On June 7 2005 [date of last renewal grant/or, for new stations licensed for less than eight years, the date of initial license grant], WBRP [station's call letters] was granted a license by the Federal Communications Commission to serve the public interest as a public trustee until June 1 2012 [license expiration date].

Our license will expire on June 1 2012 [license expiration date]. We have filed an application for license renewal with the FCC.

A copy of this application is available for public inspection during our regular business hours. It contains information concerning this station's performance during the last 8 years ["eight years"/or shorter period of time covered by this application for new stations licensed within the previous eight years].

Individuals who wish to advise the FCC of facts relating to our renewal application and to whether this station has operated in the public interest should file comments and petitions with the Commission by 5/1/12 [date first day of last full calendar month prior to month of expiration].

Further information concerning the Commission's broadcast renewal process is available at 929 Government Street
