WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Your Show's title): Alternative Radio _____

DATE: 5/31/2013 _____ TIME OF DAY: 9:00 am _____ DURATION: 29:00 _____

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.):

Born in Gujarat in western India in 1869, Gandhi's life journey was phenomenal by any standard. He went from a suited-booted English trained barrister to the Mahatma, one of the 20th century's most extraordinary figures. He challenged the mighty British Empire not with guns but with civil disobedience and nonviolence. Today his name is ritually invoked by politicians, particularly in India, but do his ideas really matter? Do they resonate in the 21st century? The U.S. is threatening war on Iran. Any attack will further inflame a region already burning. Instead of military maneuvers, ultimatums, sanctions and bellicose language where can Washington and Tehran find common ground? Can plain Gandhian advice, "Anger and intolerance are the enemies of correct understanding" defuse tensions and lead to dialogue and conflict resolution? What is the role of nonviolence in an increasingly violent world?

ISSUE: Jeremy Scahill on Drone Warfare _____

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Your Show's title): Alternative Radio _____

DATE: 5/24/2013 _____ TIME OF DAY: 8:30 am _____ DURATION: 29:00 _____

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.):

Drones represent a new era in warfare. They are the White House-Pentagon-CIA weapon of choice. Clean 21st century death from above. No body bags. No weeping mothers. At least not in the homeland. The President decides who lives and who dies. It's a dangerous world. Enemies are lurking everywhere. Let's get them before they get us. Georgetown Law Professor Rosa Brooks, among others, are ringing alarm bells. She told a Senate committee, "Right now we have the executive branch making a claim that it has the right to kill anyone anywhere on earth at any time for secret reasons based on secret evidence in a secret process undertaken by unidentified officials. That's not the rule of law. That frightens me." As Bob Dylan tells us in License to Kill: "Man thinks 'cause he rules the earth he can do with it as he please, And if things don't change soon, he will."

ISSUE: Arundhati Roy on Reimagining the World (using Indian democracy as an example) _____

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Your Show's title): Alternative Radio _____

DATE: 6/4/2013 _____ TIME OF DAY: 8:30 am _____ DURATION: 29:00 _____

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.):

The news item was brief and buried in the back pages: "India: Maoists Ambush Patrol, Killing 7 Soldiers. The attack occurred in a rebel stronghold in Jharkhand State. Thousands of people have been killed in the past decade in violence involving Maoists, who claim they represent India's dispossessed, particularly indigenous tribal groups." You may wonder, What's going on? Isn't India a democracy? In India, the U.S. and other countries the actual functioning of democracy has largely been hollowed out. Yes, there are elections and people vote but the nexus of decision-making power lies elsewhere. Corporations dominate the political process. With their fistful of dollars they are able to exact outcomes that benefit them. As environmental destruction continues unabated we must reimagine a different world. One in which people and the planet are more important than profits.

ISSUE: Glenn Greewald on the Surveillance State

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Your Show's title): Alternative Radio

DATE: 6/14/2013 TIME OF DAY: 8:30 am DURATION: 29:00

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.):

The June 2013 revelations of massive government spying should not really come as a surprise. Since Sept 11 there has been a steady drift to more and more state power, secrecy and totalitarianism all in the name of national security. Snooping, prying, eavesdropping, call it what you want the government is doing it on a scale never before seen. Sophisticated new technologies allow for more intrusions into our private lives. Beyond the ever present cameras, there is deep data-mining, nanosecond biometric identification and drone aircraft in the skies above. The invasive monitoring of public space and the simultaneous erosion of our rights has been largely a bi-partisan affair. State surveillance power, undermining basic freedoms in the name of protecting them, is growing relentlessly. The swelling domestic databases of the NSA probably contain your personal information including emails, text messages, and phone calls. And this burgeoning Orwellian apparatus has become a cash cow for corporations such as Booz Allen Hamilton. Comedian Stephen Colbert sarcastically observes, There are bound to be casualties in the never-ending war on terror and one of them just happens to be the U.S. Constitution.

ISSUE: Gulf Oil Spill BP Coverup, Federal Funding for Wireless Phones

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Your Show's title): Counterspin

DATE: 5/9/2013 TIME OF DAY: 8:30 am DURATION: 29:00

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.):

A whistleblower report confirms what many already sensed: In the wake of the disastrous Gulf of Mexico oil spill, BP was more interested in appearances than in the health and safety of people or ecosystems. Journalist and author Mark Hertsgaard is the environmental correspondent for The Nation magazine. He'll join us to discuss his article on the extent, and the impact, of BP's cover up.

Also on CounterSpin today, the right has managed to manufacture a controversy over something they call an "Obama Phone." The story is basically bogus, but it's having real world effects nonetheless. We'll talk to Jamilah King from Colorlines about that.

ISSUE: DOJ Investigation of Associated Press, Whistleblowers Documentary

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Your Show's title): Counterspin

DATE: 5/23/2013 TIME OF DAY: 8:30 am DURATION: 29:00

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.):

The Justice Department's investigation of the AP poses a threat to freedom of the press and the public's right to know, but the story itself, about a supposed al Qaeda bomb plot thwarted by the CIA, has taken some interesting turns, calling into question the facts of the bomb plot story, and the Justice Department's rationale for investigating AP. We'll talk with Marcy Wheeler of Emptywheel, who has been out in front on this story from early on.

Also on CounterSpin today: The AP story is a reminder, if one were necessary, that the Obama administration has pursued government whistleblowers with a vengeance. A new documentary tells those stories—and explains how such actions undermine press freedom and investigative journalism. Filmmaker Robert Greenwald will join us to talk about the War on Whistleblowers.

ISSUE: US Policy on Terrorism, Media Debate on Impact of Democratic Media

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Your Show's title): Counterspin

DATE: 6/4/2013 TIME OF DAY: 8:30 am DURATION: 29:00

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.):

This week on CounterSpin: Did Barack Obama's National Defense University speech signal a sea change in White House terrorism policy? That depended on who was doing the listening. For most corporate media, Obama made a sharp turn, speaking of more limited drone killing policies, and discussing the closure of the Guantanamo detention camp. But many civil liberties and international law experts heard something very different. We'll talk with Pardiss Kebriaei of the Center for Constitutional Rights.

Also on CounterSpin today: The Internet has either destroyed the traditional media business or it's brought us a new era of vibrant, more democratic media. Those are the two sides in the debate over the Web, but author and professor Bob McChesney argues in his new book Digital Disconnect that to understand the Internet, you have to understand capitalism. He'll join us to explain.

ISSUE: _____ Obama's State of the Union, Sports Reporting _____

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Your Show's title): CounterSpin

DATE: 6/13/2013 TIME OF DAY: 8:30 am DURATION: 29:00

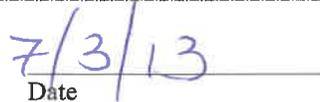

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.):

This week on CounterSpin: As Bradley Manning's court martial trial gets underway, journalists face real obstacles in trying to report on it, and they should be facing the constitutional issues the case raises. We'll be joined by Michael Ratner, president emeritus of the Center for Constitutional Rights and U.S. attorney for WikiLeaks and Julian Assange.

Also on the show: Are parents keeping their kids from learning how to read, so they can get a disability check from the state? The claim has come from some high places in elite media, which you won't be surprised to learn, doesn't make it true. We'll speak with author and journalist Neil deMause about this not-so-new media canard.
