ISSUE: EDUCATIONAL

Show: Date: Time: Duration:	Kresta in the Afternoon 1/20/2016 4pm 60m	Some research centers in the US are attempting to grow human tissue inside pigs and sheep with the hope of creating organs that can be used for transplants. The National Institutes of Health announced last fall that it will not support these studies because it is concerned the "human-animal chimeras" could develop an altered cognitive state with human brain cells. It may be possible to grow a human lung inside a pig but is it ethical? We'll talk about it with Fr. Tad Pacholczyk of the National Catholic Bioethics Center.
Show: Date: Time: Duration:	Kresta in the Afternoon 1/18/2016 5pm 60m	We've been hearing a lot about the importance of Social Justice. Unfortunately, the term has been hijacked and is now used to promote any progressive-sounding program or movement, allowing supporters to label their opponents as supporters of "social injustice." Michael Novak has examined figures from Abraham Lincoln to Pope Francis to discover the true meanings of social justice. He'll talk about it with us today.
