A new report details how little younger generations of Americans know about the Holocaust. And as KUAR's Michael Hibblen reports, the study released today (Wed) shows Arkansas did especially poorly compared to the rest of the nation.

News15 4:27 "...KUAR 89.1."

The U.S. Millennial Holocaust Knowledge and Awareness Survey breaks down state-by-state what Millennials and Gen Z know about the deaths of Jews by the Nazis during World War II. The study was commissioned by the Conference on Jewish Material Claims Against Germany. Gideon Taylor is president of the group...

First tell me about the goal of this study...

And you have an established criteria, briefly explain what that is...

And compared to the rest of the country, Millennials and Generation Z in Arkansas did worse than all other states... only 17 percent having a basic understanding based on your criterial of the knowledge of the Holocaust.
