

Arts

30 minute weekly program
Fridays at 8:30pm on KLRN

Asia Ciaravino, President of the Playhouse, is your local guide to art openings and music and theater performances from the San Antonio arts and culture scene as well as breathtaking art from around the country.

Program number: 301
Program length: 26:46
First air date/time: Jan 9, 2015 8:30pm

After decades of working in New York City and around the globe, internationally renowned artist Catherine Lee retreated back to her native state and found renewed inspiration in the tranquil hills of Texas.

Program number: 302
Program length: 26:46
First air date/time: Jan 16, 2015 8:30pm

We'll meet local jewelry designer Carroll Dorsey walker, whose artistic eye for color and passion for gemstones has bejeweled admirers on the national stage.

"World War II in photographs:looking back" opens at the Mcnay Art Museum; commemorating the 70th anniversary of the war's end and honors San Antonio's great military heritage.

And, San Antonio's sister city Monterrey, Mexico lends us an artistic hand in downtown's Travis Park.

Program number: 303
Program length: 26:46
First air date/time: Jan 23, 2015 8:30pm

We visit with San Antonio Museum of Art Chief Curator William Keyse Rudolph about their latest exhibit "Nelson Rockefeller's Picassos: Tapestries Commissioned for Kykuit".

Local arts writer Tami Kegley joins us with her highlights of art event happenings in January.

Program number: 304
Program length: 26:46
First air date/time: Jan 30, 2015 8:30pm

We visit Caliente Hot Glass Studio with Glen Andrews II and Jake Zollie Harper; two talented local glass artists who will collaborate in an upcoming live glass blowing event showcasing cutting edge artistry by merging two disparate disciplines rarely seen before now.

And, meet local gallery owner Amada Claire Miller who introduces emerging artists at Hello Studio in the Blue Star Arts Complex.

Program number: 305

Program length: 26:46

First air date/time: Feb 6, 2015 8:30pm

There is an artistic mystery along the San Antonio River. Having been drawn to the river for many years, Kathy Miner decided to move into downtown San Antonio. As she explored the River Walk near her loft she began to come across mysterious “tiny” artworks that seemed to “welcome” her into a city thriving with culture.

Arts writer Tami Kegley talks “amore” for Valentine’s with her date pick of Ballet San Antonio’s “Romeo and Juliet” at the Tobin Center.

The Woodlawn Theatre’s production of “The Addams Family” is set to open next week. We went behind the scenes with Musical Director Josh Pepper to learn more about this devilishly delightful production.

And we re-visit Cinnabar Art Gallery in Southtown for part two of their exhibit “Memory and Forgetting”, curated by guest artist Catherine Lee.

Program number: 306

Program length: 26:46

First air date/time: Feb 13, 2015 8:30pm

Performance Arts contributor Nikki Young shines the spotlight on local actor Dru Barcus, both “on” and “off” the stage. Local Arts writer Tami Kegley guides us through the biggest neighborhood art tour in the Alamo City. And, high above the city of San Antonio, the historic Plaza Club integrates the art world with the business world through ART! In The Plaza.

Program number: 307

Program length: 26:46

First air date/time: Feb 20, 2015 8:30pm

Artist Diana Kersey depicts the historic East Side and the history of the Salado Creek Basin in her latest public arts work.

Contemporary Art Month approaches its 30th year in San Antonio. Cam Co-chair Chris Sauter and local arts writer Tami Kegley preview this year’s month long festival.

And, Artist and Independent Curator

David Rubin visits with artist James Cobb about his upcoming exhibit; "Tooky Jelly" at Sala Diaz in Southtown.

Program number: 308

Program length: 26:46

First air date/time: Feb 27, 2015 8:30pm

We check out the latest public arts work by artist Diana Kersey, who recently transformed the Houston Street bridge over the Salado Creek on the historic east side.

Program number: 309

Program length: 26:46

First air date/time: Mar 13, 2015 8:30pm

KLRN ARTS continues its coverage of San Antonio's Contemporary Month as we visit the Guadalupe Cultural Arts Center as they set up for 2015 Cam Perennial: Move Me.

We visit local artists Louis Vega Trevino and Jorge Puron as they install their artwork at BRICK in Blue Star Arts Complex for their upcoming show "Aeon".

Local arts writer Tami Kegley keeps us up to date and on track with the overwhelming CAM schedule of events for next week.

And finally, CAM isn't just for adults or the seasoned art lover as we learn about next weekend's ArtPace Family Day.

Program number: 310

Program length: 26:46

First air date/time: Mar 20, 2015 8:30pm

ARTS talks with curator Trina Bacon about "Color of Blind", a unique interactive art show for the blind and those with special needs. Arts writer Tami Kegley of the Rivard Report takes us through the final week of San Antonio's 2015 Contemporary Art Month.

Program number: 311

Program length: 26:46

First air date/time: Mar 27, 2015 8:30pm

Contemporary Art Month comes to a climatic end with internationally renowned artist Jorge Rodriguez-Gerada. In collaboration with Munoz & Company, Jorge brings his latest installment of his "Terrestrial Series"; turning a simple parking lot outside the Columbus Italian Society Hall into a single portrait representing the future of San Antonio.

The San Antonio Book Festival returns for its third year, uniting readers and writers in a celebration of ideas, books, and literary culture. We'll talk with Festival Director Katy Flato about the daylong free event at the Central Library and Southwest School of Art.

And, the Briscoe Western Art Museum celebrates the installation of a new sculpture along the River Walk.