Topic: Hurricane left 700,000 Florida homes without power

Hurricane "Ian" hit the east coast of the United States and 85 people died. At one time, more than 2 million households in Florida, the hardest hit area, were without power. As of Sunday, 700,000 households were still without power. Some structurally damaged buildings have to be tested for safety first, and the power outage may last for weeks or even months. About half of the victims of the typhoon were in Lee County, Florida, and people questioned whether local officials did not evacuate residents in a timely manner. Cecil Pendergrass, chairman of the Lee County Commission, responded on Sunday that when they knew that the county would be hit by "Ian" head-on, they issued evacuation instructions and opened the shelter center, but some residents chose to stay. Rescuers described some disaster areas as beyond recognition.

Topic: Feds arrested American-Taiwanese federal employee for concealed evidence of working for the Taiwan Army

The U.S. Department of Justice on Tuesday (25th) indicted Yifei Zhu, a 57-year-old Taiwanese-born National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) civil servant, charged him of falsification of records when applying for a position at the U.S. Embassy in Singapore. Feds found Zhu repeatedly made false statements in the process of applying for security clearance for a position at the US Navy Global Research Office, concealing information that he worked for the Taiwan Navy. Once convicted, Zhu can be sentenced to up to 5-years in prison and a fine of $250,000 U.S. dollars. The Taiwan Navy Command said it would not comment on the US judicial investigation.

Topic: Suspension Bridge Collapse Case trial in India begins, defendant says it's the "Act of God"

A nearly 150-year-old cable suspension bridge in Morbi Town, Gujarat, India, suddenly collapsed on Sunday (October 30), killing at least 135 people and injured over 100. Police arrested 9 people, including Deepak Parekh, the manager of the maintenance engineering company. Indian media reported on Wednesday (2nd) that when he appeared in court for trial, he said that the unfortunate accident was "God's will." The prosecution pointed out in court that several companies responsible for the maintenance of suspension bridges were not qualified to maintain public infrastructure, but were sentenced to repair suspension bridges in 2007 and 2022. According to reports, the suspension bridge was reopened to the public on the 26th of last month without any testing or obtained approval from the government. Another investigating police officer said that the maintenance company only replaced the bridge deck of the suspension bridge, but did not lubricate the suspension cables, which eventually led to the fatal accident.

Topic: Supreme Court rejects petition to send Trump tax records to House

In 2019, during Trump's presidency, the House Committee on Ways and Means asked the IRS to provide six years of personal and some of business tax records on Trump, but then Treasury Secretary Mnuchin refused. With Biden inaugurated, the Committee made request again last year, and was approved by the Treasury Department. Trump filed a court block on the request to the Supreme Court to block the committee's access to his tax records after the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals declined to intervene. The Supreme Court chief justice stated last month to hand over Trump's tax records to the Ways and Means Committee, Roberts formally rejected Trump's request on Tuesday.

Topic: Zelensky named Time's Person of the Year 2022

Time Magazine has named Ukrainian president Volodymyr Zelensky and "the Spirit of Ukraine" as its 2022 Person of the Year. The award goes to an event or person deemed to have had the most influence on global events over the past 12 months. According to Time Magazine, this year's choice was the most clear-cut in memory. Whether the battle for Ukraine fills one with hope or with fear, Volodymyr Zelensky galvanized the world in a way we haven't seen in decades. In the weeks after Russian bombs began falling on Feb. 24, his decision not to flee Kyiv but to stay and rally support was fateful. From his first 40-second Instagram post on Feb. 25—showing that his Cabinet and civil society were intact and in place—to daily speeches delivered remotely to the likes of houses of Parliament, the World Bank, and the Grammy Awards, Ukraine's President was everywhere.

His information offensive shifted the geopolitical weather system, setting off a wave of action that swept the globe.

Topic: Recent winter storm caused at least 57 deaths across U.S., and Buffalo became the hardest hit area

The death toll caused by the winter storm and arctic blast that swept across the United States around Christmas has increased to at least 57 as of Monday (26th). And Buffalo, New York has become the hardest hit area. New York State Governor described Buffalo as a battlefield. Erie County Mayor Poloncarz said on Monday that most of the deaths in Erie County occurred in Buffalo, were caused by shoveling snow and battling the storm where people suffered heart attacks and hypothermia when people got trapped in cars in the freezing cold.
