Programs:

Title: Latin Waves

Type: Public Affairs

Source: Pre-Recorded

Time Broadcast: 07/03/22, 9:29pm

Show Length: 27 mins

Description:

A professor at Carleton University, Marcelo Saavedra is an Indigenous Bolivian leader and founder of the Bolivia Action Solidarity Network.

He speaks to Latin Waves about the need to protect indigenous languages as these languages change how we view the world. He challenges the western notion of rights and how the paradigm shift that's taking place must have women front and center.

"If we can harness that wisdom that is embedded in our ancestral cultures, we can get rid of capitalism, patriarchy, Globalization, and colonialism. And Women are a central piece in this puzzle"

Title: Overthink

Type: Public Affairs

Source: Pre-Recorded

Time Broadcast: 07/05/22, 4:00pm

Show Length: 55 mins

Description:

From snoozing puppies kicking their legs to controversial octopi who change colors while asleep, nonhuman dreaming fascinates us. Science says that sleeping animals experience "reality simulations," rich dreamscapes which they navigate as conscious agents. Inspired by David's book When Animals Dream (fresh off the press!), this episode kicks off a 3-part series tracing his thrilling investigation into the nature and philosophical implications of animal dreaming. Ep. 52 introduces David's argument that animals' capacity to dream reveals the need to radically rethink animals as conscious beings with complex inner lives.

Title: Overthink

Type: Public Affairs

Source: Pre-Recorded

Time Broadcast: 07/12/22, 4:00pm

Show Length: 49 mins

Description:

A court case over an elephant's right to liberation from the Bronx Zoo shows that we've come a long way from Descartes' concept of animal-as-machine. In episode 53, Ellie and David break down an emerging question in animal rights activism: animal personhood and moral status. What does it mean to be a person? And, what are the implications of legally recognizing animals' right to life and bodily freedom?

Title: Overthink
Type: Public Affairs
Source: Pre-Recorded
Time Broadcast: 09/08/22, 2:00pm
Show Length: 53 mins

Description:

What do garden gnomes, the #BlackLivesMatter black squares of June 2020 Instagram, and formulaic pop songs all have in common? They're kitsch. In episode 56 of Overthink, Ellie and David investigate the history of kitsch as an aesthetic category distinct from art. How does the superficiality and mass-reproducibility of kitsch explain its uses as a tool of fascist propaganda? They discuss the American cultural instinct to deploy inspirational quotes in response to national trauma, kitsch as an antidote to working-class alienation, the decline of emotionally significant, critical art, and more.
