Good day to you, I'm Jennifer Andrews with your Minute Magazine. One more funding for passenger rail services that may benefit Monroe. The Southern Rail Commission has received a $400,000 federal grant to help expand and enhance passenger rail services. Well, that includes development of the Dallas to Atlanta connection and route through Monroe. Mayor Friday Ellis says this puts the commission closer to making passenger rail a reality in North Louisiana. And the city of Monroe is working to make improvements along the I-20 economic district. Well, that includes places like the Pecan Land Mall, shopping centers, and the upcoming Amazon facility. Mayor Friday Ellis says that they have already completed the building pad for Amazon, and he says they are working to get two other sites certified in that district as well. With your Minute Magazine, I'm Jennifer Andrews.
