

WVPT/WVPY Quarterly List of Programming
Providing the Most Significant Treatment of Community Issues ("Issues List")

1st Quarter 2018
01.2018 – 03.2018

In the past quarter, WVPT continued in its longstanding efforts to provide programming on issues of concern to our community. These issues include those concerning public policy, politics, community current events, health, the economy, and national developments of a local and regional 40 county coverage area.

The programs that provide the most significant treatment of community issues are described below. The remainder of the Issues List consists of:

- each issue addressed by WVPT in the preceding quarter; and
- The titles of the programs that provided the most significant treatment of these issues, as well as a description of each program (including its airdate, the time at which it aired, and the duration of the program).

Program	Day	Time	Description
Living in Virginia	Various days and times throughout the quarter. See schedule list below.		Locally produced program touching on the lifestyle and cultural issues living in the Commonwealth
Road Trip to History	Various days and times through-out the quarter		The "Road Trip to History" series is a spellbinding journey through the communities, history, and events that shaped the heartland of the Shenandoah Valley, as well as the entire Appalachian region.
Virginia Farming	Regular Schedule Friday Saturday Sunday	7:30 – 8:00 p.m. 12:00 p.m. Saturday 11:00 a.m. Sunday	Locally-produced program with coverage of farming issues of interest to the local community.
PBS News Hour	Regular Schedule Monday-Friday Saturday	6:00-7:00 p.m.	Hour-long news and public affairs program with analysis of current events and interviews of figures in the news. This program is produced in Arlington, VA and fed across the coverage area.
American Forums	Regular Schedule Sunday	1:00 p.m.—1:30 p.m.	Locally-produced program forum style presentation on topics of concern to WVPT's local regional viewing area, often including nationally known speakers addressing local topics.
This Week in Richmond	Weekly Regular Schedule Tuesday	Tuesday 5:00 p.m.	This Week in Richmond gives Virginians an in-depth look at important developments and decisions coming out of the state capitol. From budget cuts to regulatory

Second Opinion	Monday nights	7:30 p.m.	affairs, the program spotlights the latest happenings at the Richmond, VA. General Assembly. It provides timely insights and behind-the-headlines analysis of the most recent news about taxes, education and other matters that are critical to people in our region. Fast-paced and provocative, SECOND OPINION focuses on health literacy in an engaging, entertaining and accessible way. The long-running series engages a panel of medical professionals and lay people in honest, in-depth discussions about complex health issues and life-changing medical decisions. Host Dr. Peter Salgo, who maintains a full-time practice at Columbia University Medical Center in New York City, presents intriguing, real-life medical cases to professionals representing a variety of specialties. As the experts grapple with the diagnosis and treatment options, viewers gain an understanding of doctors' decision-making process. This season, topics include: psoriasis, chronic pain management, medical radiation, pituitary gland tumor, living with Alzheimer's, pneumonia, autism and more..
Hey Virginia	Thursday nights Last Saturday of Month Last Sunday of Month	8:00 p.m. 12:30pm 11:30am	"Hey Virginia"! is a new show produced by WVPT, that informs viewers about upcoming events, and explores the region's fascinating locales, people and stories. Hey Virginia serves as a platform for local artists, musicians, and all things "Virginia". Presented in a fun and exciting way, Hey Virginia offers a fresh perspective on tomorrow's adventures. Your Community. Your story. The focus and scope of Hey Virginia will mainly feature regions in and around Harrisonburg, Staunton, and Charlottesville. Hosted by Kate Martin from Q101

BALANCING THE SCALES provides an insightful look at the story of female lawyers in America. The film chronicles pioneering attorneys, including twins Ruby and Ruth Crawford (who first began practicing law in the 1940s), as well as contemporary stories detailing the challenges that women in the legal profession still face today. Through interviews conducted over the past 20 years with Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg and her daughter, Columbia law professor Jane Ginsburg; civil rights attorney Gloria Allred and her daughter, attorney and media figure Lisa Bloom; State Supreme Court and Appellate Court Justices; as well as female equity partners, women of color, young associates, and law-school students - the documentary examines a range of topics from discrimination and work/life balance to what it takes to become a partner in today's law firms. BALANCING THE SCALES also explores the persistent cultural bias that childcare is primarily a woman's role, and societal views about the value of care-giving vs. the value of professional careers. Narrated by David Brancaccio of American Public Media's Marketplace, WHEN I'M 65 challenges longstanding myths about retirement and living longer, and explores changing attitudes toward work, debt, housing and the financial realities of the 21st century. The program looks at how aspirations and financial planning for retirement have changed. This multi-generational approach examines how Baby Boomers, Generation X and Millennials are facing and planning for retirement, based on the work of and interviews with Teresa Ghilarducci, a retirement security expert from The New School, and Knight Kiplinger, editor-in-chief of Kiplinger's Personal Finance magazine. Using real-life stories, case studies, engaging animation and lively expert interviews, WHEN I'M 65 presents a thorough examination of the issues, generational influences, and human behavior while providing useful information, potential solutions, and "can do" action plans for meeting retirement goals.

By the mid twentieth century, Mississippi's African Americans had suffered from nearly 75 years of slavery by another name - Jim Crow discrimination. In 1964 in Mississippi, people died in an effort to force the state to allow African Americans to exercise their constitutional right to vote. Although, the 50th anniversary of Freedom Summer has passed, the struggle for voting rights is still pertinent. According to the NAACP, states have recently passed the most laws limiting voter participation since Jim Crow. Moreover, these laws also disenfranchise other people of color, the elderly, poor, and disabled. With the 2015 anniversary of the Voting Rights Act as well as the upcoming presidential primaries and general election, voting rights will remain at the forefront of a national debate. Rouge Parish, Louisiana, the venue of the oldest federal desegregation lawsuit in United States history. The program explores how and why this failure occurred and leads viewers through to the case's recent conclusion. During 45 years of litigation, there was minimal progress in creating a school system that provided quality education to students regardless of their race. Contrary to its intentions, the U.S. Justice Department and the federal judiciary accomplished just the opposite. They had re-segregated a school system that fell far short of the goals and ideals rooted in the U.S. Supreme Court's 1954 Brown decision and other subsequent high court rulings. DESEGREGATION: A DREAM DELAYED attempts to explain the complex and multi-layered reasons behind the long-delayed melding of races and cultures in public schools. This provocative documentary offers a better understanding of the process by which communities unify to provide quality education and social structure for its youth.

Women make up more than half of the American population and workforce. Yet, the United States only ranks 97th out of 190 countries when it comes to the number of women in elected office. According to research conducted by Jennifer Lawless, director of the Women & Politics Institute, and Richard Fox, political science department chair at Loyola Marymount University, women are less likely than men to run for office, and often consider themselves under-qualified to serve, despite their success in business and education. In the documentary RAISING MS. PRESIDENT, filmmaker Kiley Lane explores why more women don't run for office. Through interviews with elected officials, scholars, high school students and leaders of two non-profits dedicated to raising the next generation of female leaders, the program investigates where political ambition begins and why society should encourage more women to lead. Interviewees include Anne Moses, founder of IGNITE; Senator Lisa Murkowski, Republican of Alaska; Tiffany Dufu, former president of the White House Project; Melissa Deckman, professor of public affairs at Washington College; Susannah W.
