JAIL, NO BAIL #000H

DESCRIPTION

Jail, No Bail pays tribute to the 50th anniversary of the sit-in that introduced a new protest strategy and turned the tables on the establishment, while at the same time reinvigorating the Civil Rights movement nationally. The program also honors the "Friendship Nine" and the bold stand the men took in the face of extreme injustice. Narrated by awardwinning actor Keith David, Jail, No Bail is a powerful examination of the personal trials and adversities that tested the character and resolve of this group of young men. Through non-violent protest, these strong-willed activists helped compel a nation to abandon segregationist practices between the races.

BETTER BODY SUPPORT: SHOULDERS, BACK AND FEET #000H

DESCRIPTION

The producers of Healthy Body, Healthy Mind are producing a series of one hour health documentaries which will come out one every other month throughout 2015. In these special programs, physicians are interviewed who are working with their patients, and encouraging them to be more proactive in their overall health care while providing them with the tools and hope to have a healthier life! Healthy bones and joints allow us to run, jump, play sports - even go for a walk. Our shoulders permit arm and hand movement. Our backs help support our entire body. And healthy feet allow mobility as we move from one place to another, on our own. But injury and disease can bring many of these functions to a halt. In Better

Body Support we will explore the areas of shoulder damage, cervical degenerative disc issues, and the debilitating affects that diabetes can have on our feet. Shoulder damage can happen with age, or repetitive arm movement due to work or sporting activities. A disease called cervical dystonia can cause painful, involuntary muscle movement in the neck. Cervical degenerative disc disease can damage nerves in the neck area, resulting in tingling and weakness in the arms and shoulders. And type 2 diabetes can lead to issues of the feet called neuropathy. Untreated neuropathy can be the cause of debilitating foot ulcers that make mobility difficult and could lead to amputation in extreme cases.

ABOLITIONISTS: AMERICAN EXPERIENCE #101H

THE ABOLITIONISTS, PART ONE

DESCRIPTION

Shared beliefs about slavery bring together Angelina Grimke, the daughter of a Charleston plantation family, who moves north and becomes a public speaker against slavery; Frederick Douglass, a young slave who becomes hopeful when he hears about the abolitionists; William Lloyd Garrison, who founds the newspaper The Liberator, a powerful voice for the movement; Harriet Beecher Stowe, whose first trip to the South changes her life and her writing; and John Brown, who devotes his life to the cause. The abolitionist movement, however, is in disarray and increasing violence raises doubts about the efficacy of its pacifist tactics.

FRONTLINE #3114H
HUNTING THE NIGHTMARE BACTERIA

DESCRIPTION

"Nightmare bacteria." That's how the CDC describes a frightening new threat spreading quickly in hospitals, communities, and across the globe. FRONTLINE reporter David Hoffman investigates the alarming rise of untreatable infections: from a young girl thrust onto life support in an Arizona hospital, to a young American infected in India who comes home to Seattle, and an uncontrollable outbreak at the nation's most prestigious hospital, where 18 patients were mysteriously infected and six died, despite frantic efforts to contain the killer bacteria. Fueled by decades of antibiotic overuse, the crisis has deepened as major drug companies, squeezed by Wall Street expectations, have abandoned the development of new antibiotics. Without swift action, the miracle age of antibiotics could be coming to an end.

NOVA #4111H
WHY SHARKS ATTACK

DESCRIPTION

In recent years, an unusual spate of deadly shark attacks has gripped Australia, resulting in five deaths in 10 months. At the same time, great white sharks have begun appearing in growing numbers off the beaches of Cape Cod, Massachusetts, not far from the waters where Steven Spielberg filmed the ultimate shark fright film, Jaws. What's behind the mysterious arrival of this apex predator in an area where they've rarely been seen for hundreds of years? Are deadly encounters with tourists inevitable? To separate fact from fear, NOVA teams up with leading shark experts in Australia and the United States to discover the science behind the great white's hunting instincts. Do sharks ever target humans or is each attack a tragic case of mistaken identity? Can a deeper understanding of shark senses lead scientists to design effective deterrents and help prevent future attacks? With shark populations around the world plummeting, scientists race to unlock the secrets of these powerful creatures of the deep in their quest to save people -- and sharks.

GO PUBLIC: A DAY IN THE LIFE OF AN AMERICAN SCHOOL #000H

DESCRIPTION

GO PUBLIC: A Day in the Life of an American School District is a 90-minute video document of a single day in an urban public school district, from sun up to long after sundown. On May 8, 2012, 50 directors and their small camera crews followed 50 individuals who attend, support and work in the Pasadena Unified School District, a racially and economically diverse district with 28 public school campuses. Administrators, teachers, students, support staff and volunteers lead us on journeys that reveal their unique contributions in making a public school district function. No voice-over narratives or expert commentaries, just an authentic window into the world of public education. GO PUBLIC is an important film because there is a national crisis of confidence surrounding public education. This film gives audiences a chance to see and hear the people actually living the public school experience.

THIN ICE - THE INSIDE STORY OF CLIMATE SCIENCE #000H

DESCRIPTION

THIN ICE - THE INSIDE STORY OF CLIMATE SCIENCE is an award-winning documentary that focuses on climate scientists and their research. Filmmaker Simon Lamb interviews the scientists and allows them to explain their work in the field of climate science. The film discusses the physics of greenhouse gases, how average world temperatures are determined, and how regular patterns of warming and cooling are correlated with carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases. THIN ICE introduces viewers to scientists drilling in the Antarctic for climate history from ice and sediment cores, to others measuring changes in the atmosphere, oceans and ice sheets. The scientists discuss their work, and their hopes and fears with a candor and directness rarely seen by the public.

FIXED: THE SCIENCE/FICTION OF HUMAN ENHANCEMENT #000H

DESCRIPTION

From botox to bionic limbs, the human body is more "upgradeable" than ever. But how much of it can we alter and still be human? What do we gain or lose in the process? Award-winning documentary, Fixed: The Science/Fiction of Human Enhancement, explores the social impact of human biotechnologies. Haunting and humorous, poignant and political, Fixed rethinks "disability" and "normalcy" by exploring technologies that promise to change our bodies and minds forever.

CLIMATE CHANGE: A GLOBAL REALITY #000H

DESCRIPTION

The headlines are ominous. "California Governor Proposes $1 Billion In Drought Spending." "Researcher Says Rising Oceans Could Displace Millions By 2100." "NOAA, NASA Say 2014 Was Warmest Year on Record." "U.N. Warns World Could Have 40 Percent Water Shortfall by 2030." When it comes to climate change, the heat is on. In Climate Change: A Global Reality, moderator John King of CNN and expert panelists examine the relationship between climate change and the human activities that heighten and intensify its impacts. Topics include rising temperatures and sea levels, ongoing and future multi-year droughts and catastrophic weather events - with an eye toward reducing their impact through public policy initiatives.

OUR NATION'S HEALTH: A FOCUS ON SOCIAL DETERMINANT #000H

DESCRIPTION

At a time when our nation's per capita expenditure on healthcare far exceeds its international ranking in life expectancy and health outcomes, we sometimes overlook the simple, everyday circumstances that determine our health. Poverty, where we live, education, access to healthcare, the food we eat, the water we drink and the air we breathe - all of these and other so-called "social determinants" play a huge role in our health. Indeed, as some experts say, when it comes to health, zip code is a better predictor than genetic code. Place matters. In Our Nation's Health: A Focus on Social Determinants, moderator John King of CNN and expert panelists examine the wide-ranging impacts of social determinants on Americans' health and our nation's healthcare model. Topics include the connection between social determinants and health; how addressing seemingly everyday social and environmental issues can have a positive impact on health; programs that have a positive impact on health status and outcomes; and the potential for incorporating a better understanding of social determinants into a healthcare system that recognizes the benefits of proactive "well-care" as opposed to symptom-based sick care. The program includes illustrative preproduced segments on the impacts of poverty and zip code on health, access to healthcare and resources that impact our health, and innovative approaches involving community-based programs. Panelists are: Milton Bluehouse Jr., Esq., of Tribal Consultation Resources, LLC, in Albuquerque, NM; Kathy Ko Chin, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Asian & Pacific Islander American Health Forum in San Francisco, CA; Gail Christopher, DN, Vice President for Program Strategy at the W.K. Kellogg Foundation in Battle Creek, MI; Thomas Ellison, MD, Ph.D., co-founder of Health Education Linkage Programs, Inc. (PROJECT H.E.L.P USA) in Birmingham, AL; Lisa Garcia, Esq., Senior Advisor for Environmental Justice to the Administrator of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency; Britt Rios-Ellis, Ph.D., professor at California State University Long Beach and director of the NCLR/CSULB Center for Latino Community Health, Evaluation, and Leadership Training; Steven Wartman, MD, Ph.D., President of the Association of Academic Health Centers in Washington, DC.

BLOOM

THE EMERGENCE OF ECOLOGICAL DESIGN

SERIES

Narrated by Academy award winner Chris Cooper, this 4-part series is a long overdue, honest assessment of the root causes of eutrophication and nutrient runoff throughout our landscapes, and a showcase of innovative solutions. The first film won the New England Emmy for Best Environmental Program, and community demand prompted follow-up films focused on solutions to the three principal sources of phosphorus and nitrogen pollution runoff: dairy agriculture, urban stormwater, and aging wastewater infrastructure. This story from the Lake Champlain Basin is similar to many around the country and world, as communities confronted with algae blooms are realizing them as a sign of broader, systemic problems. In a practical and compelling way, this series presents aging infrastructure and disregard for our natural capital as the problem, and ecological design as the solution.

DESCRIPTION

KNEE DEEP follows a culturally diverse group of dedicated senior citizens who are pooling their collective knowledge for a common cause: the environmental health of the Delaware Valley's waterways. The Park Senior Environment Corps is quietly generating scientific data that someday will feed into a global database documenting the long-term health of the world's rivers and streams, and possibly spur changes in the management of water and waste. The documentary also highlights how the volunteer organization prioritized environmental education within their community, particularly with schoolchildren.

1964: THE FIGHT FOR A RIGHT #000H

DESCRIPTION

By the mid twentieth century, Mississippi's African Americans had suffered from nearly 75 years of slavery by another name - Jim Crow discrimination. In 1964 in Mississippi, people died in an effort to force the state to allow African Americans to exercise their constitutional right to vote. Although, the 50th anniversary of Freedom Summer has passed, the struggle for voting rights is still pertinent. According to the NAACP, states have recently passed the most laws limiting voter participation since Jim Crow. Moreover, these laws also disenfranchise other people of color, the elderly, poor, and disabled. With the 2015 anniversary of the Voting Rights Act as well as the upcoming presidential primaries and general election, voting rights will remain at the forefront of a national debate. With historical footage and interview with Freedom Summer architects and volunteers, as well as present day activists, 1964: THE FIGHT FOR A RIGHT uses Mississippi to explain American voting issues in the last 150 years. For instance, why are red states red?

HISTORIC GREEN VILLAGE: GENERATING THE FUTURE, TRE #000H

DESCRIPTION

HISTORIC GREEN VILLAGE: Generating the Future, Treasuring the Past is a 30- minute documentary that explores how the Historic Green Village on Anna Maria Island, Florida has become a showcase for sustainable living, electrical generation and water conservation by recycling and renovating historic buildings in the area. Mike and Lizzie Thrasher ran a highly successful baby food company in their native country of Britain. They vacationed on the idyllic barrier island of Anna Maria in South West Florida. They fell in love with the area, sold their business and used the proceeds to develop a real estate business in Anna Maria. Their showcase location is the Historic Green Village in the heart of the community. The village consists of two original remodeled buildings, one new building and two homes that were moved to the site from different parts of the island. The Thrashers had two major goals for the project: to become LEED Certified Platinum and to have a Net Zero Campus. What does all this mean? The buildings would use as little electricity as possible, generate their own electricity, adhere to strict environmental usage of water, and be part of a community that has a limited impact on the environment. They had many challenges along the way including having a bakery and a cafe on site which are both heavy power consumers.

WHEELCHAIR FOR PETRONILLA #000

DESCRIPTION

It's been estimated that at least twenty million people in developing countries need wheelchairs, but less than one percent have the ability to get them. Without wheelchairs, people with disabilities are often isolated in dirt huts or left to beg on the sides of roads, unable to maintain a viable existence. Yet, even for the small percentage of those with access to wheelchairs, most chairs imported from the U.S. and Europe do not hold up on rough terrain, dirt roads, or cobblestone streets. In A Wheelchair for Petronilla, award winning Producer Bob Gliner (Schools That Change Communities, Barefoot College, Lessons From the Real World) examines the challenges the disabled in developing countries face and the efforts of Transitions Foundation in Guatemala to build and provide wheelchairs suitable for Guatemala's habitat. Run almost entirely by people with disabilities, this non-profit organization not only employs the disabled themselves to design and build the wheelchairs, but in the process provides a model that can be emulated throughout the world.

WHY NOT US? #000H

DESCRIPTION

Roadtrip Nation's WHY NOT US? is a documentary about a five-week national road trip, dubbed the "First-Gen Roadtrip" in which four first generation college students from around the country interviewed diverse leaders, many of whom were also the first in their families to receive a college degree. The student "roadtrippers" - Jennifer Rogers of Vancleave, Mississippi; Johnathan Allen from Winter Haven, Florida; Jasmine Johnson, a resident of Effingham, South Carolina; and Felipe Hernandez, from Paramount, California - flew into California to begin the adventure on Roadtrip Nation's iconic RV, most embarking on an airplane for the very first time. A broad range of leaders from around the country and all walks of life met with the students and shared personal insight and inspiration, pushing them to continue with their academic and professional goals. Several of the leaders included: Randall L. Stephenson, CEO of AT&T, David Lopez, Executive Director of Teach for America, Howard Schultz, CEO of Starbucks, and Secretary of Education, Arne Duncan. Singer/songwriter John Legend met with the students in New York, and emphasized the importance of never giving up, "Persistence and grit. Don't let the challenges that you face deter you from reaching your goals."

MANIFEST DESTINY

SERIES

What does a City on a Hill have to do with Gitmo? How are American exceptionalism and democracy promotion related to foreign wars? Why does the 19th century rallying cry of "Manifest Destiny" still influence American foreign policy in the 21st century? These and other questions are addressed in the powerful stories featured in MANIFEST DESTINY, an historical series produced by the documentary unit of JAK Films, a division of Lucasfilm. *The series is comprised of three 60-minute episodes. Cleareyed and probing, Manifest Destiny addresses key foreign policy concerns that affect every American. In-depth, insightful commentary by nationally respected historians and diplomats fill in the dramatic stories each episode tells. Over two decades after the end of the Cold War, one decade after the tragedy of September 11th, now more than ever is the time for national dialogue about the role the United States should play in the increasingly interconnected world of nations.

HEALED: MUSIC, MEDICINE AND LIFE WITH MS #000H

DESCRIPTION

Renowned cornet virtuoso Jim Klages was at the height of his career, having achieved his dream as soloist for the elite "President's Own" U.S. Marine Band in Washington D.C. But when the happily married family man noticed a strange tingling in his arm and nearly dropped his cornet, everything began to change. The diagnosis: multiple sclerosis. What followed was a series of hardships that would test even the most indomitable spirit - the end of a career, a marriage stressed to the breaking point, and the loss of his home and financial security. As Jim's health continued to deteriorate, he was faced with his ultimate challenge: finding his way back to the art that had once sustained him. Jim persevered, determined to heal himself through composing and teaching. Through verite and archival footage, interviews, and music recordings, Healed illuminates the ways in which the creative spirit adapts not only to survive, but to thrive. Featuring Wynton Marsalis, "The President's Own" U.S. Marine Band, and research experts from the National Institutes of Health and the University of Southern California. Healed takes viewers into one artist's world of infirmity, hope and determination.

GOING BLIND #000

DESCRIPTION

GOING BLIND is a unique documentary film that increases public awareness of sight loss and low vision issues profoundly affecting the lives of more and more people around the world by Peabody Award winning director Joseph Lovett. Director Joseph Lovett has glaucoma, a disease that robs 4.5 million people worldwide of their vision. After years of slowly losing his sight, Joe decides to take action: to investigate how people all over the country respond to vision-loss. His search begins small, with people Joe meets on the streets of his hometown New York City and gradually leads him to places and people around the country, of all different ages and backgrounds. Each has a fascinating story about healing with the vision loss caused by sight-robbing diseases, infections and accidents. Going Blind interweaves Joe's story with that of his fellow subjects and invites us into the intimate spaces of the visually impaired and blind. As a filmmaker, Joe uses the tool he knows best to gather information, to connect with individuals and to find answers to share with the world.

LOSING LAMBERT: A JOURNEY THROUGH SURVIVAL & HOPE #000

DESCRIPTION

Kathy O'Hern Fowler, who lost her 16-year-old son to suicide in 1995, spent years struggling with the loss and grief. However, the life-altering experience led her to advocate for other parents who tragically find themselves in the same position. The touching and insightful LOSING LAMBERT: A JOURNEY THROUGH SURVIVAL & HOPE explores the heart-rending questions left in the wake of suicide, interviews parents struggling to cope with the pain and stigma, and offers hope for the future of suicide prevention. At a survivors meeting, parents speak candidly about the loss of their children - their darkest hours - in an effort to raise awareness about teen suicide and to help others find compassion and support. The documentary also focuses on the promising medical research being conducted at the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center in conjunction with Carnegie Mellon University. Their preliminary findings show impulse-control problems in the brains of suicidal teens, an impressive discovery researchers hope may someday lead to better identification and treatment for at-risk teenagers.
