

TEXARKANA, Ark. — A man was taken to a local hospital Monday after a shooting in the 3500 block of Garland Street.

The victim was shot during an altercation at that location at 5 p.m. Monday and was taken to CHRISTUS St. Michael Hospital, said Sgt. Kristi Bennett, Texarkana Arkansas Police spokeswoman.

The investigation revealed that an altercation occurred in the street when the suspect, Chris Tyler, 26, allegedly shot the victim, McEntry Neal Jr, 20, several times before fleeing the scene.

The Texarkana Arkansas police department criminal investigation division responded and continued the investigation.

CID Detective Wayne Easley developed a lead to a residence on Broadmoor where Tyler was arrested for second-degree battery and aggravated assault.

Neal is currently at Saint Michael's hospital For medical treatment.

The shooting remains under investigation.
