When first responders arrived, the cut was so deep, police questioned whether it was really a suicide attempt. Medical experts claim there is no physical way she could have committed the act herself. Later, Mead changed her story: it wasn’t suicide, it was her estranged husband Kris Ertmann, who tried to kill her. Mead claimed she met Ertmann in a secluded park to get a child support check. He suddenly grabbed her in a bear hug and slit her throat. Thinking she was about to die, she drove the car to a parking lot which became a second crime scene. An investigation led to Ertman being arrested and charged with attempted murder. He claimed he could not remember anything and had PTSD. Additional investigating revealed Ertmann ultimately trying to arrange a hit on his estranged wife, resulting in an undercover cop posing as a hit man and getting instructions from Ertmann to kill his wife. The case never went to trial. Prosecutors offered a deal to plead no contest, and will spend the rest of his life in prison. Tiffany Mead lives with her new husband and her emotional support dog. When Huisentrui did not arrive at the station for her morning assignment, police were alerted. Outside her apartment, they found signs of a struggle, but her car was still at the scene. An extensive search was conducted, but she was never seen again and her body has never been found. An investigation led authorities to information that Jodi had reported a possible stalker nine months before her disappearance. Several people became suspects, including close friend John Vansice, who some of her friends suspected wanted a romantic relationship, despite their 22-year age difference. Another was Tony Jackson, a serial rapist who lived nearby at the time of Jodi’s disappearance. Throughout the years, friends and family members have kept up the search for Jodi, despite her family declaring her dead in 2001 as a means to settle her estate. In 2003, a group of journalists created a website to keep the story alive and to crack the case. As of 2017, John Vansice, living in Phoenix, is still considered a suspect. Mason City police believe they are close to solving the case. On June 5, 2018, which would have been Jodi’s 50th birthday, four billboards were unveiled in Mason City, Iowa, keeping her memory alive with the hope of solving her disappearance. 06/01/19 Update: On June 5, 2018 on what would have been Jodi’s fiftieth birthday the findjodi.com team officially unveiled four billboards around Mason City. On-screen text graphic: FindJodi. The disappearance shocked the city and still haunts law enforcement investigators who have spent decades trying to find Patz. This case changed the way in which parents watch over their children. Police searched for him extensively, but the case grew cold. There was one suspect, a pedophile named Jose Ramos, but the case against him never moved forward because it lacked corroboration. In 2010, new District Attorney Cyrus Vance, Jr. vowed to take a fresh look into Etan’s disappearance. In 2012, the NYPD got a tip from a relative of Pedro Hernandez, who had talked about hurting a boy around the time of the Patz disappearance. Police questioned him and he confessed to the crime. He also took them to locations near the Patz home where he said he disposed of the body. His court-appointed attorney says he’s unreliable because of his psychiatric condition. Jayme Closs’ story captured the world’s hearts when she disappeared from her family’s home in Barron, Wisconsin on October 15, 2018. She fled her captor 88 days later. The report focuses on the heroism Closs showed in outwitting her kidnapper, Jake Patterson. Closs was discovered missing after police responded to a strange 911 call from her family home. - 06/15/19 48 HOURS: “Portrait of a Killer” - a report about a new controversial California law that could free Daniel Marsh, who was convicted of the murders of Oliver “Chip” Northrup and Claudia Maupin. Both the victims were savagely stabbed to death as they slept inside their Davis, California home. Police found no physical evidence. Investigation had ruled out family members and police were running out of clues. Then two months after the April 14, 2013 murders, the police received a phone call from a teenager who said his best friend, the then 15-year-old Daniel Marsh, had bragged about the murders. In an interview with police, Marsh told them what happened. Experts diagnosed him as a psychopath and said he killed for pleasure. Marsh was tried as an adult - convicted and sentenced to 52 years to life. Four years after the conviction, a new California law, Proposition 57, has thrown his sentence into jeopardy. His lawyers are arguing that he should be re-sentenced as a juvenile. If successful, Marsh, now 21, might be able to be released from prison on his 25th birthday. At a hearing, a judge listened to the evidence to determine if Marsh should be re-tried as a juvenile and receive a lighter sentence. The prosecution continued to maintain he is a psychopath. In a surprise move, Daniel Marsh took the stand. In the decision, the judge found the evidence and Marsh’s testimony to be credible, but determined it was not a chance worth taking. Marsh will remain in prison. In 2018, a new law was signed into effect, saying that anyone younger than 15-years-old would never be tried as an adult. His lawyers want Marsh included retroactively. On-screen text graphic: In California, there are at least three other pending cases where juveniles have been convicted of murder and sentenced as adults. On-screen text graphic for the 06/15/19 rebroadcast: Daniel Marsh’s lawyers appealed the Court’s ruling and were denied. They are now considering filing an appeal to have Marsh included under SB 1391. - 06/22/19 48 HOURS: “Defending DJ” - a report about Danroy “DJ” Henry and the dedication and struggles his family endured trying to restore their son’s reputation after he was shot dead in Pleasantville, New York, by police officer Aaron Hess in 2010. This event triggered a seven-year journey for the family as they searched for answers about what really happened. During a night out with his teammates, a fight broke out among other restaurant patrons and police were called to the scene. DJ and his friends decided to leave. They were waiting in his car in a fire lane prior to their departure. Police approached the vehicle and told DJ he should move; his friends said DJ started to slowly move away. The police claim that DJ tried to mow officers down with his car when Officer Hess approached and that was how Officer Hess ended up on the hood of the car, shooting his weapon and fatally injuring DJ as he sat behind the wheel. The police claimed Officer Hess shot because he feared for his life. DJ’s friends painted a far different version of the incident. Witnesses agreed, also saying that medical attention was slow to respond. The Henry family vowed to learn the truth – even it was bad. They wanted to know what happened to their son and filed a lawsuit. Four years after the shooting, the family was still hopeful. In 2016, the Henry family accepted the decision in a wrongful death suit against the Village of Pleasantville and Aaron Hess and were awarded $6 million. In 2017, they settled a wrongful death suit with the town of Mount Pleasant for an undisclosed amount and something more valuable to them: a public apology. Seven years after DJ’s death, they cleared his name. No criminal charges were brought in the case. Today, Aaron Hess works in private security. The Henry family has founded the DJ Henry Dream Foundation to honor their son’s memory. On-screen text graphic: Chief Louis Alagno retired in 2013. In 2015 New York State law changed. Police shootings of unarmed civilians are now automatically assigned to a special prosecutor. Interviewed: Dan Henry (father); Angella Henry (mother); Kyle Henry (brother); Amber Henry (sister); Desmond Hines, Brandon Cox, Daniel Parker (DJ’s friends); Michael Sussman (Henry family attorney); Brian Sokoloff (Aaron Hess attorney) (C: James Brown – P: Alvin Patrick, Sarah Prior) (OAD: 12/01/18)
- 06/29/19 48 HOURS: “Missing Marsha” (9:00 – 10:00p) - a report on the 2009 disappearance of Marsha Brantley, a Cleveland, Tennessee woman who suddenly vanished, with no one, including her husband, Donne Brantley, family, or friends reporting her missing for several months, until her hairdresser, Kelly DeLude, became concerned over a missed appointment and called the police. Her husband immediately became a suspect, but there was no physical evidence of a crime. He claimed she left him, leaving everything behind, including her dogs and her home. In 2013, Brantley was arrested, but prosecutors dropped the charges after deciding they did not have enough evidence for a conviction, even though he pleaded the Fifth Amendment or said he could not remember over 100 times in a civil suit brought against him. Family members believe her husband is responsible for her disappearance. Friends from her book club would not be surprised if she turned up sometime. Following the election of a new District Attorney, Brantley was again charged with police using essentially the same evidence. Then in 2018, two days before the trial, the charges were dismissed. Police cannot prove Marsha was murdered and were afraid the judge would throw out the case. On-screen text graphic: Donnie kept the dogs. They still live with him today. 48 HOURS (continued)

06/29/19 48 HOURS: “Knock” (10:00 – 11:00p) - an investigation into the murders of two beloved grandmothers, Betty Jones and her friend Kathryn Crigler, who were brutally attacked in 1990 after answering a knock on the door at Crigler’s Starkville, Mississippi home; and how a driven detective and cutting-edge technology helped to solve the nearly three-decades old murder and rape. The intruder forced his way into the house and immediately killed Betty. He then raped Kathryn, who died months later of complications from her injuries. The leads went nowhere and current lead Detective Bill Lott struggled for years to solve it. Jason B. Jones, a Nashville album designer and step-grandson of Betty, wanted to know what happened. He knew little about the case, but in 2005, a chance meeting between Jason’s mother and Kathryn’s granddaughter Juky Holt led to his renewed interest. In 2017, he launched a podcast as a way to work through his own questions about the incident and perhaps uncover new information. Jason subsequently learned that Betty had sponsored a family who escaped the Khmer Rouge regime in Cambodia and the family named their daughter after Betty. In 2018, as his podcast was coming to an end, there was no finality, because no one knows who killed Betty and Kathryn. However, Detective Lott’s quest led him to Parabon NanoLabs in Reston, Virginia. Parabon NanoLabs has developed technology called genetic genealogy, which can predict what someone looks like through their DNA. The results led to a name, Michael Wayne DeVaughn, and his DNA was a match to the DNA taken from Crigler the night of the attack. Twenty-eight years after the crime, the suspected attacker was charged with Betty’s murder and the rape and sexual battery of Kathryn Crigler. All may now know who knocked on the door that night, but the storyteller in Jones still needs to know how this tale ends. On-screen text graphic: Prosecutors are presenting their case against Michael DeVaughn to a grand jury. To date, there has been no indictment and DeVaughn has not entered a plea. Sergeant Bill Lott has been promoted to Lieutenant. On-screen text graphic for the 06/29/19 rebroadcast: Michael DeVaughn pleaded not guilty in January 2019. He is awaiting trial. Sergeant Bill Lott has been promoted to lieutenant. Interviewed: Jason Jones (podcaster); Bill and Colleen Jones (his parents); Anne McWhorter (Betty’s sister); Julia Crigler Hold (aka Juky Holt) (Crigler’s granddaughter); David Lindley (retired lead detective); Sergeant Bill Lott (current lead detective); Dr. Ellen Greytak (Parabon’s lead scientist for DNA phenotyping); Thom Shaw (forensic artist); Betty Hong (daughter of the family Betty Sponsored) (C: Richard Schlesinger - P: Lourdes Aguiar) (OAD: 01/19/19)

NCIS: THE CASES THEY CAN’T FORGET

06/05/19 NCIS: THE CASES THEY CAN’T FORGET: “Shattered Glass” (9:00 – 10:00p) - Naval Criminal Investigative Service agents bring viewers inside the investigation into the attack on a marine stationed in Kuwait, which at first looked like terrorism but led them on an unexpected trail to something else. Chief Warrant Officer James “Houston” Glass was nearly killed when a grenade exploded in a guard shack in Kuwait. He barely survived the blast, suffering severe wounds to his neck, back and legs. NCIS agent Matt Timmons was stationed in Kuwait and immediately responded. The agent reveals they soon had doubts about it being a terror attack. As they dug in, they found the secret double lives of those closest to Glass, which turned the case in an unexpected direction. NCIS agents take viewers inside the case, which took shrewd detective work, including mind games on potential suspects, to find out who would want Glass dead. The case took them back to the United States, where investigation revealed a shocking conspiracy; Larry Framness, who was having an affair with Glass’ wife, admitted to throwing the grenade. NCIS: THE CASES THEY CAN'T FORGET (continued)

- 06/12/19 NCIS: THE CASES THEY CAN'T FORGET: "Unbreakable" (9:00 – 10:00p) - Naval Criminal Investigative Service agents take viewers inside the emotional investigation into the brutal attack, torture and murder of Marine Corps Sergeant Jan Pawel Pietrzak and his wife, Quiana Jenkins-Pietrzak. Sgt. Pietrzak was known as a tough disciplinarian. It was also known around the base that he had gotten a $30,000 bonus months earlier and had told some people he had kept the money at their home, which was near Marine Corps Air Station Camp Pendleton in California. Whoever attacked the couple also tried to burn their home down. NCIS agents, who worked with the Riverside Sheriff's Department on the investigations, reveal the shrewd detective work that went into the case. Early clues, including different footprints at the crime scene, led investigators to believe they were looking for more than one suspect. The investigation took a turn when agents learned someone used Quiana Jenkins-Pietrzak's card at an ATM right outside the gate of Camp Pendleton, which helped lead them to unraveling the ties that bound the four suspects and the victims together. It was later found out that four Marines entered the Pietrzak home, sexually assaulted Jenkins-Pietrzak and tortured the couple before killing them. Two of the four accused Marines worked under Pietrzak's command. Riverside County authorities maintain the motivation was robbery, and the pending murder with special circumstances and sexual assault charges do not include an assertion that the crime was racially motivated. All four of the accused plead not guilty to murdering Pietrzak and his wife. After meeting with the families of the deceased, District Attorney Rod Pacheco decided to seek the death penalty on January 22, 2009. The preliminary trial hearings to determine whether the four assailants would stand trial occurred on March 26, 2009, and April 3, 2009 in San Diego. On 24 June 2013 a jury rendered a verdict of death for two of the four assailants and life in prison without parole for a third. The fourth assailant was later also sentenced to death. (Host: Rocky Carroll – Producer: Elena DiFiore)
- 06/19/19 NCIS: THE CASES THEY CAN'T FORGET: "The Enemy Within" (9:00 – 10:00p) - When Naval Criminal Investigative Service agents and their counterparts from the Air Force Office of Special Investigations probe the murder of an Air Force sergeant in Japan, they are led on a dark, twisted trail of deception, fraud, and witchcraft. Air Force Technical Sergeant Curtis Eccleston was found brutally stabbed to death in his apartment off base in Okinawa, Japan. The respected airman had no known enemies and a career on the rise. His death shocked the Japanese island. Agents Lindsay Temes and Heather Bellar from Air Force Office of Special Investigations were among the first to arrive at the gruesome crime scene. Air Force OSI agents called in NCIS to help solve murder. NCIS and Air Force OSI agents were initially concerned because Eccleston's wife Barbara was nowhere to be found until hours after his body was discovered. Investigators soon learned Barbara was cheating on her husband. At the time of his death, the couple had been in the process of getting a divorce. She told them he had been dealing drugs and she was concerned he was killed because of a drug deal gone bad. But as agents began to look into the drug angle, something just didn't seem right. When those leads ran cold the agents went back to the scene of the crime. What they uncovered through digital forensics would reveal that the cover-up and diabolical premeditation was almost as brutal as the crime itself. Evidence revealed another airman, Nicholas Cron, murdered Eccleston because he was having an affair with his girlfriend. Both Cron and Barbara Eccleston were charged with murder. In January 2012, Cron pleaded guilty to 3 charges in an attempt to avoid the death penalty; he received life without parole. At Barbara's trial in April 2012, Cron was a witness. She was sentenced to 20 years of hard labor in a Japanese prison. (Host: Rocky Carroll – Producers: Matt Goldfarb, Lucy Craft)
