2013, Donna was alone in her Colts Neck, NJ home after midnight, when she heard a noise downstairs near the door. Donna thought that she forgot to let the cat in; when she opened the door, a young man with a knife pushed his way in and repeatedly stabbed her. He asked for her car keys and a lighter, stabbed her one last time in the chest and left her for dead. Although it was later determined she lost three quarters of the blood in her body, Donna made her way upstairs to where her phone was charging and dialed 911; she was able to give a description of her attacker. A tip from one of the assailant’s relatives led investigators to 16-year-old Brennan Doyle, a local teen with no criminal record. In September 2013, investigators obtained a warrant for Brennan’s DNA, fingerprints and photos. The results indicated a fingerprint match and his DNA was found in Donna’s recovered car; the knife used in the attack was found in early October 2013 and was matched to another knife police had taken from the Doyle home a few months prior to Donna’s attack, when police responded to an altercation between Brennan and his brother. A new search of the Doyle residence turned up the rest of the knife set and Brennan was arrested in late October 2013. He pleaded not guilty and claimed he was under the influence of hallucinogenic mushrooms the night of July 6th, early morning July 7th, 2013. In August 2015, Brennan Doyle agreed to a plea deal; in October 2015, he was sentenced to 15 years in state prison. Donna continued to struggle with PTSD and unable to find support groups for victims of random attacks, she created her own in 2015 - Survivors of Violent Crimes, a peer support group. On-screen text graphic: Donna filed a civil suit against Brennan Doyle and his father.
