Jax Journal

Host: Danielle Leigh

Airdate: 01/05/19

Topics: Taxes & Job Fair

Guests: Andy Lemister & United Way

Duration: 25:09

We started this week off talking about taxes with the United Way. We talked about the basics, what to do, when to file, and when it will be late. With it being the government shutdown we talked about what the IRS is doing and not doing as well.

For job fairs – we spoke about how to prepare for job fairs. We mainly talked about how to nail making the first impression and went through the questions job-seekers typically get asked about.

First Coast Forum

Host: Julie Morgan

Airdate: Sunday, February 10 (REPEAT)

Topic: Taxes

Guest: Lakesha Thomas, Low Income Taxpayer Clinic

Duration: 16 minutes

The LITC is something funded by the IRS and they also received funding through United Way. This organization is part of Three Rivers Legal Services. The LITC is not for people to get their taxes prepared. However, it is to help those people who are in a certain tax bracket get help if they receive a notice in the mail from the IRS. The notice could be to tell the taxpayer they owe money. Thomas says you should always respond to the notice because if you don't it just makes things worse.

Jax Journal

Host: Danielle Leigh

Airdate: 3/16/19

Topics: Taxes, Small Business, & Jobs

Guests: Steve Norris from Real Sense, Tiffany and Clifford Whithey, Clark Howard

Duration: 25:00

This week was a collection of different topics. We started with taxes – as we inch closer to the deadline to file your taxes. We talked about what happens when you don't get your taxes done on time. I also caught up with Tiffany and Clifford Whithey who own a massage parlor in Jacksonville – we spoke about how they got the idea and how they got things off the ground. Last, Clark Howard talked about job interviews and the things you should avoid saying at all costs.

First Coast Forum

Host: Caitlin Johnson

Airdate: Saturday, March 23, 2019 to Sunday, March 24, 2019

Topic: Tax Refunds and changes in 2018

Guest: Jeff Gottlieb, UNF, Accounting & Finance Instructor

Duration: 26 minutes, 31 seconds Jeff Gottlieb is an instructor at UNF and has over 30 years of experience in accounting. He provided his expertise on what changes have taken place in 2018 that might affect the amount of your tax refund or what you owe this tax season. Most people will see little to no change but those who do see less in their refund likely got less taken out of their paychecks during the 2018 year. We discussed some new changes that help business owners to pay less tax and get more money back this tax season. We discussed that you can no longer write off moving expenses. And we also discussed the best ways to file your taxes. He gave an example of one of his students that did his taxes himself and the negatives that occur with doing that. Including the length of time, it takes to finally receive your refund if you do it yourself. The best bet for most people is just to file with a software program like turbo tax. Turbo Tax makes it easy for you, is cost effective and gets your refund to you quickly. There is also always the option to defer doing your taxes for six months. All you need to do is file a form. But if you owe taxes, you do not get more time to pay the government. Getting an extension only works if for whatever reason you would rather do your taxes after April 15th.

School Nutrition Programs

First Coast Forum

Host: Caitlin Johnson

Airdate: Sunday, January 20 (REPEAT)

Topic: School nutrition

Guest: Lauren Smith, Dietitian with Dietitians of Palm Valley

Duration: 23 minutes

The interview is about starting children off early with a healthy diet. After-school snacks don't have to be boring or bland. It's important to get kids involved in the process of preparing the foods because it makes it fun for them. By starting early you help kids to have a good relationship with food.

First Coast Forum

Host: Justin Cousart

Airdate: March 9/10th

Topic: Child Nutrition

Guest: Takecia Green

Duration: 27min

Justin talks with Takecia Green, a registered nurse and personal chef. Takecia talks about how kids are getting heavier than ever, and provides some tips to help fight childhood obesity. They talk about how to set up a good exercise habit and how to make kids understand the dangers of being overweight. Takecia also explains the best ways to start and maintain a diet plan for you and for your child.

Lacey Salvatore w/ Haven Horse Ranch
Duration: 20:50

Dr. Randell Alexander joins Paige Kelton to discuss cases regarding child safety and neglect legislation throughout Florida. The legislature, though primarily meant to address the safety of Florida children, Alexander expands on the issue by addressing the need to include children that are visiting the state

Salvatore joins Paige Kelton to discuss the therapeutic advantages provided by the horses of Haven Horse Ranch. Clients range from special needs youth to military veterans

Tenikka Hughes reviews 2018 highlights- Gloria Williams Kidnapping, Landing Shooting, Power Plant Demolition Storm Surges, Midterm Recounts

Action News Sunday

Host: Tenikka Hughes
Airdate: 01/20/19
Topics: DeSantis's Path to Governor/ Audrey Gibson
Guests: Audrey Gibson/
Duration: 21:05

Tenikka Hughes recaps the Florida Governors political path from Jacksonville to the Governors House

Senate minority leader, Audrey Gibson talks about challenges of working with the new administration, bipartisanship and building bridges with the new governor. Gibson touches her plans on how to work with the new administration vs Rick Scott's administration. Gibson is looking to begin working with a clean slate.

Gibson identifies vocational training as a key component in her focus moving forward. Gibson comments on the importance of business incentives when looking to improve economic growth and employment. Reflecting on her criminal justice background she emphasizes the importance of better addressing issues of juvenile offenders.

Action News Sunday

Host(s): Paige Kelton & Dawn Lopez
Airdate: 02/03/19
Topics: Mayor Candidates: Omega Allen & Jimmy Hill Generation W Founder: Donna Orender
Guests: Omega Allen/ Jimmy Hill Donna Orender
Duration: 20:33

Omega Allen joins Paige Kelton to discuss her run for Jacksonville Mayor. Allen is set to run for Mayor without party affiliation. With a Ph.D. public administration focusing on participatory government and a 2015 mayoral run under her belt, Allen believes that she is qualified to run the first coast city.

Citing the roadblocks created by partisan politics, Allen favors a vision of an administration not restricted to political affiliation. She seeks to operate with an “open door policy” in which community input and involvement. Allen says education and cultural diversity are the keys to reducing Jacksonville's violent crime. Allen says she would work closely with the school board administration to provide the support necessary to focus on Jacksonville's youth. In addition, Allen intends to work with the Chamber of Commerce to attract new businesses to North Jacksonville. Allen stresses the importance and power that her nonparty affiliation invokes and how it extends the flexibility elected officials to meet the values of Jacksonville citizens.

Former Atlantic Beach Commissioner, Jimmy Hill Joins Kelton to discuss his run for Jacksonville mayor. Hill calls out ongoing issues including political gridlock within Jacksonville’s City Council, the sale of JEA, and the proposed demolition of the Hart Bridge Expressway. Hill says that he is seeking a Jacksonville government based on integrity and transparency, two values that he feels has been severely lacking. Supportive of development, Hill says his concern with current city plans is that the taxpayers are not being represented. He favors the development of the downtown core over the further development of the city’s sports complex. Hill says that his goal is to empower a check and balance system between the city councils and the city’s government. Hill says he intends to govern not from the fourth floor but rather through a series of satellite offices throughout the city, to increase the accessibility of his office.

Dawn Lopez

In the spirit of MLK, Founder of Generation W, Donna Orender joins Lopez to discuss volunteer efforts to build a stronger, more involved community through partnerships with 17 local agencies. She speaks to her inspiration to create Generation W and continue to bring strong women to the forefront of the city. She invites Jacksonville citizens to engage with their community. She recaps her work with Mount Herman Exceptional Student Center and New Town Success Zone.

Action News Sunday

Guests: Dr. A. Zachary Faison Jr Mary Strickland Jennifer Bursar
Duration: 22:31

Topics: Edward Water College: New Chapter, Matt Glover to Dr. A. Zachary Faison Jr.

Paige Kelton Opens

Segment 1

New Wedward Waters College President A. Zachary Faison Jr. joins John Bachman to discuss the transition and his own plans for the schools future. Faison plans to build enrollment through the expansion of athletics and academic offerings while balancing the tuition to quality balance. Enrollment is currently 960 and has continued to grow for the past five years. Faison feels campus safety would be best improved by investing in Northwest Jax communities. He aims to work with a city official's better invest in the college and the surrounding community.

Segment 2

CEO of Lutheran Services of Northeast Florida, Mary Strickland, joins Tennika Hughes to discuss organizations Nourishment Network Market. Strickland discusses the innovative approach to feeding people in need. The market is an alternative to a traditional food pantry. Instead of handing out generically packed bags to those in need, which often causes waste for those who cannot consume certain products or don't know how to prepare them, the Nourishment Network Market mimics traditional supermarkets, allowing people access to items that they will use. In addition, it restores a level of dignity to those in need that is otherwise lost. Partnering with Feeding Northeast Florida, United Wayt and Trulove the market grand opening is set for 11 am on February 21st.

Segment 3

Jennifer Bursar of Borland Groover joins Phil Amato to discuss the importance of colon cancer screening. Bursar says colon cancer is one of the most preventable cancers if caught early through screening. Screening should begin between the ages of 45-50 years old. Bursar promotes the March to Get Screened event, set to take place March 31st at 8 am.
